THIRD MUNICIPAL PARKING LOT READY TO OPEN

San Rafael's third municipal offstreet parking lot, at Fifth avenue and C street, will open for Friday evening shoppers, Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles announced today. Paving of the lot was being rushed today. Lee Mac Paving Co. roller is shown at work above. Stalls may not be lined and parking meters will not be in place tonight — but the 52-car lot will be open, promised Rawles. Two other new lots, already metered, are at Third and A street (71 cars) and Third and Lootens place (111 cars).

Incorporation Study In Novato Gets Go-Ahead

'Home Rule' Group Orders Survey To Start Immediately

A full-scale survey of the feasibility of incorporating Novato will start immediately, Clark M. Palmer Jr., chairman of the Novato Home Rule Study Committee, announced today.

The survey, by Governmental Research Associates of Oakland at a cost of about $1,500, was authorized by the committee last night at a meeting in the Novato Chamber of Commerce office.

BALL'S ROLLING

The committee, still trying to raise money to pay for the study, decided it was "in good enough financial shape to start the ball rolling," Palmer said. He did not disclose how much money has been raised to date.

William R. Zion, member of the research firm, surprised committee members last night by indicating the incorporation survey could be completed by the end of January.

Zion, whose firm made a similar study before incorporation of the East Bay city of Fremont, said three areas will be analyzed in the Novato survey. One will encompass the heavily populated district generally described as "Novato proper." The other two will include that area plus increasingly larger portions of surrounding territory.

BOUNDARIES INEXACT

The research firm is not ready as yet to provide exact boundaries of the areas to be studied, Zion indicated.

He said the survey results will be submitted to the home rule committee in a printed report.

If the report declares incorporation of Novato is feasible, Palmer said, the committee will try to have the question placed on the ballot for a special election next fall. He said petitions for an election probably would be circulated in the spring.

The committee, which norm-

Development Of Stinson Park Gets Under Way

LONG-POSTPONED RAIN MAY BE ON WAY HERE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rain storms, long delayed, may at last be headed for California.

Forecaster W. J. Denney in today's Weather Bureau summary said charts indicate a weakening of the ridge of high barometric pressure at sea which has diverted storms around California.

A five-day forecast through next Wednesday said two days of rain are likely for the central third of the state.

State Lets Contract For 1st Job

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Long-discussed development of Stinson Beach State Park got under way yesterday with awarding of the first contract in a half-million-dollars program.

Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael was awarded the $79,000 contract for construction of a new entrance to the park, about 350 feet north of the present entrance, and the placing of fill and grading for two huge parking areas at the north and south ends of park area. Work is scheduled to start later this month.

At the same time the Division of Beaches and Parks announced it has completed acquisition of the Seadowns property for $125,000 by agreement with the estate of Camile Malmgren Banks.

MURDER VICTIMS

(Mrs. Banks and her husband, Joseph Banks, were killed by Bart Caritativo. He was executed for their murder after a will giving him the property was proved to be a forgery.)

The acquisition closes the final gap in the middle of the park and permits start of the total development program.

Already available are $217,000 in state funds. The division is asking the Legislature to earmark another $290,000 in the 1950-60 budget, which will be before the solons in January.

Besides the road and parking lot contract, plans are about ready for bids on a $35,000 dressing room and toilet facilities which will be constructed on the edge of the beach about opposite the present park entrance. This should be completed before next summer.

DRESSING ROOM

A second $35,000 dressing room and toilet facility will be built probably by mid-summer farther south on the beach.

Ultimate plan for the park development calls for three major parking areas totaling 840 parking stalls. Largest will be at the south end where fill

Mountanos Names Meyer No. 1 Aide

EUGENE L. MEYER
Mountanos' choice

Eugene Louis Meyer, 43, police chief of Belvedere for eight years and former deputy sheriff for five years, will be Marin's new undersheriff.

The official announcement came today from Sheriff-elect Louis Mountanos, 32, who has been keeping the county guessing since his election Nov. 4. Mountanos and his new aide will take over the positions now held by Sheriff David Menary and Undersheriff Floyd R. Middagh on Jan. 5.

"I am very pleased and honored to have been chosen the undersheriff and will fulfill the job to the best of my ability," Meyer beamed. "I am sure the sheriff and I, working together as a team, will fulfill the promises made to the people of Marin County."

REASON FOR CHOICE

Mountanos announced that he chose Meyer for his ability and background in law enforcement, and because Meyer is completely divorced from any attachments with cliques or with the present sheriff's office.

"We can call them as we see them," said Mountanos.

During the last two weeks of this month, Mountanos and Meyer will be spending considerable time in the sheriff's office to get acquainted with the organization. Sheriff Menary is cooperating to effect a smooth transfer.

A native of San Francisco, Meyer has spent 40 years in Marin County. He attended Marin public schools, being graduated from Tamalpais High School. He was deputy under former Sheriff Walter Sellmer from 1946 to 1951, then became chief of the Belvedere Police Department.

THREE CHILDREN

Meyer, one of the founders of the Tamalpais Volunteer Fire Department, lives with his family at 6 Laurel avenue, Belvedere. His wife is the former Harriet Elizabeth Bletner, who came to Marin via West Virginia and Porterville. They have three children, Sandra Jean, 17; Barilynn Louise, 14, and Charles Russell, 5.

When Meyer was about 15, he and his uncle, the late Emile Riviere, started the Tamalpais Fire Department with a 1923 Buick sedan, its back lopped off to haul milk cans fill-

Formosa Jets May Return Here Sunday

Some of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron Starfighters sent from Hamilton Air Force Base to Formosa during the crisis-ridden days of mid-September may return to the Marin base during an open house Sunday afternoon, it was learned today.

A Hamilton spokesman said a detachment that took the supersonic jets to Formosa, "may return during the open house Sunday, but there is nothing definite on it."

However, a public information officer at Hamilton said only one F104 Starfighter would demonstrate its flying capabilities at the Sunday open house, with the demonstration set for 3 p.m. It is not one that went to Formosa, the public information officer said.

The 83rd's arrival on the Chinese Nationalist island was announced in September, even as Hamilton spokesmen were refusing to confirm or deny the squadron's rumored shift to the Far East.

Exact strength in planes of the 83rd has been "classified" at Hamilton ever since the F104s replaced the earlier F89 Scorpion jets in the outfit.

Jones Cleared Of Interest Conflict

No conflict of interest is involved in County Clerk George S. Jones' contracting with his own bonding firm for surety bonds, County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said today in an opinion given to the county auditor.

However, Jordan said that some doubt still exists and recommends that in the future, such actions be avoided.

County Clerk Jones is a partner in the firm of Matt Graham and Associates, which has been providing surety bonds for county officials, including Jones. Auditor Leon A. deLisle asked for an opinion on the legality of the transaction. The county clerk has already transferred his bond from Graham to Redmond Insurance Agency.

There would be a conflict of interest if Jones were making a "public contract" with his own firm (Graham Associates), the county counsel pointed out. But he explained that the con-

FOSTER REPLIES TO GRAND JURY BLAST

Schools Supt. Denies Deficiencies Listed In Report Critical Of Marin School Setup

Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools, today took exception to a number of contentions of the Marin County Grand Jury's schools committee.

The committee, in a final report presented Tuesday to Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori, was critical of a long list of alleged deficiencies in Marin County's educational program.

Arthur Kanzee Jr., mayor of Ross, investment counselor and former engineer, was chairman of the grand jury's schools committee. William F. Hamilton, retired Army colonel and a trustee of Marin Junior College District, who was grand jury foreman, said the schools committee's report was presented unanimously — "we did not find a single dissenting voice."

Superintendent Foster, however, dissented at some length. He opened his dissent by implying that the grand jurors may have been a bit over their depth in discussing the school system. Said Foster:

"An educational program that is the responsibility of all of the people in Marin County and that is directed week by week by 29 boards of trustees and over a hundred board members is complex and difficult to understand for even these trustees who give a maximum amount of time to the development of policies for a district. It is not surprising to me that a grand jury in reviewing many activities in the county would find it equally difficult to thoroughly analyze any one of the agencies and especially 29 separate school operations."

Foster commended the grand jurors "for their sincere attempt to evaluate the educational program in Marin County and in California."

However, he took exception to the jurors' findings on six points, asserting:

1. "High school students in Marin County have achieved unusual success, a part of which is due to the program in the elementary schools.

2. " . . . The statement that 'many are advanced from elementary school to high school and are eventually graduated without having mastered any proficiency in the basic academic subjects' is not supported by the results of standardized achievement tests as administered in the various schools.

3. " . . . That 'examinations are frowned upon as a medium of determining proficiency' would be more accurate if it indicated that the objection is to such use as the only measure of proficiency.

4. " . . . Promotion and retention should be as a result of a total evaluation of a child, including academic achievement, intelligence, age, maturity, etc., and I deplore a general policy inherent in the statement 'retention for one or two years, we believe, would be far more beneficial for those who do not have a thor-

State Acts To Upset Death Stay Given Wein

The California attorney general's office said it was taking immediate steps to have the full state Supreme Court vacate a stay of execution granted to Los Angeles sex criminal Edward S. Wein, who was to have died today.

Supreme Court Justice Jesse W. Carter of Sleepy Hollow late yesterday gave Wein a new lease on life within hours of the time he was to step into the gas chamber at San Quentin Prison.

Arlo Smith, deputy state attorney general, said he was preparing a motion for the full court to set aside Carter's action and reinstate the execution order. However, he ackowledged there was little chance the court would act on the motion today.

The state's highest court has twice refused Wein's appeals. Carter was the only justice to dissent in both instances.

The 35-year-old Los Angeles painting contractor had been scheduled for execution at 10 a.m. for kidnaping five Los Angeles area women. He was convicted May 10, 1957, on 22 counts of kidnaping, rape, sex perversion and robbery.

SIGNS ORDER

Carter said the U.S. Supreme Court should be permitted to rule on an aspect of the case raised by Wein's attorneys. Carter signed the order at his Sleepy Hollow home, where attorney Richard Gladstein of San Rafael argued that Wein's defense attorney had permitted the withdrawal of a plea of innocence by reason of insanity without Wein's consent.

At almost the same time, two other attorneys on Wein's legal staff unsuccessfully sought a stay from Judge O. D. Hamlin of the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco. Hamlin, in denying the petition, said no federal question was involved.

NEW INFORMATION

Attorneys Russell E. Parsons of Beverly Hills and Gerald Gottleib of Los Angeles said later they believe they have new information outside the present records and intend to present it before the U.S. Supreme Court.

U.S. Pilot Held By German Reds

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army pilot forced to bail out behind the Iron Curtain is in the hands of the East Germans, a Communist broadcast announced today.

The broadcast identified the pilot as Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D.C., who disappeared Wednesday while flying a courier plane near the border between East and West Germany.

Lime Point Lighthouse May Become Automatic Operation

Marin's 75-year-old Lime Point lighthouse, just east of the Golden Gate Bridge, may become automatically controlled and thereby lose its three Coast Guard lighthouse keepers, it was learned today.

A spokesman for the Aids to Navigation Department of the Coast Guard said a proposal to operate the station by remote control from Ft. Point at the Presidio has been submitted to bay pilots for their opinions before going to Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Living quarters and other facilities at the station are in need of rehabilitation, estimated to cost $40,000, he said. Initial cost of converting the station to automatic would approximate only $23,000.

"A net saving of $10,000 a year probably would be realized with the automatic control system," the spokesman added. Operation and maintenance costs at the station now are about $16,000 annually.

The same light would be used under the new control system, but a new type of electric monotone device would replace the present fog horn.

Social Group Changes Name

The Fifth Wheels of Marin have rejected fifth wheel status and with it their club's name.

From now on this social organization of single adults will be known as the Lads and Lasses, according to an announcement.

The change was made by a unanimous vote at the group's meeting Wednesday.

First social event under the new name will be a Christmas dinner dance, to be held at Rancho Nicasio at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 20.

Reservations may be made with hostess-coordinator Corinne Adams of San Anselmo at GLenwood 4-0265.

A steering committee was appointed at the last meeting to make a social calendar. The committee's members are Ken North of San Anselmo; Jean Ross, San Anselmo; Slavka Cibilich, Corte Madera; Anabel Twish, San Rafael, and Bernice Jordan, San Rafael.

Eddie Squires Liz Taylor To Swank Nitery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A few hours after Debbie Reynolds sued him for divorce, singer Eddie Fisher escorted Elizabeth Taylor to a fancy Beverly Hills restaurant last night.

It was their first appearance together in public since the round of night-clubbing in New York last September that led to the breakup of the Fisher-Reynolds marriage.

Although she publicly cast Miss Taylor in the role of the "other woman" at the time she and Fisher separated, Miss Reynolds made no mention of her in the divorce action, which was based on a charge of extreme cruelty.

Fisher and Miss Taylor dined in a rear booth at Romanoff's restaurant in Beverly Hills. With them was Mike Todd Jr., son of Miss Taylor's late husband.

McCarthy Pleased With Nixon Stand

State Sen. John F. McCarthy returned to Marin today from Washington, D.C., enthusiastic about the part Vice President Richard M. Nixon is willing to play in revitalization of the Republican Party in California.

McCarthy said he and some 15 other leading California Republicans had reached agreement with the vice president on a tentative six-point program. The senator said he had an hour privately with Nixon and then was a guest at the Nixon home for dinner and a meeting of the full group of GOP leaders on Monday evening.

"The vice president has assured us of his complete assistance and cooperation for the rebuilding of the party," McCarthy said. "He was emphatic we would not, and we did not, discuss national politics or the possibility of his candidacy for president in 1960.

He stated his main concern is to concentrate on recovering the state legislative offices, the state Senate and the state Assembly. And our group agreed that we would draft a complete blueprint for party reorganization, working on it in the next few weeks."

Tentatively, these are the points to be covered:

1. A stronger relationship among the legislators, state central committee, county committees and other GOP voluntary organizations.

2. A program to prove to the public that the Republican Party is not the so-called "reactionary" party, but one that is interested in the practical economic development for the best interests of all the people in the state.

3. A determined effort to reach the "Grass roots voters," those contributing $1, in the financing programs—rather than being classified as the party of wealth and big business.

4. A campaign program for all candidates, using a positive approach and avoiding the negative approach of name-calling and false advertising.

5. A program among the party's volunteers to convince new residents of the state that the Republican Party here is the best party, and to encourage registration of all residents who are not now registered.

6. A program aimed at pointing out that there is no racial discrimination in the ranks of the Republican Party.

McCarthy, who was lavish in his praise of the vice president and his interest in state politics, said: "If these ideals can be developed intelligently into a forceful program with a 'get tough' policy, the Republican Party can emerge from its present situation to the victorious party within a period of two years in California."

The senator did not return directly home from Washington. He came home by way of Los Angeles where, as chairman of a legislative subcommittee, he held two hearings on regulation of billboards along the state's highways.

2 Admit Planting Coliseum Bomb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two University of Southern California students have admitted planting a bomb in Memorial Coliseum.

Dave Visel, 20, and Neil Baizer 21, told police yesterday the bomb was intended to release a smoke cloud under the UCLA cheer leaders' bench at the kickoff of their football game with USC last Nov. 22.

The bomb, which never went off, was discovered this week. Police explosives expert said it could have killed or injured many people.

Critics Lash New Statue Of Churchill

LONDON (UPI)—Critics assailed a new statue of Sir Winston Churchill today as a gorilla-like caricature. They said its like hasn't been seen since his 80th birthday portrait that some people said made him look like a turtle.

The new controversy over an artist's portrayal of Britain's great leader centered in a $14,000 statue which has not yet been unveiled.

It was commissioned by Churchill's constituents in the Woodford district which he represents in Parliament, but critics doubted it ever would be installed as a monument to the former prime minister.

"Gorilla-like," said some. "A caricature," said others. "It's a disgrace" . . . "We don't want it here" . . . "Fancy using our money for that" ran the comments in Woodford, which paid for the statue.

One local businessman who contributed to the fund called the work "appalling." He said the "head, ears and feet all seem to be too big."

The statue shows Churchill as a grim, severe, forbidding old man with an angry scowl. It shows him hatless and wearing a lounge suit, leaning slightly forward, head poised aggressively and left hand pulling back the flap of his suit coat as if he is reaching for his pocket watch.

Sculptor David McFall of London said he expected some criticism of the statue, but nothing like the current reaction.

"I have attempted to portray Sir Winston as a man of intellect," he said. "I wasn't making a Toby jug, you know."

STATUE DRAWS PROTEST — Sculptor David McFall sits in his London studio beside his nearly completed statue of Sir Winston Churchill which drew howls of protests from critics. First Vehicle Renewals Go In Mails

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Department of Motor Vehicles today announced it has started mailing the first of more than seven-and-a-half million registration renewal notices for 1959.

Owners of commercial vehicles and trailers will get the first notices, mailed this week.

Passenger car notices will be mailed Dec. 26.

The department reported the total number of vehicles registered as of Oct. 31 was 7,625,378. The Dec. 31 total is expected to reach nearly 7,750,000.

That will exceed the 1957 figure by about 220,000. The 1959 total could pass eight million by the end of the year. Many registrations are new—either by new car purchases, or new arrivals in the state.

Owners who present their fees with their renewal cards in person at department offices will receive a 1959 registration card and a silver-white renewal sticker for the rear plate, to be placed over the 1958 green sticker.

Persons who apply this month for transfer of ownership of a vehicle registered in California must at the same time pay their 1959 registration fees.

Two Vending Machines Vanish In Marin City

Hundreds Of Children Mob Santa In Novato

Novato youngsters by the hundreds mobbed Santa Claus last night when he put in a pre-Christmas appearance at the Town and Country Shopping Center at Fifth street and Grant avenue.

Santa, whose visit was sponsored by merchants of the center, arrived at 6:30 p.m. in a jeep painted bright green. He stayed until nearly 9 o'clock, and so heavy was the crowd of enthusiastic youngsters that many of them never got in a word with him. The regretful sponsors expressed apologies to the unfortunate children today.

A 20-foot Christmas tree in the shopping center parking lot was lighted at the start of the fete. Then, his bag bulging with surprises, Santa proceeded to distribute small gifts and candy canes to the assembled youngsters. The gifts were provided by town and country merchants.

Novato's Grant avenue business district was taking on a Christmas atmosphere today with the erection of colorful candy cane street decorations. Brodie Displays Co. of Santa Rosa was hired by participating chamber of commerce to put up the decorations at a cost of $800.

The chamber announced that starting Monday, most Novato stores will remain open nightly until 9 o'clock for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

Improvement Club Federation To Meet

Members of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs will be handed preliminary drafts of a county services guide when they meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse, Ralph B. Rogers, chairman, announced today.

Other matters to be considered, he said, include reports on planning and zoning, the California Roadside Council and a meeting last month of the county board of appeals.

Nominations and election of officers for 1958 will be held Jan. 12, he said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco gave high society a surprise sample of royal displeasure last night—with abrupt flight from the dance floor.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband, Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the midnight "Beauty and the Beasts" tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

A corps of six mounted police and a dozen patrolmen vainly tried to hold back a crowd of about a thousand spectators who jammed outside the hotel entrance for a close-up peep at the Cinderella girl.

There was more of the same inside as the white tie and mink event got under way. Many women dropped in curtsies as they were introduced. Everywhere there were ogles and murmurs and flash bulbs popping.

The princess did manage to get in two brief dancing interludes—a waltz with Prince Serge Obolensky to the melody of the song written for her, "The Princess Waltz," and a foxtrot with Rainier to the tunes of "The Lady Is a Tramp" and "That's Show Business."

For the knowing feminine guests Princess Grace made her first public appearance on this month-long visit to New York dressed in fichu of pink maline net studded with sequins, secured with a nosegay of violets and sweetheart roses. Her gown, of Empire line with wide belt and bouffant pink satin, was enhanced with a dazzling display of diamond tiara, necklace, bracelet and earrings. A silver blue mink stole completed the ensemble.

As photographers busily worked, Princess Grace made her only press statement of the evening. Someone asked who had designed her costume, and she replied: "Maggie Rouff."

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund. There were more than 1,000 guests.

Bank Employees Get Month's Salary As Gift

W. P. Murray, president of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, announced today that the board of directors has approved payment of one month's salary as a Christmas gift to the majority of the 156 employees of the bank.

Employees who have been with the bank for short periods of time will receive proportionate amounts, he said. These gift payments were distributed today.

Mass Services Held For 27 Fire Victims

CHICAGO (AP) — A mass funeral for 27 children who died in the city's worst school fire brought out thousands of mourners today.

One by one, the caskets were wheeled into the Northwest Armory by military policemen of a special 5th Army detail. They were placed in a double row in front of the altar erected on the stage.

RARE CEREMONY

The group rites for 27 of the 87 youngsters who perished in the fire at Our Lady of the Angels school Monday was as rare as it was impressive. No similar funeral has taken place in this city in recent decades, at least.

FOLLOW CASKETS

Some mothers, tears shimmering in their eyes, were supported by relatives as they walked to a front section reserved for the close kin of the dead.

The armory has a capacity of 6,100, and admission was by tickets issued to families. Temporary chairs were placed on the armory floor. Some of the mourners sat in banked permanent seats of the mezzanine.

FRONT PAGE DEVOTED TO FIRE VICTIMS

A caption accompanying the layout said in part:

Dulles Back In Capital After S.F. Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returned to the capital today, facing a deskful of problems.

One of the big ones was to work out proposals to the Soviet Union which may result in new East-West conferences on unification of Germany.

Dulles flew here overnight from San Francisco, where he declared in a speech yesterday that the United States and its allies need to maintain "limited war" forces in such danger points as Berlin to oppose limited probings by the Soviet bloc.

"There must be an ability to oppose what may be limited probings in ways less drastic than general nuclear war," Dulles told the California Chamber of Commerce.

He also said that "the Soviet rulers threaten West Berlin because they have been put on the defensive by the inspiring demonstration there of what free men can do." He forecast the ultimate collapse of the system of Communist tyranny because of the attractions which freedom has for suppressed peoples.

Man Injured In Butane Tank Blast In 'Fair' Condition

Henry J. Cooney, 24, Novato truck driver, remained in fair condition today at Ross General Hospital, suffering from second and third degree burns on face, arms, neck and hands which were suffered in a butane gas explosion in Stinson Beach yesterday.

Cooney was burned when gas exploded outside the cottage residence of Tony Brouschere on Buena Vista avenue. Cooney, who lives at Bobo's Trailer Court in Novato, is a driver for McPhail Fuel Co. of San Rafael. He had just finished filling a 250-gallon butane tank outside the Brouschere cabin when the gas exploded.

Fire Chief Henry Lacaze of the Stinson Beach department today said his investigation definitely showed that a check valve on the 250-gallon tank failed to close as Cooney removed the hose of his tank after filling the tank. "We had to close it ourselves," said Lacaze.

The gas exploded outside the tank, however. David G. Stephens, general manager of McPhail Fuel Co., said the tank is still usable. It was removed, however, and a new tank installed, after the explosion.

The resulting fire did from $2,000 to $2,500 damage to the cottage. The tank truck was not damaged. A headline on the report in yesterday's Independent-Journal, saying "Tank on Truck Blows Up," was in error.

WHO'S SHERMAN ADAMS?

Nikita's Tailor Has Vicuna Coat For Ike

ROME (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Italian tailor wants to give President Eisenhower a vicuna coat. He says he knew nothing about Sherman Adams until after he announced his plans.

Angelo Litrico, who made three overcoats and four suits for Khrushchev, is flying to the United States tonight. He is to attend a meeting of the International Assn. of Clothing Designers in Chicago Sunday. He plans to go to Washington afterward.

He said he's taking along a gray cashmere golf jacket and a blue vicuna overcoat he's tailored to measurements he derived from photographs of the President.

The U.S. Embassy hurriedly announced that Litrico was acting on his own, and that the embassy hadn't been consulted. Normally gifts are offered to the President through the embassy and accepted only after approval from the White House.

Vicuna is the expensive Andean animal fiber. Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine gave Adams enough for a coat. Adams quit as presidential assistant after being accused of doing favors for Goldfine. He denied the accusation.

Litrico said the garments he made for Khrushchev had been ordered, and were paid for, by the Soviet Embassy in Italy.

Italy Premier Seems Headed For Confidence Vote Defeat

The Chamber of Deputies prepared to debate a motion of confidence in the Christian Democratic leader's pro-Western minority government. Most political observers doubted the premier could corral enough votes to avoid a defeat that would bring down the government.

The confidence vote is expected early next week.

On two votes, the government lost 314-263 and 323-239.

The votes seemed to be the culmination of rising dissatisfaction with the coalition government, which took office July 2.

Both the Christian Democrats and Communists gained in last May's parliamentary elections. But the Christian Democrats, who have dominated all Italian governments since World War II, and their Social Democratic allies were three votes short of the 299 seats needed for a majority.

The revolt last night came on the gasoline tax imposed during the 1956 Suez crisis to meet the greater cost of transporting oil from the Middle East.

Cyprus Peace Talks Plan Flops In U.N.

The 81-nation Political Committee voted on three rival proposals late last night after a confused procedural wrangle that climaxed two weeks of debate on Britain's crown colony in the eastern Mediterranean.

SHORT OF MAJORITY

The only resolution to escape defeat was a much-amended Iranian proposal approved 31-22 with 28 abstentions. This was still short of the two-thirds majority needed

The resolution called on Greece, Turkey and Britain—the nations disputing the future of Cyprus—to negotiate their differences. The Iranian plan was virtually doomed when Greece announced in advance that she would vote against it.

COLOMBIAN PLAN

The committee defeated 17-17, with 47 abstentions, a Colombian plan for a U.N. study group to visit Cyprus and study the situation. It also rejected 11-22, with 48 abstaining, a Belgian proposal calling on the three nations to keep trying for agreement.

Four other resolutions, including a Greek call for U. N. approval of independence for Cyprus, were withdrawn.

The vote came after a day of heated debate which included a slashing Greek attack against the United States.

RUSS OBSERVE CONSTITUTION ANNIVERSARY

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union celebrated the 22nd anniversary of its constitution today by asserting that Russia has genuine democracy but the capitalist countries don't.

All Moscow newspapers carried editorials praising the constitution, which says "freedom of speech, press, assembly, street processions and demonstrations" are guaranteed.

Red-Kidnaped Kids Good Propagandists

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Some of the Greek children taken behind the Iron Curtain by the Communists in the postwar revolt are proving first-rate propagandists for their kidnapers.

Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teen-agers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live, and were disillusioned by the primitive surroundings.

During 10 years in Communist custody, the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen.

Red Threat To Berlin Airlines

BERLIN (AP)—The threat of Communist interference mounted today against busy American, British and French airliners shuttling in and out of isolated West Berlin.

One of East Germany's top Communists, Politburo member Hermann Matern, told a West Berlin election rally last night that the airlines — Pan American, Air France and British European Airways — have no legal right to fly over East German territory.

MENTIONS NO ACTION

"This situation must be brought in order," he declared. He did not say what action the Communists have in mind.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who addressed an election rally in another part of West Berlin, said the Western powers would hold the Russians responsible for keeping open all routes to Berlin, including the air corridors. He said he had a personal letter from U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles reaffirming that position.

CITES AGREEMENT

The letter, he added, specifically mentioned the 1949 Paris agreement in which the Russians ended their 1948-49 blockade and guaranteed free access to this Allied foothold 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

"Our allies stand upon it and we stand upon it," Adenauer said of this agreement.

Matern told the rally of 3,500 Communists, meeting behind a police line in the heart of West Berlin, that "capitalistic airlines make giant profits" on their business with Berlin and "I know of no agreement which legally supports these firms."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is threatening to hand over Soviet occupation controls in Berlin to the East Germans in six months. The East Germans have declared loudly that the West would then have to negotiate with them for access to the city.

During the blockade of 1948-49 the Russians closed down the West's road, rail and water links but did not interfere with the airlift that broke the blockade.

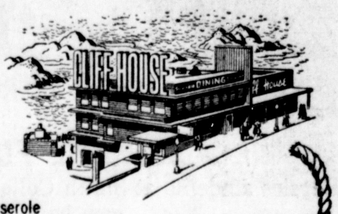

Chartered commercial planes played a big role in the airlift, and Western officials have been considering a new airlift if there is another surface blockade.

Marin Wine Expert Roasts Restaurateurs; They Applaud

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"I was really delighted to hear that," said Leon D. Adams, packing up his bullet-proof vest.

Adams, a wine consultant from Sausalito, was speaking of the unexpected applause he got after he'd accused American restaurants of "extortion and bungling" in their wine service to the public.

The restaurateurs apparently drank it up when he said 99 out of 100 eating places in America are "fleecing the public with badly served wines priced at many times what they are worth . . . and generally making it impossible for diners-out to get decent wine served with their meals."

There wasn't a hiss in the place, perhaps proving another statement Adams made. He said restaurant owners usually have "pleaded guilty . . . in behalf of all other restaurants than their own!"

One of the reasons Adams jokingly brought his bullet-proof vest along—but didn't don it—was because, he said, he was "invited" to withdraw from the program by a convention official. Adams figured the official belatedly discovered the chapter titled "The Great Restaurant Swindle" in Adams' new book, "The Commensense Book of Wine."

Adams said his time was cut from 10 to 15 minutes down to three minutes after he insisted on keeping the date.

John S. Cockrell, executive secretary of the Washington, D.C. Restaurant Assn., denied trying to get Adams off the program—and also denied that he has read Adams' book. But he did admit cautioning the consultant against talking about anything "controversial."

LEON D. ADAMS
Armor was unnecessary

After applauding Adams' charges, questioners asked what a reasonable "mark-up" would be (one-fourth the price of the meal); the best way to merchandise wine (with a wine box on the menu); whether to sell by glass or bottle (the latter unless the glass is big enough) and other questions.

On the price question, Adams contended that wine is "part of the meal" and should be treated like food, not liquor.

Adams said the average candle-lit New York restaurant buys ordinary French wine for 70 cents to $1 a bottle and charges credulous customers $4 to $5.

He said many restaurants refuse to offer American wines —which Adams claims are better than imported varieties — because customers are familiar with store prices on the domestics.

Adding insult to injury, he told the eastern and southern restaurateurs the situation was true all over the country but is "worst in the East, South and Midwest."

"You are cheating yourselves as well as your patrons," Adams continued. "I am here to urge that the restaurant industry start using its good business sense and put an end to this extortion and bungling on wine service."

Miller Creek Bridge Work Starts Soon

Work will begin in mid-December on a bridge spanning Miller Creek to connect Lucas Valley road with Miller Creek road in Marinwood, said Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works.

The $52,700 project will be paid with $37,487 in federal secondary road funds, and the balance by the county.

The two-lane bridge will replace a temporary wooden structure erected by the subdivider and now used by some Marinwood residents.

The new bridge will make it possible for Marinwood's homeward bound commuters to use the Lucas Valley interchange which as an underpass instead of making a left turn across Highway 101 to enter Miller Creek road.

The construction will take about three months, said Brigham. Louis Bormolini and Son of Novato is the contractor.

Arizona Convicts Riot, Subdued After Battle

FLORENCE, Ariz. (UPI)—A gang of 45 hardened convicts broke out of the maximum security ward of the Arizona State Prison last night and fought a desperate hour and a half battle for freedom before they were subdued.

One of the brawling rioters, who were armed with scraps of metal fashioned into deadly knives, was shot and seriously wounded in the wild melee that apparently was touched off in protest over certain guards.

Two guards were held hostages briefly before some 200 guards, state police and other law enforcement officers armed with tear gas and machine guns battled the escape-bent prisoners to submission.

No guards were injured.

The riot was confined to the 45 convicts—mostly long-term and recalcitrant prisoners—in the "pocket," the convict name for the maximum security section.

Warden Frank Eyman, who was in the thick of the battle, ordered a number of prison cell doors welded shut early today until cell door keys stolen in the riot were recovered.

The riot broke out when prisoners in the "pocket" sent out a call for medical help for one of the convicts who had been ailing through the week.

When guards Leon Hunt and Scott Wright went to the maximum security section to answer the summons they were grabbed by knife-wielding prisoners who snatched their keys and opened doors.

The rioters broke up into two groups, each group taking a guard as hostage.

One gang of the rioters stormed into the prison hospital while the other group surged out into the yard captain's office.

Eyman, reinforced by several hundred state police and other law officers, led the charge into the hospital where one group of the rioters had holed up.

The rioters in the yard captain's office were less prone to give up in their desperate bid for freedom.

Guards smashed down the door into the small office. Other guards immediately shot tear gas bombs into the enclosure, filling it in seconds with tear-causing, lung-choking gas.

Malibu Fire Nearly Under Full Control

MALIBU (UPI)—Many evacuees were expected to return to their homes today with the nearly complete control of the 20,000-acre fire that raged from the Santa Monica Mountains to the sea.

Complete control of the fire was in sight.

But 700 men, including 500 soldiers, sailors and Marines stayed on the fire lines to guard against the always present danger of a sudden flareup if wind conditions change.

More than 1,000 fire-fighters, some of whom had been combatting the blaze since it broke out Tuesday, were relieved yesterday.

Los Angeles County Fire Chief Keith Klinger reported the blaze was 85 per cent controlled early today, but there was no prediction when complete control would be possible.

The fire burned an estimated 40 homes and other dwellings, an incomplete survey revealed. One burned home was the $50,000 Malibu Bowl residence of actor Lew Ayres.

The Oswego River Valley drains a watershed of more than 5,000 square miles in upstate New York.

Hub Chamber To Count Votes

Ballots cast for seven directorships of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce will be counted at 4 p.m. Monday, said George G. Washburn, secretary.

The seven new directors will serve two-year terms on the 15-member board. They will be selected from among 10 candidates.

At the San Anselmo chamber's meeting yesterday, Marvin Christensen was appointed to arrange for an installation of officers and dinner on Jan. 15. New officers will be chosen by the directors.

Davis Denies He Had Part In Smuggling Manuscript

San Francisco attorney George T. Davis, in Taejon, Korea, to defend a soldier in a murder trial, took a brief time-out today to defend himself against the Marin charge that he helped smuggle Caryl Chessman's book manuscript out of San Quentin Prison's Death Row.

Davis told the Associated Press he is not guilty of the charge, leveled against him and two others this week by the Marin County Grand Jury.

"I will return to California as soon as possible to deny the charges and present my defense," he was quoted.

RETURNS DEC. 15

Yesterday, MacInnis notified Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich that Davis would return voluntarily about Dec. 15. On the strength of that assurance, Weissich is withholding the warrant of arrest issued for Davis.

Davis is in Taejon defending an American soldier accused of killing a Korean woman. He told the Associated Press he had told the Marin grand jury he knew nothing about the removal of the manuscript of "The Face of Justice."

He added that only two weeks ago the district attorney "told me that neither he nor the grand jury believe I took the book out but that I might know from conversations with my client, Chessman, who did take it out."

'VEILED THREAT'

Davis continued, "The district attorney even implied a veiled threat that he would have me indicted, unless I gave him a 'quid pro quo.' That is to say, unless I would exchange confidential conversations from a client in return for immunity.

"I refused and now find myself indicted in California while deep in the trial of a death sentence case as attorney for a GI in Korea."

PARK

will be placed by Ghilotti at the site of the old salt lake. The present parking area in the middle of the park adjacent to the present park buildings, will be enlarged later and those buildings will be removed.

A road along the land side of the park will connect these two parking areas with the one at the north end of the park. Footpaths also will join the parking lots and lead out onto the beach area. The present park entrance also will be limited to pedestrians only.

Although the plan calls for an end of all over-night camping at the park, there will be a major increase in the number of picnic units.

150 MORE UNITS

One hundred and fifty more such units are planned from funds now available and another 50 units in the request for next year. These units will be sprinkled between the parking areas and among the willows which edge the beach. Life guard towers will be built along the beach.

In next year's budget, funds are being sought for two more of the $35,000 dressing room and toilet facilities as well as a $27,000 administration building, a garage, lifeguard rooms, utility and shop building, a park residence, and funds for completion of paving of all roads and parking areas.

The office, residential and storage buildings are all planned in the area now occupied by the aged cabins on the land side of the Seadown resort. These will nearly all be torn down right away, park officials said.

TEMPORARILY SAVED

However, the Seadowns resort itself, will be temporarily saved. The state will continue to lease them to a concessionaire until they are removed.

Ultimately, a new concession building is planned on the edge of the beach, but this is not included in the first half-million dollars of the development.

Also being sought in next year's budget are two more park attendants for Stinson Beach.

The only other park project proposed for Marin in the 1959-60 budget are $77,776 for sewage, water and sanitary facilities at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Some part-time, seasonal park aides also are requested, seven for Taylor, four each for Tomales and Angel Island State Parks.

As years went by, Meyer and other volunteers and their wives raised funds by whist parties and food sales. They scrounged $350 to pay for the lot where the firehouse is now located. Meyer and his volunteers then poured their own slab and put up the firehouse without cost to the taxpayers.

5. "I oppose a plan of segregation in the elementary schools, whether it be on the basis of race, color, intelligence or reading ability. . . . I further question that 'the slow readers are naturally the slow learners in all subjects throughout their whole school experience, since they are unable to grasp the thought that the teacher may illustrate on the blackboard or to understand the assigned text work.'

6. "All programs of reading in Marin County include the use of sight vocabulary, phonetics and the kinesthetic approach. A cursory look at the teachers edition in the state series or any reading series in use in Marin County would reveal this multi-phase approach."

Foster agreed with the grand jury committee in seven of its findings:

1. "We find the teachers in Marin to be an earnest hard-working corps of men and women who dedicate their lives to their profession. They receive little public recognition for the service they perform and few appreciate the difficulties they encounter in their daily task of educating children.

2. "In some schools and districts there is a definite need for more adequate materials and supplies necessary for teaching.

3. "Certain of the smaller districts are inadequately insured in the light of the very high awards currently being made in personal injury suits.

4. "Our schools boards and principals are laboring under great difficulties, in many cases, to make both ends meet financially and deserve much credit for doing an excellent job.

5. "Smaller classes are recommended particularly in the primary grades. . . . It is felt that no class should exceed 25 and fewer would be preferable.

6. "A sizable percentage of the public is only superficially interested in education. Scholarly achievement has not always been found necessary to success as measured by monetary standards. Thus the schools, to a great degree, reflect the attitude of the community, each community tending to get the kind of an educational system the society of that community desires.

7. "We feel that unification of many of the districts would operate to excellent advantage for a large segment of the youth of Marin."

ally meets on the first and third Thursdays of the month, will meet at Zion's call during the course of the survey, Palmer said.

SIGNATURES NEEDED

Petitions calling for an election must be signed by residents representing ownership of at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the area proposed for incorporation. Then, a 60-day period must be reserved for hearings by the county board of supervisors. During that time, persons owning property on the fringe of the proposed city can demand exclusion from the incorporation area.

Nearly three years ago, the non-profit Coro Foundation sent Thomas J. Dooley, 27-year-old graduate student of political science, to North Marin to make an eight-week incorporation feasibility study.

Dooley's report said Novato, at that time, could be made a sixth-class city with a $237,000 annual budget and a 45-cent tax rate.

A subsequent effort to collect enough signatures on a petition to bring the question to a vote failed by a narrow margin.

Jordan cited the case of Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county physician, who rented his own building for use by the county physician. Jordan felt the county could recover the rent from Dr. Dufficy, but the district court of appeals ruled there was no conflict of interest.

In a 1941 case, however, County Surveyor Rodney E. Messner rented his own equipment to the county, and the court ruled this was illegal.

Florence Griffitts Of Mill Valley Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Florence H. Griffitts, long prominent in Mill Valley civic and club affairs and a 36-year resident of the city, died yesterday in a local hospital after brief illness. She was 64.

Mrs. Griffitts, a native of Grass Valley, moved to Mill Valley from Alameda on her wedding day. Her husband, George V. Griffitts, had decided to make Marin his home. He is a sales executive with Bemis Brothers Bag Co. of San Francisco.

Mrs. Griffitts was a longtime member of the Outdoor Art Club and held many offices in the organization. She had also been active in Parent-Teachers Assn. work and was in the Red Cross during World War II.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary Ryan of Mill Valley, Mrs. Betty MacGillivray of Mountain View and Mrs. Nancy Mason of Yonkers, N.Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Mill Valley and Mrs. Alma Jones of San Francisco, and seven grandchildren.

Family funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, with Rev. D. Murray Hammond officiating. Friends may call at the Russell and Gooch Funeral chapel in Mill Valley until 1 p.m., tomorrow.

Harrison Snyder Succumbs At 61

Harrison D. (Harry) Snyder, who arrived in Woodacre a few weeks ago to live with his son, died late yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 61.

A plasterer, he moved west from his home at Portsmouth, Ohio, to live with his son, Norman, and family on Central avenue in Woodacre. He was a native of Kentucky.

He is survived by his wife, Alice, in Portsmouth, Ohio; his son in Woodacre; two other sons and seven daughters, Edward and Ira Snyder, Mrs. Wilma Litteral, Mrs. Natalie Stiltner, Mrs. Janet Harper, Mrs. Juanita Pyles and Caroline Sye Snyder of Ohio, Mrs. Wanda Caldwell of Tamalpais Valley and Mrs. Donna King of Fairfax; two brothers, John and "Boots," and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Slosser, in Ohio, and 43 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley.

Final Rites Held For John Evans

Private funeral services for John Evans, long-time San Rafael resident and former constable, who died yesterday, were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial followed in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Evans, 88, resided at 1912 Center road, Novato, for the past several years. Survivors are his wife, Christina, and a sister and brother, Mrs. Esther Kingswood of San Diego and Alfred Evans of Santa Paula, Ventura County.

Clyde Bristol Dies At Home

Clyde M. Bristol, Mill Valley sewer contractor and a Mill Valley resident for 32 years, died yesterday at his home at 321 West Blithedale avenue after long illness. He was 61.

A native of Sedro Woolley, Wash., he was formerly in the woodworking and toy business in Southern Marin. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by his wife, Clara, and a 12-year-old son, Vern, at the Mill Valley address, and by a sister, Mrs. Ruby Gilmore of Seattle.

Rites Held For Martinelli Infant

Private funeral services for the stillborn infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. of San Anselmo were held yesterday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The baby was born at a local hospital on Wednesday. His father is a San Anselmo city councilman and secretary-assistant manager of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael.

Also surviving are a sister and two brothers, Louisa, Jordan III and James, at the family home at 205 Crescent road, San Anselmo; his paternal grandparents, Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli and Mrs. Martinelli, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marion Winston Jenkins of San Francisco.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY OF DONAL P. CHAMBERLIN.

One year has passed
Since that sad day
The one we loved
Was called away.
God took him home,
It was His will,
But in our hearts
He liveth still.

MRS. JEWELL CHAMBERLIN (12/5)

DEATHS

EVANS—In Novato, Dec. 4, 1958, John Evans, beloved husband of Christina Evans, loving brother of Mrs. Esther Kingswood of San Diego and Alfred Evans of Santa Paula; a native of Worcester, England, aged 88 years. A member of Marin Lodge No. 191, F&AM, and San Rafael Lodge No. 1108, BPOE.

Private funeral services were held Friday, Dec. 5, 1958 at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery. (Memorial contributions may be made to the Guide Dogs for the Blind.) (12/5)

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

May I ask you to bear with me while I tell you about some fun we are going to have this month at 1542 Fourth St.

We have on display a giant Christmas stocking almost 8 feet high filled with quality toys and games which we are going to give away on the 24th at noon to some lucky child. No purchase is necessary. Each child must be accompanied by a parent when he or she comes in to register . . . and it is just that simple.

We believe this is the world's largest toy filled stocking, and we hope we fill out hundreds of registration cards, the more the merrier as the saying goes. It will be just as much fun for us filling out the card as it is going to be for some lucky child to receive the stocking. Your grandchildren? Why sure thing, you can sign up for that young granddaughter!

Another item we are having lots of fun with these days is showing people, for the first time, an ALL PUSH BUTTON CAR, the '59 DODGE. Push button instrument panel transmission, heater, air conditioning, radio . . . all controlled by push button.

Everywhere you look there are new things, GREAT things to see and discover in this really new '59 DODGE. J. E. FRENCH CO., 1542 Fourth St., San Rafael. Dodge - Plymouth Distributors.

Jean Simmons Standout In 'Home Before Dark'

By LESLIE DARD

These are the characters in "Home Before Dark," the new film coming to the Rafael Theater in San Rafael Sunday.

Charlotte (Jean Simmons), a young woman just released from a mental institution—and back in the very situation which produced her breakdown a year earlier.

Her husband (Dan O'Herlihy) an ambitious college professor, a stuffed shirt who has fallen out of love with his wife, but will not divorce her because it might harm his chances for advancement;

SEE THROUGH WEB

Efrem Zimbalist Jr., a professor, and Steve Dunne, a young banker, are the two men who see through the web being woven around Charlotte.

BRILLIANT JOB

Director Mervyn LeRoy has drawn a brilliant characterization from Miss Simmons as the insecure, frightened, kissless wife trying to hold onto her sanity.

But it is O'Herlihy (you may have seen him in "Robinson Crusoe") who wins casting honors. He is pitiful, petty, pompous and ambitious—yet, all in all, a man trying to do the right thing even if, in the process, he unconsciously punishes his wife in a thousand small ways.

This film won't win an Oscar, but the performances may.

Cove Players Set Final Tryouts

Final tryouts for the Cove Players' production of "Chalk Garden" will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Players building at 112 Main street, Tiburon, according to Mrs. Preston McKinney, publicity chairman.

There are parts for seven women, described as ranging in age from "a precocious 16-year-old to a grandmother in her 70s," and two men in the psychological drama. The male parts call for a judge in his 70s and a manservant in the 20-30 age bracket.

Rehearsals will begin after the holidays, said veteran director Dan Totheroh. Production dates will be Friday and Saturday evenings starting Feb. 27 and ending March 14.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

When Sal Galli Got In The Volkswagen, It Brought Motto To Mind: Eat Hearty

Sal Galli is a big man. I never asked him but I'll guess he weighs about 22 stone — so when he hailed me for a ride as I started up the drive of Galli's restaurant in the Volkswagen I was just as glad there were no other passengers aboard.

The situation amused him, and surprisingly enough he crawled in a lot easier than some other people I know. I needed to be reminded to pump up those rear tires anyway.

"Me in a Volkswagen—that's something to tell your readers," he said.

The Gallis are all big people. They eat heartily and expect others to do the same. Offhand I'd say that if you are planning to go there for dinner you can skip lunch and still come out ahead. The food stands on its own merits, however, and you don't need the extra hunger to enjoy it properly.

Galli's is in its 40th year of operation, which makes it something of a landmark on the Redwood Highway. It's a rambling sort of place, in keeping with the Italian restaurants of the post World War I era. The oldtimers in Marin and San Francisco visit there regularly and living other with them. If you're looking for color out of the past, here's the place to go.

LADY AT ONDINE asked proprietor Fred Martinez if there was any difference between California crabs and Oregon crabs. Not much, he told her, they are pretty much the same.

"But they seem to have more fur on them," she pointed out.

"That's because the weather is colder," said Freddie, never at a loss for the right answer.

Not on the regular Ondine menu, but there nevertheless if your taste is epicurean, is roast pheasant en plumage, prepared with three different sauces and served with a pate de la maison. Quite a dish for you showoffs. Also delicious, and not much more expensive than you were going to pay anyway.

In case you were thinking about going to Ondine over the holidays—don't. It will be closed between Dec. 22 and Jan. 2, same as last year.

Here's a tip. It's fashionable, I know, to dine late at a place like Ondine, but it's often practical to go early before the crowds. Try it sometime about six.

SUGGESTED AS AN off-the-cuff spot to drop in for an excellent meal without fanfare is Hector Parrish's 101 Cafe in Novato.

Hector is also the cheffing partner in the Brick Lodge, San Rafael, so he insists on food being right. It draws a good tourist trade, and anytime you see drivers of the big highway rigs frequent a place it's a sure sign you should stop, look and list in.

SHORTLY BEFORE Thanksgiving we went to Inverness for a visit with Milan and Manka Prokupek. Their daughter, Alena, was there, too. The unfailing courtesy of this Czechoslovakian family operating the Inverness Lodge always seems to make our trip some sort of of special event, and certainly worth the while it takes to span the miles.

Dr. Prokupek hasn't come right out and said so, but I imagine the future of Inverness Lodge lies in its expansion as a hostelry. Space and atmosphere are there, in a marginal area of Marin sure to attract tourists. It's the kind of thing that would add kudos to our natural scenic charm.

Lodge cabins are completely booked for the period between Christmas and New Year's. Folks come from distant points to rest over the holidays in the quaint old-fashioned surroundings. You might try, but I doubt that you could get a reservation.

Dinners over the holidays are another matter. I am sure you could arrange reservations for Christmas or New Year's or for one of the days in between. Don't wait until the last minute, however. These bookings mount up quickly.

Manka's Coffee Shop, by the way, has gone in for barbecued chickens, et al. Worth looking into.

LITTLE SWEDEN is now another spot where you can dance on Friday and Saturday nights. Girado Del Rio and his Golden Gate Orchestra furnish the music between 9 p. m. and 1 a. m.

No cover charge, but consider making it a full evening by having dinner there, either on straight smorgasbord fare, on one of a long list of Swedish and American entrees, or a combination of the two.

A week from tomorrow night, Dec. 13, is the date for Inga Lindholm's perennial Festival of Santa Lucia — the Swedish Christmas celebration —at the Novato restaurant. Same will be held in the San Francisco and Oakland restaurants on the 14th and 15th respectively.

Progressive Club Elects At Stinson

Alvin A. Eustis, Edward Leslie and Otto Rasmussen were re-elected president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the Progressive Club of Stinson Beach Wednesday evening.

Frank Moreland was named vice president, succeeding Elting Hubbard. All will serve one-year terms.

Daddy Takes A Ribbing In 'Houseboat'

"Houseboat," in VistaVision and Technicolor, is a sly comedy dedicated to the proposition that Daddy is helpless when it comes to rearing typical American children—"carefree, gay and at times in need of psychiatric care."

With Cary Grant playing Daddy and Sophia Loren as the young lady who rescues him from the snarling little darlings, "Houseboat" will open at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo Sunday.

NO BIG GAGS

This is a comedy which doesn't aim for big gags; rather it concentrates on wit and the foolish side of situations which could turn into disaster.

Cary portrays the victim of an unhappy marriage from which he has fled to a succession of overseas jobs. When the playgirl wife dies, Cary decides to grab the three kids—now on the verge of their teens—and rear them in a tiny Washington apartment.

He is about to admit defeat when a ludicrous auto wreck leaves them stranded. They take refuge in a leaky old houseboat—the setting for the rest of the wild doings.

WIGGLES, SINGS

Along the way, Cary has acquired Miss Loren as a maid (she is actually the daughter of a visiting Italian musician). Miss Loren being what she is, she wiggles beautifully, sings strange popular songs and can boil an egg. Eventually, she puts Cary out of his misery by leading him to the altar.

The children, for the record, are Mimi Gibson, Charles Herbert and Paul Peterson. They are about as sweet and gentle as a pack of hungry tigers. But being somewhat human, they know the law is on Daddy's side, and so they humor the old boy for 112 minutes until he is thoroughly tamed.

Panel Co-Chairman

Dr. Edward Rudloff, consultant in physical education and instruction with the Marin County superintendent's office, will serve tomorrow as co-chairmen of a panel on "Research and Professional Advancement" at the Bay district conference of the California Assn. of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Oakland.

Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., has trained 105 persons from the 23 western states during the year. The San Rafael school is operated with voluntary contributions.

Vandals Hit Windows

Vandals with rocks broke windows of a model home in Marinwood, salesman George Norberry of 4465 Redwood highway, Marinwood, reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday. A plate glass window and a bathroom window were broken. Damage was estimated at $80 to $90.

New Kiwanis Club To Install Tomorrow

First slate of officers for the newly formed Ross Valley Kiwanis Club will be installed tomorrow night at a banquet at Hamie's Restaurant in San Rafael.

Approximately 250 persons are expected to attend the 7:30 p.m. affair, including members of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club, the sponsoring organization. Installing officer will be James Parrish of Los Gatos, district governor.

President of the new club will be James Lewis of San Anselmo. Sanford McLaughlin will be first vice president; Bill Maier, second vice president; Spencer Abrams, secretary, and Louis Arnone, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors will be Robert Clapham, John Wilcutt, Duke Morrison, Lee Jett, Raymond Koph, Charles Carroll, Arthur Hofmann, James T. Kilpatrick, Jack Miller and George Bogel.

Clarence A. DeLong, past president of the San Rafael club, said he expects a number of guests at the dinner from the Golden Gate Kiwanis Club in San Francisco, former home club of the new president.

500 Families To 'Flee' In CD Exercise

CHICO (AP)—Five hundred Solano County families will leave their homes tomorrow morning and head for Chico in the most extensive mass evacuation staged by U.S. civil defense authorities.

"Operation Chico" will be the first time families have stayed away from home overnight in such an operation. Chico residents will house and feed the more than 1,500 persons involved in the exercise.

A small army of regional and local civil defense workers will "control" the 130-mile automobile trip. The "evacuees"—supposed to be fleeing from an nuclear attack in the San Francisco Bay Area—are all volunteers, as are the Chico residents who will host the group.

After assembling at Esparto in Yolo County between 8 and 9 p.m., the "evacuees" will depart in automobile convoys of 50 cars each.

The exercise will test an established evacuation route to be used in case of a real disaster or attack.

Brown Promises A Change Coming

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown says he'll make proposals for solving both California's fiscal problem and its need for more water.

"The people who voted for a change are going to get a change," he said last night at a dinner in behalf of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute for Cancer Research. The institute will be located at the American Medical Center in Denver, Colo.

Her eldest son, Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), said the nation needs a fifth freedom—freedom from the fear of disease.

Roosevelt, development chairman of the Denver medical project, said a nationwide campaign in support of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute will be concluded Oct. 11, his mother's 75th birthday.

Apartments Favored For 5.3 Fairfax Acres

Recommendation was given last night by the Fairfax Planning Commission that apartment zoning be applied to 5.3 acres between Olema road and Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

The town council last month asked the planners to recommend either multiple dwelling or commercial zoning for the parcel, after San Anselmo developers Robert Roumiguiere and William J. Watt presented plans to build apartments there.

Roumiguiere and Watt last night agreed to abide by terms of a proposed ordinance setting forth zoning restrictions and to provide water mains to the area for fire protection equal to that of downtown Fairfax.

Two more public hearings by the town council will be necessary, however, before the zoning becomes final.

The new ordinance, now under study, proposes six zones be set up for the town: single family, two-family, multiple-family, limited commercial, commercial and industrial. At present there are only two zones, single family and commercial.

Planners, meeting in the council chambers last night, expressed regret over the resignation of Mrs. Delores (Lorrie) Price as secretary of the board after a year's service. She resigned because of moving out of Fairfax.

Chairman Edward Radtke said today he will probably appoint one of the board members to serve as secretary.

The commission also set its next meeting, Jan. 29, as the time for a public hearing on a request by Thomas Hotchkin for a rezoning from single-family to multiple-family for a parcel of land between Manor School and the Oak Glen subdivision.

Riviera Marin Developers Planning Sanitation Plant

Officials of Latipac, Inc., developers of Riviera Marin in east San Rafael, hope to have preliminary plans on a $350,000 sanitation plant before the San Rafael Sanitation Commission within the next few weeks.

Ed Lee, general manager of Latipac, and Daniel Coleman, engineer, announced yesterday to the sanitation commission they are working on sanitation facilities for the resort-community development planned on the sprawling McNear ranch.

Norris Rawles, public works director, said nothing definite has been presented thus far. The site of the proposed treatment plan has not even been selected yet.

The sanitation commissioners may call a special meeting with Latipac when concrete plans are ready.

The $38,000 Bret Harte pumping plant was formally accepted by the commission yesterday. The new plant to serve the Bret Harte area replaced an old one located on Woodland avenue opposite DuBois street, near the H. C. Little Burner Co.

(A Semi-Weekly Column)

Don't Just Talk—Do Something To Boost Business Climate, Says Official

Mark Twain is often quoted to the effect that nobody ever does anything about the climate, though everybody talks about it.

Recently another Mark — Mark R. Sullivan, president of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and also president of the State Chamber of Commerce—told a Los Angeles audience that somebody had better do something about California's climate.

"Good economic climate does not just happen," he declared. "It must be willed and nurtured into being."

He went on to advise that the people of the state, direct sufferers from economic crop failures, should keep an eye on business barometers and be alert to the question, "How do the laws, institutions and mores of California concerning opportunities for capital and labor compare with those of other states?"

The PT&T chief noted that California's business barometer must be kept in the "fair and warmer" sector in the light of forecasts of a state population of a staggering 20 million by 1970.

"Thousands of new employment opportunities must be opened up every month, and literally billions of dollars will have to be attracted to provide the tools and equipment for new factories, farms, communication and electric systems," he pointed out.

He didnt add, but he might have, that as it is with the state, so is it with its counties. This business of providing employmen opportunities and attracting business investment must also be eyed at the local level, by the people and by their representatives who set public policies and, to use the word so favored in government circles, "implement" them.

HAVING STARTED OUT today in weather-wise vein, we will attempt to avoid the mixed meteorological metaphor and present our bi-monthly Bankers' Business Barometer:

Total check clearings of the six Marin offices of the First National Bank in San Rafael for the period Nov. 16-30 were $22,421,610. The period contained nine bank days.

The total was down somewhat from the $23,744,332 total recorded in the first half of November, which, incidentally, contained 10 banking days.

John W. Parker, San Rafael district manager for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has returned from Monterey, where he attended a five-day company conference ending yesterday.

GEOFFREY MALPAS of Sausalito, a certified public accountant with wide work experience from London to Manila, has joined the staff of the Ampex Corp. in Redwood City, manufacturer of magnetic recorders.

Malpas, a native of England, has served at general manager of the Bon Marche store in Sacramento and most recently as manager of the Arthur Young Co. in San Francisco.

He is a member of the national and state societies of certified public accountants.

TRAILORBOAT ENGINEERING CO. of San Rafael reported this week on its expansion during the past year for production of fiberglass boats in addition to its original line of aluminum craft.

Trailorboat has added 24,000 square feet to its plant for the fiberglass operation, with an investment of $290,000 in the new buildings and equipment.

Fiberglass boat production is more seasonal in nature than manufacture of aluminum boats, according to Trailorboat owners Ralph Cain, Vic and Ray Lenci (this is not the type of business climate we referred to earlier), but the firm plans to put an additional 65 to 70 persons on its payroll when fiberglass production resumes next spring.

Trailorboat employs 55 persons at present. The firm has turned out more than 50,000 aluminum boats in its 11-year history.

THE DEXTER CAR CO. at 1731 Fourth street in San Rafael is opening its enlarged showroom today and tomorrow.

The auto dealership expanded into quarters next door to provide the enlarged show area for its stock of 1959 Ramblers.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market reduced early losses in late afternoon trading today. Most issues remained under the previous close.

Some aircraft and rail stocks recovered to post small gains. Metals shaved their declines. Several of the drug shares held on to substantial gains.

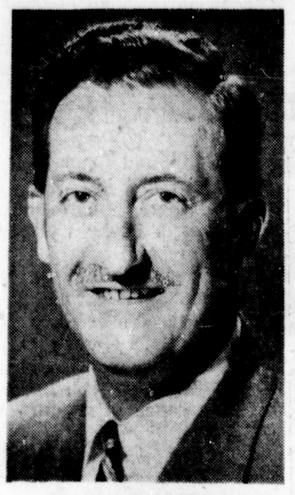

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,300,000 shares compared with 3,630,000 yesterday.

Merck and Pfizer jumped more than three points and Parke, Davis was up almost three.

New Billboard Law Asked By McCarthy

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The chairman of a state legislative committee has asked opponents and proponents of billboard advertising to devise a new regulatory law acceptable to both sides.

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), suggesting the conciliatory effort yesterday, said he favors stricter regulation. His Senate subcommittee had just concluded what he called its final hearing on the matter.

Appearing in favor of a stricter law were representatives of the California Roadside Council, composed of scenic promotion groups. Spokesmen for billboard advertisers appeared against it, as they did at previous subcommittee sessions in Monterey, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Texas' crude oil reserves increased 9.2 barrels for each foot of well drilled in 1957. This compared with an average increase of 17 barrels annually during thep ast 10 years.

Market Boosts Hub Building To $303,273

A building permit for a $200,000 United Market on Red Hill avenue at Forbes avenue boosted San Anselmo's total value of permits issued during November to an unusual high of $303,273.

The previous month, the total was $113,000, according to statistics of the U. S. Labor Department.

The Red Hill Liquor Store and a small residence were demolished this week to make way for the new market.

11 DWELLINGS

Eight of the 11 permits for single family dwellings issued last month were taken out by R. H. Stockton, who is constructing eight houses on hillside lots in Floribel Manor. Total value of the 11 permits was $65,864 in terms of 1945 building costs.

William R. Meager took out a $14,000 repair job at 217 San Anselmo avenue, the building to be used as a four-unit apartment house.

A permit was issued to Allen, Bettini and Carter for a $3,859 office building on Bank street.

SERVICE STATION

On Nov. 6, General Petroleum Corp. was issued a permit to build a $10,000 Mobilgas service station to replace the one at the Hub. However, construction was held up after changed designs were submitted. Also, Fire Chief Nello Marcucci objected to a redwood building which is not permitted in a Class 1 fire zone, and has obtained agreement from representatives of General Petroleum to use a fire resistant material, said City Manager Arthur W. Brewer.

Six permits for minor alterations and additions to existing buildings totaled $9,550.

Wells Fargo, American Trust Officials Considering Merger

Wells Fargo Bank and American Trust Co. officials confirmed rumors of merger discussions yesterday.

I. W. Hellman, president of Wells Fargo, said he and Harris Kirk, American Trust president, have discussed the subject, but "no final conclusions have been reached."

Ransom M. Cook, senior vice president of American Trust, said:

"We're in the talk stage, but it's very preliminary."

Combined resources of the two banks would amount to about 2.4 billion dollars.

Wells Fargo, dating from 1852, has 12 branches in the San Francisco Bay Area.

American Trust, which traces its origins back to 1854, has 98 branches in nine Northern California counties.

Rocket Kills 3 Engineers

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Three young engineers for the Gallery Chemical Co. were killed and four others injured early today when a home-made rocket exploded in a waste disposal area at the firm's plant southwest of Lawrence.

Richard A. Wright, 26, and Elmer Boyd, 38, were hospitalized with serious injuries. Ben Leavitt and James Longstregh, who were behind a blast wall at the time, escaped with minor injuries.

Plant manager R. G. Schmidt said the young engineers were experimenting with the rocket while off-duty.

Construction Boom On In San Rafael

This year's unusually dry weather and a business pickup are combining to give San Rafael its second biggest construction boom year in history.

Records compiled by Building Inspector Clifford Monk show that total valuation of construction through November has reached $5,993,971. Building in December is almost certain to push the year's total above the 1955 mark of $6,330,000. This would mean the 1958 building valuation would be second only to the record $8,266,000 posted in 1956.

Theb uilding department will probably issue permits this month for a quarter-million-dollar apartment project at Belvedere and Canal streets east of Francisco boulevard. Kaehler Construction Co. proposes a 29-unit apartment there immediately across the street from the midget auto racing track.

Other projects "in the mill" include a new store at 871 Fourth street, on a vacant lot with 25-foot frontage. William McDevitt Co. is doing the work for owners Albert Tognoli and Jack Zander.

Williams Construction Co. plans another seven-unit apartment building at 45 Woodland avenue, valued at between $28,000 and $30,000.

Big projects for which building permits were issued last month included two more buildings at the rapidly developing Montecito Properties commercial center on Third street. A permit was also issued for a $41,000 warehouse at 4 Front street for Bellach Furniture Co. which was destroyed by fire several months ago.

NAM Elects Executive Who Started 2nd Career At 65

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley C. Hope, a business leader who launched a second career at the age of 65, is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Hope was elected at the annual NAM convention last night to succeed Milton C. Lightner, board chairman of the Singer Manufacturing Co. of Elizabeth, N.J.

In a statement of acceptance, Hope suggested NAM "could afford to change its name to the National Assn. for Manufacturers."

He declared, "We must be for and not against. We must be for government expenditures but on a reasonable basis; we must be for taxation but on an equitable basis; and we must be for labor relations but on an honest and constructive basis."

Hope said the present era should become an "age of reasonableness." Many problems could be solved, he said, if a "reasonable" attitude were shown by the Soviet Union, leaders of organized labor and the U.S. government.

The new NAM president retired as president of Esso Standard Oil Co. last July after spending 46 years with several affiliates of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He immediately assumed the presidency of SoundScriber Corp., North Haven, Conn., manufacturers of dictating equipment.

He served notice at the time he would organize his business so that his work week would be three days for the balance of the year.

Building Union Unit Threatens AFL-CIO Bolt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Building and Trades Council, angered at "encroachment" by CIO construction workers, has threatened to lead a nationwide bolt from the AFL-CIO.

The council took action yesterday in a resolution unanimously adopted by 500 delegates representing California's 350,000 AFL building trades unionists. The AFL and CIO have not yet merged in California.

The resolution said several industrial (old CIO) unions had deliberately encroached upon the craft jurisdiction of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department and its 19 affiliated unions.

It said the industrial unions perform construction, alteration and repair work at rates of pay far below the established rates of unions affiliated with the Building and Construction Trades Department.

As a result, the delegates said the council would ask the Building and Construction Trades Department "to withdraw from the AFL-CIO, to protect the craft jurisdiction of the building trades unions."

The resolution was the last order of the council's convention. In other business, the delegates accepted credentials from Teamsters' construction and material drivers locals, and ignored orders from AFL-CIO president George Meany to remove Teamsters from council office.

As a result, Gerald A. Shea-

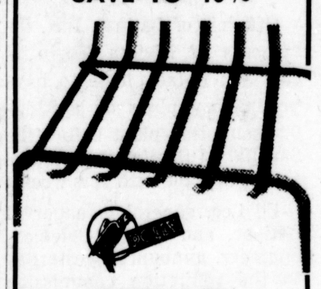

Hub Chamber To Sponsor Yule Display

San Anselmo will have a 28-foot-tall Christmas tree at the Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Red Hill intersection, its traditional Santa Claus with reindeer display atop the roof of the nearby corporation yard building and a strolling Santa Claus who will stop to talk to children and give out candies.

The decorations and the Santa Claus are all projects of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce.

It was decided at yesterday's meeting of the chamber that Santa Claus would make his appearance in downtown San Anselmo during the week preceding Christmas. The decorations will be up within the next week, said George G. Washburn, chamber secretary.

Burdell Trustees Postpone Decision On New Building

Burdell School District trustees held a brief meeting in San Rafael yesterday, but did not discuss the possibility of putting up a new building to replace the historic one-room school recently destroyed by fire.

The district's 12 pupils, children of Novato area ranchers, are now using a classroom in Our Lady of Loretto Catholic parochial school in Novato.

At yesterday's meeting, held in the office of Leland W. Harris, assistant county superintendent of schools, the board voted to purchase a desk for teacher Florence Adams and adjustable desks for her pupils.

James Grossi, clerk of the board, said the desks will cost approximately $600.

"The children are back in school now, so we felt it wasn't urgent that we have any discussion about a new school building until after the first of the year," Grossi said today. "Because of the approaching holidays, we postponed all further meetings until next month."

2,000 Petition For End To A-Testing

About 2,000 Marin residents have signed a petition urging the ending of nuclear weapons testing, Phillip Drath of San Rafael, chairman of the Marin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, reported today.

The petition has been sent to the Geneva Conference on Nuclear Disarmament of the United States, Great Britain and Russia, he said.

The petition calls for an international inspection to control cessation of the testing.

Grand Jury Schools Report Should Be Listened To

Marin's 1957-58 Grand Jury has completed its work and filed its final report. In it, the jurors took some calculated swings at the county's educational system.

In 12 pages of the final report, the jury deals with basic school matters varying from district expenditures to teachers salaries to curriculum to school insurances. Although the report is obviously a summation, it clearly indicates that much thought and study went into its declarations.

This is not something that the schools can shrug off as "just another criticism." This is a report made by a group of public spirited Marin citizens who have devoted a year of their life to service for the community. They have studied the situation and think that by constructive criticism, they can do something about it.

They can too, if they get the sympathetic cooperation of the school people.

The report itself is not specific enough to be of much direct help to individual school districts, except in a very few instances. But the remarks are specific enough for a school board to take the criticisms one by one and see if each applies in their particular district. If trustees would dispassionately do this, the Grand Jury's report could accomplish great good.

As the report points out, there are 29 autonomous school districts in Marin, varying in size from four elementary districts with 12 or less students to the nearly 5,000 in the San Rafael Elementary and High School District. Each has its own problems. Each must seek its own solutions. This report can well serve as a standard by which they can measure their accomplishments in the fields discussed.

But the jurors also made crystal clear that it is not just a school matter. They put the responsibility for good education squarely on the shoulders of the public as well. There is this pertinent paragraph in the report's conclusions and recommendations:

"In order to improve the end product of the schools, the education of the pupils, we are of the opinion that nothing permanently constructive can be accomplished until there is instilled into the parents and the community at large a greater respect for learning. Academic achievement in the minds of a large segment of the public is running a poor competition with athletics, extra curricular activities and social events, with natural reaction from youngsters."

So there you have it. Not only is it the schools' duty to read and use the Grand Jury's report, but it also should be an awakener for the public. (It will be printed in full in an early issue of the I-J.) You, and we too, are responsible for seeing that our children get the best possible schooling. And we're also responsible if they don't.

Marin To New York In 5 Hours

The new jet flights between San Francisco and New York which are to be inaugurated early in the new year will place Marin within five hours flying time from New York City, assuming a good connection at the San Francisco International Airport.

Flying ahead of most of their noise and having little or no tiring vibration, these new planes will usher in a new era of passenger comfort and speed. Better equipped kitchens will make possible such items as steaks broiled aloft.

Now it is plausible, theoretically, at least, to think of having an early lunch in Marin and arriving in New York in time to grab a taxi and speed to an eight o'clock opening of a Broadway show. The next morning we could board a plane at nine and be back in Marin at eleven. Sounds like a dream, but it is possible.

Not only will the jets be faster and more comfortable, but they are expected to be more economical and may make decreases in fares feasible.

Frightened Of Boss, Wife? Just Squirt 'Em With Fear Gas Bomb

NEW YORK (AP) — Every now and then an idea developed by the military services turns out to be more useful in peace than in war.

An example was the aerosol bomb developed during the World War II. It is now used to spray everything from whitewash to tooth paste.

A still more promising product is a new "fear gas" being developed by the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. It already is strong enough to cause an alley cat to become terrified at the sight of a mouse.

In time, says Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, it may become refined to a point where sprayed on a battlefield, it might temporarily paralyze the will of enemy troops to fight.

While this certainly would be a great boon in wartime, can't a gas of this kind find equally important civilian employment?

As it is now, millions of ordinary people are so nervous, upset, and afraid, that they meet every daily emergency by swallowing a couple of tranquilizer pills. The pills don't rid them of their fears. They simply dull the impact of their fears.

HOW MUCH FINER your existence would be if, instead of a bottle of tranquilizer pills you had a pocketful of small new aerosol bombs loaded with superstrong fear gas! Instead of having to calm your own fears you could make everybody else afraid of you.

Are you afraid to ask your boss for a raise? Not with your trusty fear gas bomb. You merely walk into Old Scrooge's office, spray him in the face—and wait for him to hand over to you the keys to the company.

Are you afraid of your wife when you sneak into the house at 3 a.m. after a losing session at poker? Simply squirt a few whiffs of fear gas at her, and she'll run in panic and lock herself in the bedroom.

WHATEVER FRIGHTENED you before — supercilious clothing store salesmen, haughty waiters, threatening landlords, arrogant traffic cops—now quakes before you. The barrage of fear gas you spread around you (don't breathe it yourself:) turns you into a conquering hero.

It is a mighty dream. And it has only one flaw. If everybody brought a supply of these fear gas grenades and started tossing them around, then everybody would be afraid of everybody and everything else.

But what's to lose there? Isn't that about the present situation of the world today anyway?

Teens Have Fun Without Trouble

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

These days, when the word "teen-ager" is often synonomous with "delinquent" and "trouble" in the minds of adults, it is a great pleasure to tell of an event that renewed an ever present faith in teen-agers and, incidentally, in our new sheriff!

Last Saturday 12 Tam and Redwood High Seniors gave a public dance in Sausalito. It is nearly impossible for an unsponsored (organizationally) group to do so, but they were fortunate. Of the many chaperones who promised to come, not one arrived.

Present, as promised, was our new Sheriff Lou Mountanos; Officers Lunt & Shiner of the Sausalito Police Dept. volunteered and were there, too, as was Fireman Swede Peterson. These men did not come in uniforms, grimly, with guns on hips, but wore suits and were obviously interested in the affair.

Present also were over 300 young people, ranging from age 16 up. They represented almost every club and group organization from Kentfield south.

Realizing the responsibility of the 12 girls giving the dance, it was wonderful to note that they were on their finest behavior. There were no incidents to mar the evening, no problems to be "handled."

Public and private parties in the past have been trouble spots, complete with uncontrolled drinking, riots and general mayhem. Many of Saturday's group had been present at the well-publicized Doneybrooks, but the difference is that this time the responsibility was their own . . . an example was to be set.

Let me emphasize that these kids weren't the "angel" type—the potential was there for real trouble if they were so inclined.

A tremendous amount of credit is due to the pleasant unassuming manner of the officials present; and even higher praise is due these young people who realized the difficulty of having a public dance and their subsequent behaviour.

If Marin's adults would stop trembling in their boots long enough to look at the teenage situation, they would realize the great need for places to congregate and things to do with minimum supervision and maximum trust. The teenagers will return that trust a thousandfold if given a chance.

Minimum supervision meaning just that — young and interested chaperones, not sitting with a dour and disapproving expression so frequently found . . . present for the sheer fun of it and enjoyment of youth, not as a grim civic "duty."

Brown Asks All Department Heads To Resign; He May Not Accept Some

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The announcement made by Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown that he wants the resignations of all the cabinet officers now in state government is not one that is highly unusual. In fact, department heads usually hand in such resignations as a matter of courtesy without the governor having to ask for them.

This is done in a change of governors, whether it be a member of the same party or not, to permit the new governor of the state free rein in selecting his cabinet.

In some instances, there are hold-overs, and this will not be an exception in the Brown administration, as he already has appointed one hold-over, Richard A. McGee, as director of the department of corrections.

WHETHER BROWN'S announcement came as a request so that some recalcitrant directors who might want to stay, would be easier to hand walking papers, or whether Brown is unacquainted with the normal procedures of state government, is not known.

But in any event, the new Democratic governor of the state wants a free hand in selecting his cabinet members, as he properly should have.

Already, Brown has scuttled party lines by appointing Bert Levit of San Francisco as state director of finance. Some people who know the new money man of California say he is the most conservative of Republicans.

THE APPOINTMENT brought no cheers from loyal Democratic party members, who worked hard in Brown's campaign, despite the fact that Levit was the head of the "Republicans for Brown" segment of the population during the campaign.

But even with this distinction, some of the hard-working Democrats feel that Brown's dishing out the juiciest job of the entire administration to a rank Republican borders somewhat on the fringes of party disloyalty.

BROWN STATED during his comment on resignations that the people had voted for a change in state government, and indicated they were going to get a change. However, his actions belie his words, if he intends to retain some of the present staff of directors.

Almost certain to be on the list of directors whose resignations will be accepted with pleasure is Seth Gordon, head of the state department of fish and game. Speculation has it that Gordon, whose activities in the department have infuriated sportsmen throughout the state, will be supplanted by Lee F. Payne, former member of the Fish and Game Commission, presently editor of the Temple City Times, and a widely known authority on the subject.

THE BOOM by some Democratic friends of Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers for the job is not expected to get to first base, as the Democrats owe Powers nothing. Unless Brown deviates further from party lines than he already has, Powers probably would get no consideration at all.

The change-over, of course, will be gradual, as starting with an entire new team could off-set some of the plays.

To give you a rough idea of what newspaper editors in frontier towns were up against in the days of the "Wild and Wooly West," Harry Oliver tells about a subscriber who was stopped at the entrance of the Wahoo City Bugle. "Where's the editor?" he roared.

"First," insisted the clerk on duty, "you gotta tell us what you want to shoot him in reference to."

If You Drink Cokes, Please Watch For This Boy's Bottle

Most youngsters these days think of Coca Cola bottles merely as a container for a soft drink or a vehicle for reclaiming a deposit.

But Fred Schwab of San Rafael had a coke bottle he really treasured.

Although the bottle had the familiar hour-glass shape of a John Held beauty, the printing had a different look. On one side of the bottle the words were written in French; on the other, they were written in Arabic.

It was the Arabic side which brought trouble to Fred.

His mother, Ethel Schwab, borrowed the prized empty, which had been brought to San Rafael from North Africa, to show to a girl who was studying Arabic. The girl took it to her class, where it was received with interest, and then brought it down to the I-J. She set it down on a desk.

Along came one of our keep-everything-clean advocates and the bottle disappeared, unmissed for the moment, into a carton of empties awaiting the coke distributor's truck.

So if you get a bottle of coke inscribed with strange shirttail K letters on one side and French on the other, let us know, will you?

WE'RE TOLD that Terra Linda Community Services District directors are a little upset with the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District. Seems Terra Linda had been hoping to get a fire engine from the State Educational Agency for Surplus Property; had an application in.

But Alto-Richardson Bay had the same idea — and were on the spot when one became available.

Why should Terra Linda be mad?

OUR RACIAL discrimination story of the week:

Radio DJ Ollie Freeman told us about the cannibal who reformed and came to the United States on a visit. He went into a swank restaurant and sat down at a table.

A young waitress came up to him and declared: "Sir, are you aware of the fact we don't serve Negroes here?"

CITY COUNCILS sometimes wonder why they don't have more people in attendance at their meetings. We're doing their business, the councilmen reason, shouldn't the people be interested in it?

Of course they should. But sometimes city governments themselves make this exasperating.

Take one city councilt hat met this week. The mayor was pleased to notice two men and a woman sitting in the audience, so, after the minutes were approved about 8:15 p.m., he asked:

"Does anyone wish to address the council?"

The mayor consulted his agenda. "That report is on the agenda, we'll get to it shortly," he indicated.

At a quarter to 11, the item was reached.

"Now, how about your report?" the mayor asked the city manager.

"I haven't gotten around to making the study yet," answered the city manager.

Berlin Move By Soviet Is Just Opening Gambit Of A Long Game

Each day makes it seem more likely that the Soviet move in Berlin is the opening gambit in an extensive diplomatic operation dealing with the whole German question.

Although the long note from Moscow, which was sent last Thursday, makes specific proposals about the status of West Berlin, its general tenor and the text around the proposals suggests very strongly that the Soviet government looks upon West Berlin as an instrument for raising the whole question of Germany.

There can hardly be any illusion in Moscow that the Western powers will refuse to evacuate West Berlin and to leave it surrounded by the Red Army and with its communications in control of the East German government.

THE PROPOSALS about Berlin are a talking point, not a serious offer. I say this because Khrushchev has already said in his press conference that the six months time limit would not be rigidly adhered to if promising negotiations were under way. And if promising negotiations are not under way, precautions have already been taken to see to it that nothing portentous happens if authority is transferred to the East German government.

ALL IN ALL, then, there is no instant crisis and we are at the beginning of a long game in which the distance runners will do better than the sprinters.

It is not probable, I think, that on the whole German question there will be any really serious negotiations for the next two years. A serious negotiation would be one in which at the end of the line the Soviet Army would agree to withdraw from Central and Eastern Europe and back within its own frontiers.

It is reasonably certaint hat the Soviet government has not convinced itself that it can withdraw its army without running a great risk of an anti-Soviet and an anti-Russian explosion among the satellites. Yet, at the same time, there is good reason to believe that the Soviet government lives in dread of another Hungary, and realizes that there is a great risk in the continuing military occupation of Eastern Europe.

ON OUR WESTERN side, a serious negotiation is not likely to begin soon because policy is made by Dr. Adenauer and Dulles. Their terms call for the liquidation of the East German state and the extension of the frontier of NATO to the Polish border. This is literally and exactly a demand for the unconditional surrender of the Soviet Union, and it is not a negotiating position.

It is reasonable to assume that the Soviet operation in Berlin is addressed to the German successors of Dr. Adenauer and to the American successors of Dulles. That is why the gambit in Berlin is only the beginning of a long game.

KILLER SMOG THREATENS LONDON AFTER 25 DAYS OF PEASOUP FOG

LONDON (UPI)—A British scientist warned today that the peasoup fog that has blanketed Britain for 25 days is turning into a killer smog.

The scientist was Dr. B. T. Cummings of London's Bartholomew's hospital which treated hundreds of victims in 1952 when a killer smog took 4,000 lives.

The disastrous smog followed the same pattern. London and the surrounding counties were blanketed for weeks by a crippling fog until coal and other fumes turned it into a death blanket.

Today the heavy blanket covered 30 counties extending over an area of 28,000 square miles. Cummings said smoke pollution in the air over London had passed the safe limit.

DOCTOR ADVISES:

When Tragedy Hits, Express Your Grief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—If tragedy strikes, forget all about keeping a stiff upper lip and let your grief gush out, a Mayo Clinic psychiatrist advised today.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett said the person who is brave and holds up well when a loved one dies wins praise from society but is headed for possible mental trouble in later years.

He told family doctors attending the annual clinic conference of the American Medical Assn. that the physician is in a position to administer psychiatric first aid in such situations that could guard against later mental trouble.

The important period, Dr. Faucett said, comes a few hours after the first stunning impact of the catastrophe has passed and there is a gradual return of semiconsciousness.

"This is the crucial phase in the grief reaction and its proper working through is necessary for future emotional health," he said. "There is a great need to talk and ventilate feelings about the dead one in this phase. This need to ventilate—to cry, to be angry, to talk about the past—must be encouraged."

Dr. Faucett said the bereaved person should not be removed from his situation geographically, socially or emotionally.

Even at this point, he said, the doctor should encourage the person to reconstruct the past in relation to the present and begin to contemplate the future realistically.

New License Plates Will Last Decade

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Californians will get "lifetime" auto license plates in 1963, made of lightweight aluminum instead of the present steel.

The plates are supposed to last at least 10 years—about the life of the average car—compared with the present five. The changed of materials means the present plates issued in 1956 will have to last until 1963.

The new plates will be black with yellow figures, reversing the present arrangement. They'll use the present numbering system of three letters and three numerals.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight announced the new plates yesterday, saying the switch in materials is primarily an economy move. By cutting out one renewal period, the state hopes to save one and one-half million dollars—about $90,000 in postage and $75,000 to rebuild the Motor Vehicles Department's files.

Inmates at Folsom Prison will start turning out two million of the new plates for trucks and five million for trailers and motorcycles in the near future. Some eight million car plates will be made later.

Corte Madera P. O. Sets Holiday Hours

The Corte Madera Post Office will begin late hours for the Christmas rush on Monday, according to Postmaster Edward J. Victor.

Victor said the office will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Saturday until Christmas. Windows also will be open 1 to 4 p. m. on Sundays, Dec. 14 and 21.

Don Perry's WORD TO THE WISE GARDENER

THERE IS an old saying that there are two ways to getting a job done — the easy way and the hard way. From our observation, there are too many gardeners doing most of their tasks the hard way.

CHANCES ARE you know as many "hard way" gardeners as we do. Why not put a stop to this deplorable situation this Christmas? We have dozens of devices in our garden store that will make living a lot easier for gardeners.

THEN, TOO, gardening tools have a habit of wearing out. This gives you an opportunity to choose a new late model and win some happy gardener's esteem and gratitude for many months to come.

AND WHILE you are shopping for garden gifts, be sure to see our fine display of unusual Christmas decorations. Many are exclusive with us in this area. Plan to come in soon!

Champ Choice Over Jordan In Title Go

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hot-and-cold Virgil Akins is favored at 12-5 to make a successful first defense of his world welterweight championship tonight against speedy young Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

Despite Akins' punching prowess and Jordan's skill, their scheduled 15-rounder leaves local fans lukewarm. Less than 6,000 are expected at the Olympic Auditorium, where the gate may approach $40,000.

Because the bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC, it must be started at 7 p.m. That early start may have hurt the ticket sale, although there's a TV blackout in a 300-mile radius.

Regardless of the crowd and gate, Los Angeles' first welterweight title fight in 19 years will be a financial success because of the $50,000 in TV-radio money, and because each fighter works strictly on percentage.

The 30-year-old champion from St. Louis gets 40 per cent of all net receipts, and the 24-year-old Negro-Indian challenger gets 20 per cent.

IN-AND-OUTER

Akins has been in in-and-outer before he won the 147-pound crown, and afterwards. But he is a solid favorite because of his punch. He reached a peak of explosiveness while winning the vacant crown on June 6. The well-built Negro floored Vince Martinez of Patterson, N.J., nine times for a four-round knockout in the elimination tourney final at St. Louis.

Since then Akins displayed his inconstancy in two non-title bouts. He had to score a desperation 10th round kayo to win over Tombstone Smith, who had given him a thorough licking for nine rounds and gashed both brows. And on Sept. 18, Virgil lost a decision to Del Flanagan at St. Paul, Minn.

29 KNOCKOUTS

That was his 18th defeat in 68 bouts. He had one draw. However, his 49 victories included 29 knockouts.

Jordan, although only a half-inch taller than Akins' five-feet-nine, appears lanky. He's the challenger tonight because an eight-bout winning streak made him recognized as top contender everywhere.

Don . . . an expert with the bow and arrow, and called "Geronimo" by his mother—is an upright boxer who can bob and weave if necessary. He's considered faster and smarter than the aggressive, stalking champion. Don's best weapons are his left jab and left hook although he can throw fast combinations with both fists. Only a fair puncher, Don registered 15 knockouts while winning 43 of his 54 bouts. Unusually rugged, he never was stopped.

REBOUND BATTLE — Jim Moya (13) and Mike Presseau (30) of USF make desperate effort to control a rebound against Seattle at USF's new gymnasium last night. But Charley Brown (45), Seattle forward, snagged the ball and whipped it down court as Chieftains went on to win 60-58 thriller.

Cox Sparkles But Dons Bow

Ronnie Cox, versatile graduate of Drake High School who has been billed as a substitute guard for the University of San Francisco, may have graduated into a starting position last night with a dazzling exhibition that almost gave the Dons an upset victory over the highly favored Seattle Chieftains.

With a packed crowd roaring approval in the new USF gymnasium, Cox, a sophomore guard, came off the bench to spark Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons to a rally that narrowly missed a big upset. Only a last second field goal by Seattle's Francis Saunders saved the Chieftains and gave them a thrilling 60-58 victory.

Cox, a 5-foot-11 San Anselman who starred in basketball, football and baseball at Drake, was USF's second highest scorer with 12 points, 8 of them coming in succession in less than two minutes to pull the Dons within one point (56-57). Then with 43 seconds remaining teammate John Cunningham connected for a 58-57 USF lead. However, in the hectic final seconds Seattle's Jerry Frizzell was fouled, scored the first of his foul throws to tie it up, missed the second, but Saunders was there to bat it back in through the mesh for the winning bucket at the sound of the buzzer.

DEFENSIVE STAR

Cox's pesky defensive work and sharp-shooting with either hand drew the plaudits of the capacity crowd of 6,000 fans who were there to help dedicate USF's $1 million gym.

After USF shot off to a 9-0 early lead, the veteran Chieftains fought back, led 34-30 at halftime and breezed along to a 57-48 bulge with less than three minutes remaining. But then Cox went into his scoring binge, closing the gap to 56-57, only to watch this great comeback fall short.

Top Quints In Twin Bill At Cow Palace

Tonight is when they begin separating the men from the boys among Pacific Coast basketball teams.

An especially attractive double bill takes place in San Francisco's cavernous Cow Palace where Stanford meets Santa Clara and then UCLA and St. Mary's clash. All four teams have big dreams this year and none has yet tasted defeat.

The second tussle will provide fans with a glimpse or two of the most highly touted sophomores in west coast cage history, UCLA's Kent Miller and St. Mary's Tom Meschery.

The opener starts at 7:30 o'clock and the nightcap at 9:30.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

All-Time Marin Cage Squad Named; Can 49ers Use Bare-Foot Kicker?

The great Don Barksdale and three members of the 1948 national championship team have been named among the 10 greatest basketball players in the history of College of Marin.

The Kentfield college's vice president, Paul "Dutch" Clymer, who has seen most of Marin's teams in action through the years, went out on the limb in the school's basketball brochure and selected an All-Time All-Star team.

Barksdale, who later starred in college and pro ranks, played at Marin in 1942. The three national champs on Clymer's dream squad of 10 are Herbie Jotter, Walt Moreno and Ray Snyder. Their feats a decade ago led the Cinderella Marin team to the national J.C. crown in Missouri.

Others selected by Clymer include Bob Burnett, 1936; Dave Mariani, 1939; Johnny Allen and Bob Alameida, 1940; Glenn Robinson, 1952 and Stan Wells from last season's squad.

WE DON'T know of any rule that says players must wear shoes in professional football, but it wouldn't be wise to go into battle bare-footed.

The discussion came up at the College of Marin football field the other day when Gordon Tovani, Marin's bare-foot place-kicker with cheeks of tan, was exhibiting his unique talents for a select audience that included Joe "The Toe" Vetrano, the former 49er ace booter, and Prescott Sullivan, the sports columnist.

After watching Tovani boot the pigskin from all angles, up to lengths of 45 yards, Vetrano admitted the 32-year-old Kentfielder has talent.

"He has all the movements and the pros might be able to use him," Vetrano, now a Cadillac salesman, admitted, "but, I'd suggest he try it with shoes on.

"He'd get more distance in the first place, Also, I'm afraid he wouldn't last long barefooted. If the players didn't 'get' him, I'm afraid George Halas (coach of the Chicago Bears) would manage to stop him someway. He'd probably throw tacks or glass out onto the field."

Tovani says he doesn't like to kick with shoes on. Says his big toe provides the power while his second and third toes serve as guides. "Unless I can find some extremely lightweight shoes, "I'm afraid I'd be no good," Gordon explained. "I've found most football shoes too heavy."

Tovani's exhibition amazed the small gathering at his "audition." Although he muffed quite a few kicks, he managed to impress everyone with good shots from 45 yards out and uncanny accuracy from angles.

Sullivan asked him to break the National Football League record of field goal of 53 yards, so Tovani tried from 55 yards, but failed on about 20 attempts, although many times he barely missed.

Vetrano tried and missed. Sullivan tried once and didn't get the ball off the ground.

Incidentally, Tovani kicks with his toes straight out, not curled up, as Vetrano first suspected. "Joe The Toe" got down on his hands and knees to examine Tovani's method and cringed when he saw the end of the toe smash the pigskin. "Ouch," he cried, "that even hurts to watch."

The party then broke up and encouraged by Vetrano's statement that "the pros might be able to use you," Tovani started thinking about finding a pair of shoes. He hustled right over to Free-Minetti Sports Shop in San Francisco to see if they could help him. If so, Gordy said he might try out for the 49ers next season.

The 49ers didn't draft him at Monday's pro meeting. Good thing. Everyone knows it's not healthy to get caught in a draft without your shoes on.

OREGON, MIAMI VIE TOMORROW IN TV GAME

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Brief workouts in the Orange Bowl stadium were scheduled today by Oregon and Miami as a tuneup for their final football game of the season Saturday afternoon.

Coach Len Casanova brought his 35-strong Oregon squad into Miami after midnight, but planned to have them limbering up by 3 p.m.

Miami Coach Andy Gustafson may preview against the Ducks an attack he plans to use next year in place of his powerful old friend, the drive series.

Kickoff time is 10:30 a.m., PST. The game will be televised nationally by NBC.

Sullivan Up To Old Tricks In Comeback

SAN BRUNO (AP)—Silky Sullivan's first attempt at a comeback is a success and he has not changed his style.

The big, handsome chestnut spotted eight other horses 12 lengths yesterday and then galloped home the winner by half a length in a six-furlong $4,000 allowance race at Tanforan.

His time was 1:10 3-5, second fastest at this meeting.

Silky, the darling of the come-from-behind clique, came from 29 lengths back in winning the Santa Anita Derby earlier this year but then pooped out in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Trainer Reggie Cornell returned him to California, had a throat operation performed and then worked him out on a misty beach at Half Moon Bay, near this San Francisco suburb.

A theory that a throat obstruction cause those slow starts apparently did not hold up, at least in this first comeback try. Silky seems to like doing it the hard way.

The 3-year-old son of Irisher Sullivan, owned by Phil Klippstein and Tom Ross, was booed when he pranced to the post. But the crowd of 8,951 cheered him at the finish.

Jockey Don Pierce, who brushed him once with the whip at the final turn, commented: "He's the most powerful horse I've had under me."

It was Silky's ninth victory in 19 starts and boosted his earnings to $131,975. Cornell hopes to enter him in the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity in January.

SFYC Election, Stag Dinner Set Tomorrow Night

Report of the nominating committee will be submitted by Chairman William R. Fisher. Committee members are William Selbach, Harry Birch, Charles Weinshank and Jim Daley.

LAKE MERRITT Sailing Club invites small boat racing assn. racers to its annual Mid-Winter Regatta Sunday. Registration will begin at the clubhouse in Oakland at 9 a.m. with the first race set for 11 a.m., and the second race at 2 p.m. Emmett Murphy is general chairman of the regatta.

Plans Announced For Crosby Golf

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Play in singer Bing Crosby's annual $50,000 pro-amateur golfing clambake was revised a bit today to give the amateurs a better shake.

Tournament director Larry Crosby announced that an even 300 golfers will participate in the event Jan. 15-18 at Pebble Beach, 20 more than heretofore.

The amateurs will play three rounds in as many days, instead of two. The professionals take over for the fourth and final day, as in the past.

For the first time, there will be simultaneous play on all three of the courses in the Monterey-Del Monte area each of the first three days.

Murtaugh Injured In Taxi Accident

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Daniel E. Murtaugh, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was injured slightly today when a car and the taxi in which he was riding collided at an intersection.

He was treated at a hospital for bruises of the right knee and head and sent home. No one else was injured.

Longden Back In Saddle At Tanfo

SAN BRUNO (AP) — Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, returns to racing today after being laid up with a broken leg since Sept. 7.

Rosburg Defeated In Playoff For Almaden Title

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., captured the $4,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament when he won a sudden-death playoff against favored Bob Rosburg yesterday.

The two men ended regulation play deadlocked at 212 each. On the extra hole, Duden carded a par five while Rosburg trapped two shots and finished up with a bogie six. Victory was worth $750 to Duden, a 29-year-old pro little known outside of his home area.

Jackie Pung, the Hawaiian woman pro star who was allowed to compete against the men, finished far down the list with 237.

Olson To Battle Bob Jones Dec. 16

FRESNO (UPI) — Carl (Bobo) Olson, one-time world middleweight champion has signed a contract for a 10-round bout in Fresno's Memorial Auditorium Dec. 16.

Olson's opponent will be veteran Bobby Jones of Oakland, a former state middleweight champion. Olson is on the comeback trail and has won his first two matches by knockouts as a light-heavyweight.

Notre Dame Scout Dies

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Lavelle, football scout and former Notre Dame guard, died yesterday at 52.

BOWLING

Team results: Swain Realty d. Marin Coffee Shop, 3-0; Bianco Motors d. Currie Heating, 3-0; Meyers Plumbing d. Marin Foreign Cars, 3-0; Roll and Son d. Moore's Candies, 2-1; Pelican Publishing d. The Patio, 2-1; The Cellars d. Strikers, 2-1.

Mails Greatest Baseball Preacher, Especially Helpful To Youngsters

CONNOLLY

There is bound to be a great difference of opinion on the issue, but I'll have to duck the yakking and get right down to my story that "The Great Mails" of the S.F. Giants, now in an Elko, Nev. hospital, would be my nominee. I don't know of a finer booster nor one who exerts a greater influence on baseball than the "Ole Duster" from our neighboring village, San Quentin.

Men like Mails come along once in a lifetime of baseball history. He doesn't please everybody, nor does he expect to accomplish miracles, but for a day-in-day-out preacher of the baseball gospel, Mails has done a swell job all over the state. Wherever he goes, Mails talks baseball. I'll bet that right now in the Elko hospital he has all the nurses and medicos line up for the Giant opening game in 1959. He's that kind of a fellow.

When I last saw Mails, the Great One outlined a terrific program for getting the ladies interested in baseball.

I DON'T KNOW a single player, active or retired, who would put himself out, like Mails, to help a boy through every phase of baseball.

The significant part of Mails as a baseball preacher is that he is hitting at the roots. He wants the youngsters to become baseball conscious. "Get the kids interested, teach them the rudiments of the sport," has always been his theme song.

Certainly no other preacher of baseball has any better claim to qualifying for a job like Mails has been holding down for the Giants. He speaks as the voice of experience. He played it, taught it, and is now preaching it.

Very few left-handed pitchers fared any better down through the years as Mails did as a performer.

He rose to the heights as a southpaw pitcher with Brooklyn and later with the Cleveland Indians when he was credited with pitching them to a World Series.

IN THE PACIFIC COAST League Mails has ranked with the great southpaws of the circuit. He was fast, adventurous and just wild enough to earn the respect of any batter who faced him. All of his wild pitches were not graciously accepted and for that reason he became known as the "Duster," which, in the parlance of the sport, is one who occasionally shoots at a batter.

"I never in my life ever tried to hit a batter," Mails often told me. "I only piched close to them to keep them from taking a toe hold and perhaps driving the pill over the fence."

Just before he left San Francisco for the eastern baseball meetings, Garry Schumacher, chief of the Giants' public relations staff, told me the club was worried over Mails.

I CONFIRMED the condition of Mails last Sunday when I called Elko and tried to get to talk with Walter.

"He wants to talk to you," said the nurse, on the phone, "but my instructions from the doctors is not to allow him the use of the phone."

So Mails must be pretty exhausted. I have never known him to duck a conversation. So he must be feeling offshore.

I have known many former baseball players who say they got more out of helping kids than they did in listening to their managers. But I only know ONE GUY who did it, and that is Walter Mails.

Full Prep Cage Schedule On Marin Courts Tonight

S.R.-Novato, Marin-Tam Top Slate

High school basketball begins in earnest this evening as all seven Marin County school teams see action on local courts.

In the feature game of the evening, San Rafael High hosts the Novato Hornets in the new Bulldog gym. Each squad is rated as a contender for its section's title, in the North Bay League, and the clash should be a close one.

Novato's guard Ron Marder is the only non-gridder on the squad, and has been called by Coach Fielding Reese one of his most improved players. Joining Marder on the Hornet starting five will be Jack Sparrow at center, George Gnoss and Jud Bird at forwards, and Pete Ferrarese at the other guard slot.

Marin County footballer of the year, Ron Snidow, opens at center for the Bulldogs. Randy Petrini and Terry Tevis are the forwards and Mike Curry and John Blomquist the guards.

As might be expected in the first big game of the season, the coaches are overly pessimistic. San Rafael's Bob Lincoln feels Novato will be very tough, as the entire Hornet team returned from last year, no doubt improved. He feels his Bulldogs are coming along slowly but have a long way to go.

BULLDOGS TOUGH

Novato's Reese would call a Hornet victory a "major upset" since the Bulldogs have an awfully tough team this year.

The Class B game will start at 7 with the varsity to follow around 8:15. Fred Hines' San Rafael tumbling team will give an exhibition at half time of the varsity clash.

The Class B preliminary game will start at 7:30 and the varsity at 8:45.

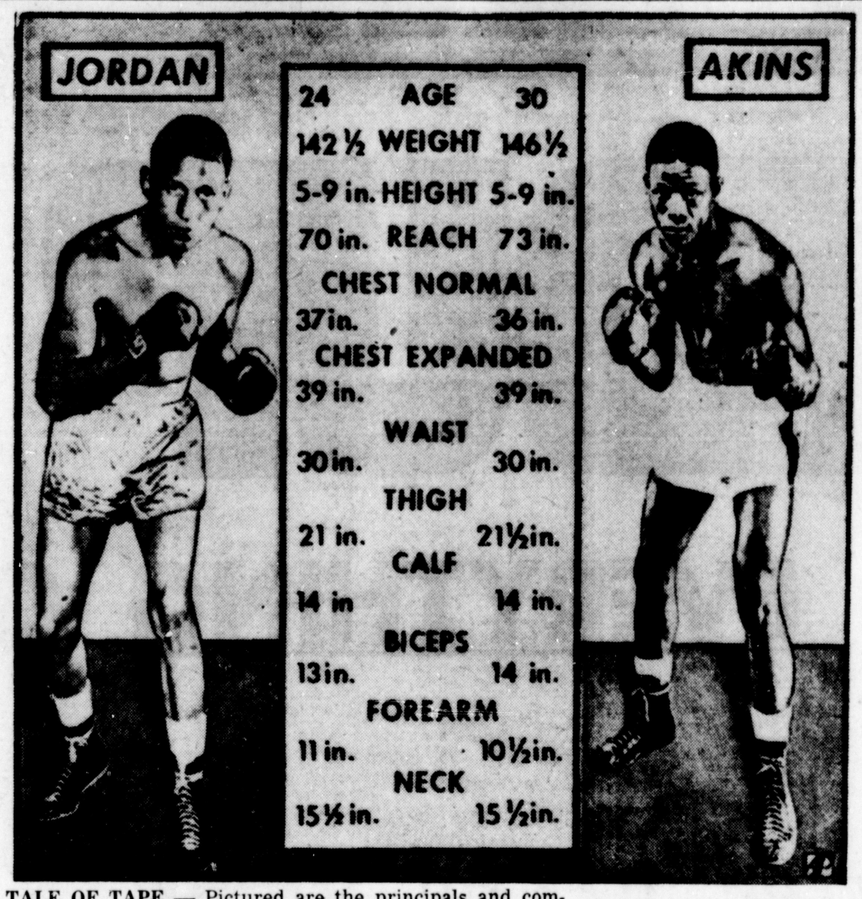

OTHER GAMES

In the other Marin games, Lowell High of San Francisco meets Drake and San Mateo High travels to Redwood. Both the B games start at 7:30 with the varsity to follow around 8:45.

Drake will be playing with an all-senior no-letterman squad. Coach Bob Fitzhenry feels that starting from scratch, the squad has improved tremendously since the start of practice. Darryl Sattui, 6-7 gridder, opens at center for the Pirates. Mike Klapak and Dick Spackman will be at forwards, with Dan Giles and Dick Llewellyn at guard.

Up north, Tomales High will play its annual game with the school's alumni. Game time is set for 7:30 in the Tomales gym.

On the junior college front Coach Cal Riemcke's College of Marin Tars trek to Serra High School in San Mateo to tackle San Mateo J. C.'s Bulldogs starting at 8 o'clock.

Bums Trade Gino Cimoli To Cardinals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals acquired a new center fielder and hired an "old pro" as their pitching coach on the final day of the annual baseball meetings.

Wally Moon was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Gino Cimoli, and Howie Pollet agreed to return to baseball as the Cardinals' pitching coach.

Moon, the National League's "Rookie of the Year" in 1954, batted only .238 in 108 games for the Cardinals last season. Cimoli wasn't much better at the plate, hitting .246 in 109 games.

As part of the deal, the Cardinals turned over Phil Paine, a pitcher on their Omaha farm club, to the Dodgers. Because the Dodgers have no room on their 40-man roster for Paine, they assigned the former Milwaukee Braves' pitcher to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League.

7 GAMES ON TAP

Marin CYO Opens 20th Cage Season Tomorrow

Catholic Youth Organization's annual Marin County basketball tournament gets under way for its 20th season tomorrow with seven games slated at St. Raphael's and St. Vincent's school gyms.

The usually strong St. Raphael's teams of Coach Lou Freitas will be unveiled in 70, 90, 100 and 120-pound divisions with the 90-pounders beginning festivities against St. Vincent's at 9:30 a.m. on their home court. Following this opening tilt, St. Patrick's of Larkspur will turn its teams loose in the other divisions with the strong hope that 70's and 100's can register upset wins. The Larkspur lads have had considerable drilling at Redwood High gym the past few weeks under coaches Bill Purtell, Herman Feutsch, Walter Moreno and Don Andrich. St. Raphael's 120's are obviously one of the best squads in the county and figure to win their game. A number of their players were members of last year's 100-pound archdiocesan CYO champions.

At St. Vincent's gym, the 70, 80 and 100-pounders will host Larry Walsh's St. Rita's teams from Fairfax starting at 9:15 a.m. The visitors are still in the development stage, but anticipate providing more serious opposition as the season progresses. Father Joseph O'Connell, Bill Coleman, Ed Gallagher and John Kuntz have been directing the St. Vincent's pre-tournament practice sessions.

'Country Christmas On Tuesday For Focus Luncheon At Rickey's

Festive, old-fashioned, and fun will be Tuesday's special holiday fashion show luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael honoring the Friends of Arequipa as Grace Graham of Kentfield says "Make Mine a Country Christmas."

Echoing her sentiments will be eight attractive models, representing the Hawthorne, Madrone, Sequoia and Cascade units of the Friends of Arequipa busy with palns to help the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. bring a sparkling Christmas to the county's handicapped citizens.

Snowy boughs, cranberry garlands, bright packages and jingling bells will put guests in the mood for a country holiday with familiar Christmas carols to lift the spirits of the tired Christmas shopper!

Colorful fashions to go "over the river and through the wood," to the ski slope or by the fireside will be in the Grace Graham collection to whirl a yuletide spirit from early morning to a late holiday evening. Dashing tapers with gay cumberbunds, soft cashmeres to team with imported skirts, luscious silks, and warm coats for chilly nights offer gift suggestions to thoughtful Santas.

The Salon of San Rafael will add their holiday touch to the model's hair and Beauty Counselors will perform Christmas make-up magic.

All set for a country holiday on Tuesday are models Mrs. Len Ravoni and Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw of the Sequoia unit; Mrs. Dan Sweeney and Mrs. Frank Stolte from the Sycamore unit. Mrs. Herman Feutsch and Mrs. Douglas Duncan from the Madrone unit and Mrs. James Conley and Mrs. Walter Moreno of the Hawthorne unit complete the list of models.

Reservations for "Make Mine a Country Christmas" may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

32 Pupils Give Recital At College

The Marin County Branch of the Music Teachers Assn. of California presented the first of its 1958-59 series of recitals recently at the College of Marin.

Thirty-two students of music played a program ranging from first grade pieces to the music of Chopin and Mozart. Eight studios were represented including those of Marion Colburn, Viola Gottschalk, Barbara McKenzie, Daisy Saville, Sibyl Schneller, Henrietta Trusty, Lucille Zentner and Charles Orgibet who is chairman of the series.

KAY MILLEN HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

A bridal shower was given recently by Mrs. Peter Cambouris (Jane Diefenbach) and Mrs. Ross Rogers (Adair Wilson) at the San Anselmo home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, honoring Katharine Millen.. Kay will become the bride of Charles von Damm on Dec. 20 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Millen of San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Albert von Damm of Los Gatos are parents of the future benedict.

Mrs. Rogers, whose home is in Reno, will be matron of honor at the wedding. Mrs. Cambouris was to have been a bridesmaid but she left on Saturday to join her husband who is in the Navy and stationed at Norfolk, Va. She was also to have been a bridesmaid at the wedding of Barbara Shaul and George E. Voorhees which will be an event of Dec. 14 at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

A number of those invited to the party for Kay were unable to attend.

Yule Cookie Carnival Set For Dec. 13

Homemade cookies made from unusual and old-fashioned recipies will be featured at the Holiday Cookie Carnival scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 13 at the Latter Day Saints Chapel at Greenbrae between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The women of the church Relief Society are baking an assortment of cookies, all made with butter, for purchase in bulk or in gaily decorated gift packages for Christmas giving, along with Pioneer steam pudding, holiday cakes, breads and other tasty reminders of fragrant old-fashioned kitchens.

Children will be entertained at the carnival by performances of the Berkeley puppeteers who have planned puppet shows for 10:30 and 12:30 o'clock. Also scheduled for the children is a cookie tree, decorated with gingerbread men, popcorn balls, lollipops and Christmas cookies.

There will be booths of homemade candies and candied nuts, a gourmet bar of jams and jellies, and a special botique of Christmas candles, stockings, gay cookie jars and assorted gift items. And to make sure that there is something for all, the committee is planning to serve a plate lunch featuring turkey sandwiches on homemade rolls, cranberry sauce, and a choice of deserts including chocolate cake, mince-meat tarts, cookies and other delicacies.

The committee is headed by Mrs. James Jackson, general chairman, and includes Mesdames Max Kimball, decorations, Earl Trottier, publicity and William Deaver, ways and means.

Elaborate Scenery Designed For Show

Interest is growing daily in the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.'s original musical comedy, "Sweet Executive" which will be presented next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 o'clock at the Alcazar Theater.

The play's sets have been designed by a talented member of the Junior League, Mrs. Wade Dickinson, who has also done the art work on the sets. Mrs. William Stephens has been in charge of volunteers, raw materials and all other details that go with building the scenery for an elaborate musical show whose scenes include a Chinese cookie factory, a spacious sun deck of a Tahoe house, the dining room of one of San Francisco's major hotels and a North Beach barroom.

Among those working on this committee have been Mesdames Dexter C. Tight, Willis A. Bussard, Lawrence D. Blair, (chandelier chairman), Atherton Phleger, J. Peter Cahill, William Orrick, Donald de Carle, Henry Rolph, Preston K. Covey, Robert Hogan and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Cogswell.

Mrs. William Mosden is properties chairman and with the acquisition of an enormous gold framed portrait of a league member's grandfather has collected all the fascinating necessities for the show.

Tickets are on sale through the Sherman Clay box office but the choice is getting slim with Friday night offering the best remaining seats.

Mrs. Bari Frohlich Will Entertain Following Concert

Mrs. Bart Frohlich will entertain at her Fairhills home after the Bay Area Ballet Concert on Sunday.

Honored guests will be the ballet company's directors and choreographers, Leona Norman, Carolyn Parks and Vern Nerden and James Graham-Lujan, artistic director; Richard Parks, president of the Bay Area Ballet Assn; Charles Orgibet, secretary - treasurer; Guilleromo Del Oro, regisseur; Robert Shaw, company photographer and Herbett Hilchey, scenic designer.

Among other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Babo of Novato; Sen. and Mrs. John McCarthy of San Rafael; Mrs. Lukul Wilder and the well-known San Francisco artist, Wing.

Religious Cards

Fathers Hear Address By Dr. Guthrie

Gynecologist Dr. Joseph Guthrie spoke Tuesday to 25 fathers of children enrolled in the Twin Cities Cooperative Nursery School, in a program especially arranged for the fathers. This marked a switch, since mothers generally attend the Tuesday night sessions.

Dr. Guthrie explained, in terms of gonadotropic differences, the essential differences between men and their mates, and how these differences, properly observed, can aid in making a marriage more successful.

He cautioned men to remember, too, that women between the ages of 35 and 50 are prone to cancer, and warned of the need for periodic physical checkups, adding that this is a good idea for men too. Dr. Guthrie reiterated that early cancer detection makes possible real cancer cures.

2 Will Perform For Garden Group

The Garden Group of Novato Community Club will feature two Novatans, Mrs. Charles (Marian) Wells and Mrs. Robert Merritt at its annual Christmas dinner at Novato Joe's Monday at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Wells will read Edna St. Vincent's Millay's "The Harp Weaver" and "Albert and the Lion" by Stanley Holloway. Mrs. Merritt will tell the story of "The Man Who Missed Christmas" which she wrote for radio presentation several years ago.

In addition there will be the singing of Christmas carols and Mrs. D. N. Ruhlman will lead the club in an unusual exchange of Christmas gifts.

Plastic Bag Care

NEW YORK (UPI)—Polyethylene bags, used to store garments, should not be sealed. Differences in temperatures inside and outside the bag can cause moisture condensation.

Business Club Slates Yule Dinner Meet

The Rev. John David Alexander of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will deliver the Christmas message at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County on Tuesday night, Dec. 9, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

The Christmas meeting of the club is always one of the highlights of the year and it is traditional that the A Cappella Choir of College of Marin, under the direction of Clinton Lewis, sings. Members will exchange gifts and a Christmas theme will be carried out in decorations.

Anita Meyer is chairman and Hortense Buck co-chairman. On their committee are Helen Hickman and Edith Gray.

Final Plans Made For Holiday Party

Final plans have been made for the annual Christmas Tree Party for children of Dominican College alumnae members on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Meadowlands on the Dominican campus in San Rafael.

Among those attending with their children are Mesdames Henry B. Grandin Jr., of Ross; Frank I. Ford Jr., Eugene Sweeney and Arthur Latno Jr., Arthur Goett Jr., all of San Rafael and James G. Dreier of Kentfield.

Mrs. Arthur S. Lull is chairman for the party.

FOR CHILDREN

Alpha Chi Omegas To Present Socks

Mrs. W. A. Lewis' San Rafael home was turned into an approximation of Santa's workshop when Marin County Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae gathered there recently to construct 150 red nylon socks.

Candy canes, toys and brightly wrapped candies were put into the socks which are to be presented to guests at United Cerebral Palsy's Christmas Party for crippled children. The Sunday affair will take place at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. Fred Tegeler, president, announced that the December meeting will be a party on Dec. 17 to be held at the home of Mrs. Lowell Jett, 60 Alta Vista avenue, Mill Valley, at 8 p.m. Members will bring white elephants for a silent auction, and there will be games and singing.

Attending the workshop luncheon were Mesdames Dale Norton of Greenbrae; E. P. Grilli of Corte Madera; L. L. Lovett, Leon Hunsaker, Charles Oldenburg, Kenneth Dorking and Mrs. Tegeler of San Rafael; W. B. Manuel, Alexander Myers, William New of San Anselmo; Jack Countryman and Thomas Rappsilber of Novato; and M. F. Goodrich, Rovelle Ridel and Mrs. Jett of Mill Valley.

Novato Church Women Plan Monday Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Novato Community Methodist Church will hold its general monthly meeting Monday, Dec. 8, at the church starting at 8 p.m. A Christmas program on the theme "Everywhere, Everywhere, Christmas Tonight," will be directed by Mrs. Mark Wills.

The devotion will be led by Mrs. Lowell Swift and the music will be provided by Mrs. Ray Laird and Mrs. Frank Phillips.

Also participating in the service will be Mesdames James Helmick, William Halpenny and J. E. Esping.

Group Of Women Complete Brownie Basic Training Class

In the course of training they learned songs, games, functioning of the Troop Committee, long term planning, dramatics and the aims and beliefs of the Girl Scout program. Mrs. John Coulter, Novato, was the song instructor and Mrs. Donald Adams, San Anselmo, demonstrated the things which could be done with impromptu dramatics.

Catholic Aid Installation On Dec. 9

Branch 24, Catholic Ladies Aid Society of San Rafael, will have installation of officers at a potluck luncheon at St. Raphael's Hall on Tuesday, Dec. 9. The installation will be conducted by Mrs. Milton Smialkowski, grand president, and Mrs. Arthur Hughes, grand marshal. The branch is affiliated with Marin County Council, National Council of Catholic Women and San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild of America.

Installed will be Mesdames Charles M. Johnson, president; Cornelius Burns, senior vice president; Florence Kite, junior vice president; Sydney Harris, marshal; Clara Duffy, past president; Joseph Codoni, recording secretary; Maude Rains, financial secretary; Ann Malone, treasurer; Katherine Zanoni, guard; Ann Shields, musician; and the members of the executive committee Mesdames Eugene O'Connor, Tekichle Cliff, Mary McCurdy, Helen Ring and Miss Mary Peter.

Mrs. Johnson, who is deputy grand president for Branch 23 of Petaluma, attended its installation with a group of San Rafael members.

As has been the custom for many years, the San Rafael branch is giving a program and party for residents of Lucas Valley Farm on Sunday, Dec. 14. Mrs. Irving Hobbs, chairman, says that the St. Raphael's School carol group will sing as will the Sweet Adeliners, under the direction of Mrs. Rad Ingram. Accordion pupils from the Maggiolo Studio will also entertain.

THE FAIR OPENS today and will be held from 4 to 10 p.m., and will continue tomorrow from 10 to 4 p.m. Dinner will be served this evening at 6 o'clock. The event will be held in the Christian Education Building. Left to right, are Mesdames Harry Cordone, LaVerne Hulbert and Lloyd Sisson.

Mrs. Cruikshank Will Address Sausalito Club

Mrs. Richard Cruikshank will present a talk before the Garden Section of the Sausalito Woman's Club on Thursday, Dec. 11, at 10:30 a.m. emphazing "Christmas Garlands, Wreaths and Swags" in the traditional manner and she will also demonstrate new ideas in Christmas decorations along the modern lines as well as showing what can be done with those obsolete hula hoops.

Her lecture will be illustrated with the actual making of wreaths and garlands and also show what can be done with other garden materials than the traditional greens and berries in decorating the house for Christmas.

Mrs. Merrell Sisson, chairman of the garden section, announces there will be a change of date for the January meeting. It will be held on Jan. 22 instead of Jan. 15 in order not to conflict with the program meeting of the Club.

TWA Clipped Wings Club Plans Buffet

The TWA Clipped Wings Club will hold a cocktail and buffet dinner party on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pinkham in Hillsboro, San Mateo.

Mrs. William E. Searle of Mill Valley may be contacted for further information.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Nancy Parsons, David Williams

Pink chrysanthemums were at the altar of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Savior for the recent wedding of Nancy Lee Parsons of San Francisco and David Reece Williams III of Lancaster, S.C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laird Parsons of San Francisco, formerly of Del Mesa. The benedict's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. Reese Williams of Lancaster who were here for the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over blush pink Italian silk fashioned with scoop neckline and short sleeves. Scalloped lace was detailed on the neck and hemline of the gown. Her blush pink illusion veil was fastened to a half cap of Chantilly lace and she carried a white prayer book with lilies of the valley and roses.

Mary Peyton Darling of Mill Valley as maid of honor, wore a lavender peau de soie gown styled with scoop neckline and short sleeves. A bow was used for back interest and she had a matching lavender hat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Williams served his son as best man and ushers were G. Thomas Parsons Jr., San Francisco, and Norval MacDonald of Fairfax.

The Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito was the setting for the reception for 100 guests following the ceremony. Pink flowers were used in the decorations.

Nancy is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the Colorado Woman's College in Denver.

The bridegroom attended Georgia Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs and is now studying law at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C.

He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Wedding Rite Being Planned For Fall '59

The engagement of Catherine Abbott Moretti and Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham III has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ramon Moretti of San Rafael. The young couple will be married next fall. The future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. of San Rafael.

The bride-elect, who has two sisters, Mrs. William Fagan of Novato and Anne Moretti, who attends Mills College, was a student at Dominican Convent and Castilleja, from which she was graduated. She also studied at Willamette University in Oregon. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henry Dixon of Tracy.

Her fiance is the grandson of Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont and the late Mr. Dollar and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hinkingbotham. His great grandfather, the late Capt. Robert Dollar, was known as the dean of West Coast shipping. Heidi Hickingbotham is his only sister. He was graduated from Menlo School for Boys.

SEEK SHUT-INS

Peninsula Singers Society Plans Evening Of Caroling

If you reside on the Tiburon Peninsula and would like to be serenaded at home with Christmas Carols or if you would like to join the caroling group, the Peninsula Singers Society will be glad to oblige.

As in the past the group, which is directed by Les Blackmore, is planning an evening of caroling and would like to know especially of shut-in who are unable to attend programs where Christmas music is featured. Rehearsal will be held Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 8 p.m. at the Blackmores' home in Belvedere.

The group which is now in its fourth year meets every other week, and, in order to suit the tastes of all participants, sings both light ballads and classics. They have performed at various occasions such as Reed District Parent-Teachers' Club meetings and a small group sang at the opening of the Tiburon Playhouse.

Anyone interested in joining the group or being serenaded should contact Mrs. Robert Williams in Tiburon.

20-30ettes Slate Holiday Gatherings

The San Rafael 20-30ettes will hold their annual Christmas party at the home of the Alan Pedrolis on Dec. 10 when a buffet supper will be served and gifts exchanged.

A Christmas party for children of members will take place at the Richard Peterson home on Dec. 20 and Santa Claus will be there to present a gift to each child. Refreshments will be served.

The group will also sell wreaths at the Christmas tree lot operated by the San Rafael 20-30 Club on Fourth street in San Rafael between D and E streets. The wreaths will be both plain and decorated. Proceeds will go to charity. Chairman of the wreath sale is Mrs. Donald McCabe.

Patricia Schneider Weds S. A. Kacharos

The bride is the former Patricia Schneider, daughter of the H. E. Schneiders of Mill Valley, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kacharos of Mill Valley.

Matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Dennis De Sousa of Strawberry, and bridesmaids were two other sisters, Martha and Susan Schneider, and Jill Cerwin and Carol Murphy, all of Mill Valley.

Barbara Woodward and Linda Tillman of Mill Valley were flower girls, and the bride's twin brothers, Bobbie and Roger Hargreaves were ring bearers.

Best man was Alvin Leandro of Mill Valley, and serving as ushers were Michael Doyle of Santa Rosa, and Clarence Englebright, John Ryan and Robert Johnson of Mill Valley.

Both of the young people were graduated from Tamalpais High School.

The benedict is a member of the Marine Reserves and is employed by the Dumont Manufacturing Corp. in San Rafael. He is the brother of Mrs. Clarence Englebright of Mill Valley and Peter A. Kacharos of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Eschelman Is Speaker At Meeting

Mrs. Byron Eschelman gave a talk and showed color slides of a vacation in the New England states at the recent meeting of the San Quentin Parent-Teachers Assn.

Mrs. J. K. Whearty presided for the meeting. Reports were made by the treasurer and the mmebership and hospitality chairmen.

Grief-Stricken Dad Warns Against Bad Neighborhood For Children

"Let me warn other parents," writes a grief-stricken father, "not to raise their children in bad neighborhoods. Our son was arrested for attempted murder. He is 15. He stabbed another boy in a gang fight. When we moved here three years ago he was a good boy. Now he is as vicious as they come. He has had only evil companions here. Our daughter is 13. Today we learned that she is a sex delinquent. So are all the girls in her gang. We came here to be nearer my work. It was the mistake of our lives. Do you agree that neighborhoods are terribly important?"

Yes, I agree. Move good boys or girls into places where they have bad companions, and they deteriorate. They must be bad too, if they're to survive. I've seen it happen over and over again.

While they're little our children depend chiefly upon us. They spend most of their time at home. Our approval or disapproval matters a lot. Our opinions are more important than their playmates' opinions. Until they're 7 or 8 good children often can stay good, even in a bad neighborhood. That's not true after they get to be 9 or 10. Our influence wanes. The gang becomes all-important. If their pals steal, they steal. If their friends drink, they drink. If their bunch has sex parties, they participate.

Please move promptly. Try to set up a good home in a nice neighborhood. If your boy is returned to you, arrange expert counseling for him. The juvenile court officials will help you do it. Get similar counseling for your girl. They both have had a shock. Perhaps now they're ready to change. Give them a chance. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

B.S. "I don't see why high schools don't kick out a larger number of the delinquent, troublemaking students who plague the teachers. Will you enlighten me?"

REPLY. Many school officials would like to expel them. They don't for two reasons. One is the long tradition among educators to keep trying with bad pupils. They hate to give up. The other is the public pressure which comes on school officials after they expel a pupil. No matter how bad the student may have been, he becomes a martyr in the eyes of many people.

Flash Fire Fatal To 10 In Delaware

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Nine children and an adult perished last night when a kerosene stove exploded and a flash fire destroyed their rural home.

Six of the children were brothers and sisters.

Three others—two adults and a child—were injured. Firemen found them coming down a road from the isolated home, searching for help. The child is in critical condition.

When two volunteer fire departments from four miles away reached the two-story frame house, in central Delaware about 15 miles from here, it was almost destroyed.

Fifteen Negroes, all related, lived in the house, which had neither electricity nor running water.

Insurance Plan Drive Renewed

The California Employers and Employees Assn. is renewing its drive for enrollments in the organization and its group medical and disability insurance plans.

The insurance plans grew out of two editorials in the Independent - Journal several years ago pointing out the need for insurance to cover major medical expenses, and a subsequent study by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

First enrollments under the plans were taken last spring. More than 700 persons have enrolled to date, according to B. (Dutch) Arnold of San Rafael, Marin representative.

Three Win Prizes At Burns Open House

First prize in a drawing in connection with the 50th anniversary open house of F. C. Burns Florist at 1230 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, Sunday went to Sharon Filipelli of 70 Eliseo drive, San Rafael, Burns announced today. She won a flocked Christmas tree.

Second prize, an imported Oriental plant container, went to Mrs. Ruth Krough of 247 Sequoia drive, San Anselmo. Winner of third prize, Christmas table decoration, was Mrs. R. F. Cuthbert, 48 Rafael drive, San Rafael.

'58 Crusade Likely To Fall Short Of Goal

Bay Area United Crusade leaders forecast yesterday afternoon that their 1958 fund drive will total $10,120,000—86 per cent of its goal and about $200,000 less than last year's collections.

At a meeting of the "one big give" organization's executive committee, general campaign chairman W. W. Davison said contributions in five counties now total $9,573,372, but solicitations not yet completed are expected to account for another 5 per cent of the $11,750,000 goal.

Davison termed the expected achievement a "respectable effort," when compared with performance of other united funds around the nation, but still not adequate for the Bay Area, whose increasing numbers of residents need more help from the Crusade's health, welfare and youth agencies.

Two hundred community fund drives completed so far report campaigns 1½ per cent better than last year, on the average, Davison said. But the Bay Area Crusade's final production is expected to be about 2 per cent less than was raised here last year.

"Anyone who has not contributed—or any donor who wishes to give more—can provide a very important help right now," Davison went on. He urged such people in Marin to mail their donations to the Crusade at 801 B street, San Rafael.

Center Boulevard Job Nearly Done

Resurfacing of Center boulevard in San Anselmo will be completed next week, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer said today. Traffic has been rerouted since work began on Nov. 20.

The $14,000 project has included raising the edges of the road so that there is a less pronounced crown and applying a two-inch capping. The resurfaced portion extends from the Fairfax city line to Madrone avenue. The contractor is Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera. Money for the job came from state gasoline tax funds.

Labor Council Has Sympathy For Organizing Move

The Marin County Labor Council has expressed sympathy with the organizing efforts of Laundry Workers Local 26 of San Francisco, although the local is not affiliated with the Marin council, reported Hugh Cassidy, the council's secretary-treasurer.

Congressman-elect Clement W. Miller will attend the labor council's meeting on Dec. 17, announced Leonard Wessell, council president.

Birds Brighten Up Novato Realty Office

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

People who enter the Robert Campbell realty office in Novato these days are doing a fast double take and wondering if they've accidentally turned the wrong doorknob.

The reason? Birds.

In Campbell's display window at 1112 Grant avenue are perched a pair of, blue and gold Central American macaws. And inside the office, which has taken on the appearance of an aviary, are a couple of caged Australian cockatoos.

The macaws arrived from Manila two weeks ago with their owner, Campbell's brother, Jerome, who decided the birds would dress up the office a bit. Jerome Campbell, now associated with the realty firm, is displaying the cockatoos with the consent of a friend who owns them.

The 5-year-old pair have a vocabulary of 50 or 60 words and can put together short sentences such as "Hello there, friends" or "Turn on the water."

"It's amazing how attached you become to them," Campbell says. "More so than a dog or cat. After all, they call you by name! These two birds call me 'Father.' They're wonderfully entertaining pets."

Campbell, who has spent the past 12 years in South and Central America and the Far East, obtained the birds when they were very young orphans. They were sold to him by a Central American Indian.

Life expectancy of a macaw is 60 years or more, with many living to the ripe old age of 90 or 100, he said.

That's another thing Campbell likes about his pets. "These birds, purchased at the proper age, are going to live right along with you—or outlive you."

The male macaw is named S.T., after a Chinese friend of Campbell's named Su Tu. The female answers (loudly) to Renee.

Campbell operated an insurance business in the Far East, maintaining offices (and home) in Guam and Manila and traveling regularly to Hong Kong, Taipei, Seoul and Tokyo. At his home in Guam he has an aviary with about 60 birds.

He had to obtain a federal permit to bring the 31-inch-long macaws into the United States. It's permissible to bring in two birds if the same owner has had them four months prior to entry.

The cockatoos are much smaller birds, with rose colored breasts, light pink crests and dove-gray wings. They're too young (aged 2) to talk yet, but in a few more years they'll be having weighty discussion with the macaws.

Campbell says cockatoos are very common in Australia, where they're considered a pest because, like crows, they infest grain fields. Austrialian farmers destroy them by poisoning them.

Campbell and his wife, Lois, are living at 1411 Cambridge street, Novato. He likes North Marin but still refers to Manila and Guam as "home."

"Right now," he says, "I'm homesick and cold, and I don't know which bothers me the most."

Nixon Cinch For Nod, Says Knowland

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland said today he can't see how Vice President Richard M. Nixon can miss being California's choice for the GOP presidential nomination ni 1960.

1. He should not be counted in any "stop Nixon" movement.

GOOD PROGRAM

2. He thinks the rebuild-the-GOP plan spelled out by Nixon and 15 California Republican leaders is a good program.

3. California Republicans have a "great opportunity to rebuild from the grassroots" in the coming months because they have no statewide election contests in 1960 and can concentrate on legislative and congressional races. This year the GOP was shattered by its split over the gubernatorial and senatorial nominations.

HARMONY LIKELY

4. The absence of such a contest increases the likelihood of harmony in the state's presidential convention delegation.

5. President Eisenhower, with whom he conferred yesterday, has long understood that Knowland has no interest in an appointive job and therefore has offered none.

The 50-year-old legislator—defeated for California's governorship by Democrat Edmund Brown—was tanned and relaxed after a 16-day ocean voyage from California. He grinningly made it plain he has no plans other than retackle his job as assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, the family-owned newspaper.

Of the five largest cities in the country, Los Angeles alone showed an increase in marriages in 1957.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

$38,000 Mail Robbery

SONORA (UPI)—Police in this Mother Lode community needed less than 24 hours to solve a $38,500 mail robbery. They found the culprits at the local grade school.

Two girls, aged 9 and 11, yesterday admitted fishing half a dozen brown envelopes out of a mail box in front of the post office. The envelopes contained several hundred checks.

Police Chief Mervin Ballwanz turned the girls over to county probation officers after recovering all but about $2,200 worth of the checks. The girls said they did not try to cash any of them.

The two young bandits told officers they hoped to "get something good" out of the mail box and were a little disappointed with the checks.

Actor In Hospital

The veteran performer was taken to the hospital Monday for major surgery and was said to be making a good recovery.

Scarlett's A Grandma

LONDON (AP) — Scarlett O'Hara became a grandma today.

"It's divine," gasped actress Vivien Leigh, now 45 but still about as beautiful as when she starred in the movie of "Gone With the Wind."

Dying Rocket Seen?

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Two U.S. Air Force men reported today that they sighted what may have been the dying rocket of Russian Sputnik III.

First Lt. Julian Miller, 24, Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Airman 3/c Frank T. Waters, 22, Denver, Colo., said they saw a brilliant flash and an orange-pink fireball at very high altitude about 2:58 a.m.

"It was moving faster than any plane and I watched until it disappeared," said Waters, attached to the 6431st Operations Squadron. "It didn't fall or go straight down. It was moving across the sky in an angle. As it moved, small parts seemed to fall behind, like it was breaking up."

The Russian rocket was launched May 15 to boost the 2,925-pound Sputnik III into orbit. Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory scientists had earlier predicted the 92-foot rocket was plunging into the earth's atmosphere.

Airliner With 21 Gone

MADRID (AP) — Bad weather throughout central Spain today postponed an air search for a Spanish airliner missing with 21 persons aboard.

The four-engine commercial plane left Vigo, northwest Spain, at 4:43 a.m. yesterday and was due in Madrid at 6:30. Its last report, at 5:30, said it was over Salamanca, 100 miles northwest of Madrid, and was having trouble with its communication equipment.

Those aboard all apparently were Spanish.

West In New Proposal

GENEVA (AP)—The West today proposed an international control system to keep permanent check on the ground forces of all nations.

The proposal to the 10-nation conference on ways to prevent surprise attacks was made by Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh of Britain. It followed a U.S. plan to block unexpected attacks by long-range aircraft and missiles.

New UNESCO Chief

Leaves 200 Million

Most of this huge fortune in the form of shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., was divided between the Kettering Foundation and a separate philanthropic trust. Details of the division were not disclosed in the will filed yesterday in Montgomery County Probate Court.

Kettering died Nov. 25.

Jailbreaker Courteous

"Sheriff, I'm sorry to take the step I'm taking, but my wife has filed suit for divorce and it's important to me that I see her immediately. I hope you understand."

The escapee, John Sickles, 31, Columbus, Ohio, was being held on a contempt of court charge for nonsupport.

Civil Rights Split Pops Up At Demo Party Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North-South Democratic split over civil rights was underscored at a party credential hearing called today. One Southerner called National Chairman Paul M. Butler a troublemaker and said he should be removed.

Butler's friends on the National Committee expressed confidence that Butler, who favors a strong civil rights plank in the party's 1960 platform, would ride out any ouster or censure move in a full committee session tomorrow. Butler himself told a reporter he not heard of any formal move against him.

Today's hearing, before a National Committee credentials group, was to receive rival claims of Camille F. Gravel Jr. and Jett M. Talbot to Louisiana's National Committee post. Gravel is the incumbent. Civil rights and party rules are involved in the dispute.

Committeeman Gravel was removed by the Louisiana State Committee because segregationist leaders in the party said he was out of step with Louisiana's stand on civil rights. Gravel has said segregation is morally wrong but that as a practical proposition integration is not for Louisiana.

Gravel, who supported the national party's civil rights plank in 1956, has refused to step down. He is challenging the State Committee to oust him and name Talbot in his place. Northern leaders support him on this, holding only the National Committee can remove a member between national conventions.

Both Gravel and Talbot were here for the meeting. It was the latter's counsel, W. M. Shaw of Homer, La., who attacked Butler and issued a brief saying National Committee members in his state are selected by the state central committee and serve at the pleasure of the state committee.

PLEASE!
DON'T BUY OUR HOME

Say Linda and Susan. We love it here and our home has so many lovely features. Mommie makes the best meals in her ALL ELECTRIC KITCHEN and in the evening we love to sit around our extra large fire place with the real copper hood. We have beautiful landscaping outside too and a nice patio to play on. With three bedrooms, weatherstripping, insulation and central heating, we think our daddy is giving it away for only $23,950.

HAVE HOUSE —

South when it is sold, say the owners of this two bedroom home. Why not see this lovely home on a nice quiet street with a country atmosphere. See the home with the pleasing colors in every room to match your personality. The central heating system will keep you warm all through the winter and its patio is just right for outdoor living in the summer. The living room, dining room, kitchen and bedrooms are all on one floor for your added convenience and the price is so right too. Only $17,-000.00.

KENT WOODLANDS

This home combines the luxury of five bedrooms plus rumpus room all on one floor artistically designed for ease of entertainment. There is easy excess from all areas of the home to the lovely 40 ft. heated swimming pool. The landscaping is designed for ease of maintenance with an accent on out-door living. Nothing has been omitted including the indoor and outdoor barbecues three flagstone fireplaces, rumpus room with built-in bar. Separate maid's quarters. $98,500.00.

Greenbrae Yule Party Tomorrow

The Greenbrae Improvement Club will give its eighth annual Christmas party for more than 200 persons tomorrow night at the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club Hall.

George W. Hall will be master of ceremonies for the party, which will start at 6:30 p.m. with a turkey dinner. Program will include candlelight caroling, dancing by Arlene's Dancing School and a visit from Santa.

Hall said membership in the improvement club is largely composed of residents in the Corte Madera Creek area of Greenbrae. He said friends as well as members are invited to the party.

Entertainment committee is composed of Mrs. Elva Martin, chairman, Mrs. Howard Gold, Mrs. Dorothy Flynn, Mrs. Cliff Reynolds, Edmund Greenwood Sr., and Pete Martin.

Carols will be led by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Doig. Mrs. Louise Sherf is in charge of decorations.

CONCERT PREVIEW

Violinist Lectures On Chamber Music

By MARTHA BRUCKNER

When Kitty Oppenheimer interviewed Charles Meacham, concertmaster of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, on radio station KTIM about the newly founded Marin Arts Quartet last year, she welcomed it as the youngest sprig of Marin's music life and suggested some kind of lecture on chamber music to further the understanding of this highly cultivated specie.

This was exactly what Charles Meacham, first violinist of the quartet, gave yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Schultz in Mill Valley as a preview of the next concert of the Marin Arts Quartet on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Outdoor Art Club, Mill Valley.

Supported by the three members of the quartet—William Pynchon, violin; Albert White, viola, and Jean Maguire, cello—Meacham analyzed the first movement of Mozart' Quartet in C Major, op. 465, as a typical sample of the classic "allegro" in the form A-B-A. (A stands for exposition, displaying the energetic first theme and the softer second theme; B means development of this thematical material, and the second A the condensed recapitulation of the first section.)

As a reminder of the older "French Overture," the first allegro of this Mozart quartet is proceded by a short "Adagio," a common practice in the early classics.

Meacham traced the roots of the string quartet (which first appeared around 1750) to earlier instrumental forms, especially the worldly "sonata da camera" (consisting of dances of which the menuet carries on) and the "sonata da chiesa" (for the church).

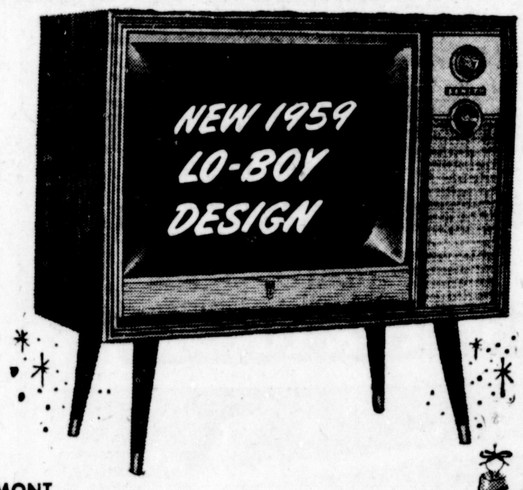

The next preview will be concerned with the romantic quartet.

The concert Sunday afternoon will feature, besides Mozart, quartets by Hindemith and Brahms.

NORTH MARIN ENTRY — Queen of Industry candidate Louise Rogers, 22, a native of Marin and a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, is a Nicasio resident and employed by Rancho Nicasio.

28 In Running For Industry Queen Title

The drive to raise money for underprivileged children and provide nurses' training scholarships, charitable program of the Marin 40 et 8 Society, passed a successful halfway mark yesterday.

Marin's "queen" of business and industry will be crowned at a ball at Corinthian Yacht Club Dec. 20.

Returns from last year's program are putting a Sausalito, Larkspur, and two San Anselmo girls through nurses' training, providing summer camp activity for local youngsters and donations to the Marin Crippled Children's Society and Marindale Handicapped Children's School in Terra Linda, said Ray Greenberg Sr., of San Anselmo, child welfare chairman of Marin's 40 et 8.

Fairfax Construction

Permits were issued by the City of Fairfax last month for construction of five new one-family dwellings worth $50,750 and for five alteration jobs to existing buildings, estimated at $7,500.

25 Years Ago, Thirsty U.S. Awaited Crucial Utah Vote

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — U.S. topers waited, highballs ready, for the signal that would open a race to quaff the first legal drink. But the 21 dawdling Utahns who kept them waiting cherished a higher hope:

Utah must be the 36th and deciding state to repeal prohibition.

Nerves were frayed and highballs flat before the topers finally got the word — 25 years ago today — that Utah had made it.

It took planning to be 36th, the magic number meaning the required three fourths of the states had ratified repeal. Utah's planning even included a play on numbers: Elect 21 delegates to approve the 21st Amendment.

Utah picked Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1933, as the date. Two other states Ohio and Pennsylvania, planned ratifying conventions that day. They would be 34th and 35th, because of the difference in time zones.

A rumor said Ohio might wait to act until Utah did. Utah planners countered with a scheduled 7:30 p.m. voting session and hinted the slender roll call might last until midnight.

Would-be repeal revelers protested the delay in vain. Delegate Franklin Riter, president of the Utah League for Prohibition Repeal, summed up Utah's case:

"We are determined no other state shall take this glory away from Utah. I am sorry that our plans may upset the starting time of celebrations in Eastern centers. . . ."

Utah needn't have worried. Pennsylvania acted promptly Ohio followed suit as Utah delegates sat through early session oratory.

Still the session droned on.

Suddenly, an unscheduled recess was called and delegates held a caucus. There was a rumor that Maine, due to vote next day, proposed to turn the clock ahead 24 hours so it could be 36th.

The rumor proved false but effective. At 3:32 p.m., far ahead of schedule, delegate S. R. Thurman of Salt Lake City shouted the final "aye." Prohibition was ended.

Convention president R. L. Olson of Ogden later denied the Maine rumor spurred the speed-up. He said it resulted from delegates' desires "to be agreeable and to accommodate and please all concerned" — especially those chafing at the delay.

Benjamin Dacasseres, a "literary rebel and bon vivant" according to one dispatch, waited near a press Teletype in New York's Waldorf-Astoria, drink in hand. The story said he "drank deeply" when the flash came, a milestone duly recorded by photographers.

But in Chicago an indignant Beverly West, kid sister of the celebrated Mae, claimed she was first. She said Decasseres "couldn't have tossed off his drink any faster than I did. The repeal flash came and , bingo! Down went my drink."

One certainty: No Utahn claimed the honor. The state's repeal allowed only the sale of beer containing 3.2 per cent alcohol or less.

It was another 18 months before Utah got hard liquor. State-run liquor stores — still in business — opened by permission of the Legislature on June 1, 1935.

Channukah Party Set

A Channukah luncheon party for pre-schoolers will be held Dec. 12 at 12:15 p. m. in the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael. The party will include Channukah games, songs and stories, followed by a candle lighting ceremony.

THIRD MUNICIPAL PARKING LOT READY TO OPEN

San Rafael's third municipal offstreet parking lot, at Fifth avenue and C street, will open for Friday evening shoppers, Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles announced today. Paving of the lot was being rushed today. Lee Mac Paving Co. roller is shown at work above. Stalls may not be lined and parking meters will not be in place tonight — but the 52-car lot will be open, promised Rawles. Two other new lots, already metered, are at Third and A street (71 cars) and Third and Lootens place (111 cars).

Incorporation Study In Novato Gets Go-Ahead

'Home Rule' Group Orders Survey To Start Immediately

A full-scale survey of the feasibility of incorporating Novato will start immediately, Clark M. Palmer Jr., chairman of the Novato Home Rule Study Committee, announced today.

The survey, by Governmental Research Associates of Oakland at a cost of about $1,500, was authorized by the committee last night at a meeting in the Novato Chamber of Commerce office.

BALL'S ROLLING

The committee, still trying to raise money to pay for the study, decided it was "in good enough financial shape to start the ball rolling," Palmer said. He did not disclose how much money has been raised to date.

William R. Zion, member of the research firm, surprised committee members last night by indicating the incorporation survey could be completed by the end of January.

Zion, whose firm made a similar study before incorporation of the East Bay city of Fremont, said three areas will be analyzed in the Novato survey. One will encompass the heavily populated district generally described as "Novato proper." The other two will include that area plus increasingly larger portions of surrounding territory.

BOUNDARIES INEXACT

The research firm is not ready as yet to provide exact boundaries of the areas to be studied, Zion indicated.

He said the survey results will be submitted to the home rule committee in a printed report.

If the report declares incorporation of Novato is feasible, Palmer said, the committee will try to have the question placed on the ballot for a special election next fall. He said petitions for an election probably would be circulated in the spring.

The committee, which norm-

Development Of Stinson Park Gets Under Way

LONG-POSTPONED RAIN MAY BE ON WAY HERE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rain storms, long delayed, may at last be headed for California.

Forecaster W. J. Denney in today's Weather Bureau summary said charts indicate a weakening of the ridge of high barometric pressure at sea which has diverted storms around California.

A five-day forecast through next Wednesday said two days of rain are likely for the central third of the state.

State Lets Contract For 1st Job

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Long-discussed development of Stinson Beach State Park got under way yesterday with awarding of the first contract in a half-million-dollars program.

Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael was awarded the $79,000 contract for construction of a new entrance to the park, about 350 feet north of the present entrance, and the placing of fill and grading for two huge parking areas at the north and south ends of park area. Work is scheduled to start later this month.

At the same time the Division of Beaches and Parks announced it has completed acquisition of the Seadowns property for $125,000 by agreement with the estate of Camile Malmgren Banks.

MURDER VICTIMS

(Mrs. Banks and her husband, Joseph Banks, were killed by Bart Caritativo. He was executed for their murder after a will giving him the property was proved to be a forgery.)

The acquisition closes the final gap in the middle of the park and permits start of the total development program.

Already available are $217,000 in state funds. The division is asking the Legislature to earmark another $290,000 in the 1959-60 budget, which will be before the solons in January.

Besides the road and parking lot contract, plans are about ready for bids on a $35,000 dressing room and toilet facilities which will be constructed on the edge of the beach about opposite the present park entrance. This should be completed before next summer.

DRESSING ROOM

A second $35,000 dressing room and toilet facility will be built probably by mid-summer farther south on the beach.

Ultimate plan for the park development calls for three major parking areas totaling 840 parking stalls. Largest will be at the south end where fill

EUGENE L. MEYER
Mountanos' choice

Eugene Louis Meyer, 43, police chief of Belvedere for eight years and former deputy sheriff for five years, will be Marin's new undersheriff.

The official announcement came today from Sheriff-elect Louis Mountanos, 32, who has been keeping the county guessing since his election Nov. 4. Mountanos and his new aide will take over the positions now held by Sheriff David Menary and Undersheriff Floyd R. Middagh on Jan. 5.

"I am very pleased and honored to have been chosen the undersheriff and will fulfill the job to the best of my ability," Meyer beamed. "I am sure the sheriff and I, working together as a team, will fulfill the promises made to the people of Marin County."

REASON FOR CHOICE

Mountanos announced that he chose Meyer for his ability and background in law enforcement, and because Meyer is completely divorced from any attachments with cliques or with the present sheriff's office.

"We can call them as we see them," said Mountanos.

During the last two weeks of this month, Mountanos and Meyer will be spending considerable time in the sheriff's office to get acquainted with the organization. Sheriff Menary is cooperating to effect a smooth transfer.

A native of San Francisco, Meyer has spent 40 years in Marin County. He attended Marin public schools, being graduated from Tamalpais High School. He was deputy under former Sheriff Walter Sellmer from 1946 to 1951, then became chief of the Belvedere Police Department.

THREE CHILDREN

Meyer, one of the founders of the Tamalpais Volunteer Fire Department, lives with his family at 6 Laurel avenue, Belvedere. His wife is the former Harriet Elizabeth Bletner, who came to Marin via West Virginia and Porterville. They have three children, Sandra Jean, 17; Barilynn Louise, 14, and Charles Russell, 5.

When Meyer was about 15, he and his uncle, the late Emile Riviere, started the Tamalpais Fire Department with a 1923 Buick sedan, its back lopped off to haul milk cans fill-

Formosa Jets May Return Here Sunday

Some of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron Starfighters sent from Hamilton Air Force Base to Formosa during the crisis-ridden days of mid-September may return to the Marin base during an open house Sunday afternoon, it was learned today.

A Hamilton spokesman said a detachment that took the supersonic jets to Formosa, "may return during the open house Sunday, but there is nothing definite on it."

However, a public information officer at Hamilton said only one F104 Starfighter would demonstrate its flying capabilities at the Sunday open house, with the demonstration set for 3 p.m. It is not one that went to Formosa, the public information officer said.

The 83rd's arrival on the Chinese Nationalist island was announced in September, even as Hamilton spokesmen were refusing to confirm or deny the squadron's rumored shift to the Far East.

Exact strength in planes of the 83rd has been "classified" at Hamilton ever since the F104s replaced the earlier F89 Scorpion jets in the outfit.

Jones Cleared Of Interest Conflict

No conflict of interest is involved in County Clerk George S. Jones' contracting with his own bonding firm for surety bonds, County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said today in an opinion given to the county auditor.

However, Jordan said that some doubt still exists and recommends that in the future, such actions be avoided.

County Clerk Jones is a partner in the firm of Matt Graham and Associates, which has been providing surety bonds for county officials, including Jones. Auditor Leon A. deLisle asked for an opinion on the legality of the transaction. The county clerk has already transferred his bond from Graham to Redmond Insurance Agency.

There would be a conflict of interest if Jones were making a "public contract" with his own firm (Graham Associates), the county counsel pointed out. But he explained that the con-

FOSTER REPLIES TO GRAND JURY BLAST

Schools Supt. Denies Deficiencies Listed In Report Critical Of Marin School Setup

Richard L. Foster, county superintendent of schools, today took exception to a number of contentions of the Marin County Grand Jury's schools committee.

The committee, in a final report presented Tuesday to Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori, was critical of a long list of alleged deficiencies in Marin County's educational program.

Arthur Kanzee Jr., mayor of Ross, investment counselor and former engineer, was chairman of the grand jury's schools committee. William F. Hamilton, retired Army colonel and a trustee of Marin Junior College District, who was grand jury foreman, said the schools committee's report was presented unanimously — "we did not find a single dissenting voice."

Superintendent Foster, however, dissented at some length. He opened his dissent by implying that the grand jurors may have been a bit over their depth in discussing the school system. Said Foster:

"An educational program that is the responsibility of all of the people in Marin County and that is directed week by week by 29 boards of trustees and over a hundred board members is complex and difficult to understand for even these trustees who give a maximum amount of time to the development of policies for a district. It is not surprising to me that a grand jury in reviewing many activities in the county would find it equally difficult to thoroughly analyze any one of the agencies and especially 29 separate school operations."

Foster commended the grand jurors "for their sincere attempt to evaluate the educational program in Marin County and in California."

However, he took exception to the jurors' findings on six points, asserting:

1. "High school students in Marin County have achieved unusual success, a part of which is due to the program in the elementary schools.

2. " . . . The statement that 'many are advanced from elementary school to high school and are eventually graduated without having mastered any proficiency in the basic academic subjects' is not supported by the results of standardized achievement tests as administered in the various schools.

3. " . . . That 'examinations are frowned upon as a medium of determining proficiency' would be more accurate if it indicated that the objection is to such use as the only measure of proficiency.

4. " . . . Promotion and retention should be as a result of a total evaluation of a child, including academic achievement, intelligence, age, maturity, etc., and I deplore a general policy inherent in the statement 'retention for one or two years, we believe, would be far more beneficial for those who do not have a thor-

U.S. Pilot Held By German Reds

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army pilot forced to bail out behind the Iron Curtain is in the hands of the East Germans, a Communist broadcast announced today.

The broadcast identified the pilot as Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D.C., who disappeared Wednesday while flying a courier plane near the border between East and West Germany.

State Acts To Upset Death Stay Given Wein

The California attorney general's office said it was taking immediate steps to have the full state Supreme Court vacate a stay of execution granted to Los Angeles sex criminal Edward S. Wein, who was to have died today.

Supreme Court Justice Jesse W. Carter of Sleepy Hollow late yesterday gave Wein a new lease on life within hours of the time he was to step into the gas chamber at San Quentin Prison.

Arlo Smith, deputy state attorney general, said he was preparing a motion for the full court to set aside Carter's action and reinstate the execution order. However, he acknowledged there was little chance the court would act on the motion today.

The state's highest court has twice refused Wein's appeals. Carter was the only justice to dissent in both instances.

The 35-year-old Los Angeles painting contractor had been scheduled for execution at 10 a.m. for kidnaping five Los Angeles area women. He was convicted May 10, 1957, on 22 counts of kidnaping, rape, sex perversion and robbery.

SIGNS ORDER

Carter said the U.S. Supreme Court should be permitted to rule on an aspect of the case raised by Wein's attorneys. Carter signed the order at his Sleepy Hollow home, where attorney Richard Gladstein of San Rafael argued that Wein's defense attorney had permitted the withdrawal of a plea of innocence by reason of insanity without Wein's consent.

At almost the same time, two other attorneys on Wein's legal staff unsuccessfully sought a stay from Judge O. D. Hamlin of the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco. Hamlin, in denying the petition, said no federal question was involved.

NEW INFORMATION

Attorneys Russell E. Parsons of Beverly Hills and Gerald Gottleib of Los Angeles said later they believe they have new information outside the present records and intend to present it before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Lime Point Lighthouse May Become Automatic Operation

Marin's 75-year-old Lime Point lighthouse, just east of the Golden Gate Bridge, may become automatically controlled and thereby lose its three Coast Guard lighthouse keepers, it was learned today.

A spokesman for the Aids to Navigation Department of the Coast Guard said a proposal to operate the station by remote control from Ft. Point at the Presidio has been submitted to bay pilots for their opinions before going to Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Living quarters and other facilities at the station are in need of rehabilitation, estimated to cost $40,000, he said. Initial cost of converting the station to automatic would approximate only $23,000.

"A net saving of $10,000 a year probably would be realized with the automatic control system," the spokesman added. Operation and maintenance costs at the station now are about $16,000 annually.

The same light would be used under the new control system, but a new type of electric monotone device would replace the present fog horn.

Social Group Changes Name

The Fifth Wheels of Marin have rejected fifth wheel status and with it their club's name.

From now on this social organization of single adults will be known as the Lads and Lasses, according to an announcement.

The change was made by a unanimous vote at the group's meeting Wednesday.

First social event under the new name will be a Christmas dinner dance, to be held at Rancho Nicasio at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 20.

Reservations may be made with hostess-coordinator Corinne Adams of San Anselmo at GLenwood 4-0265.

A steering committee was appointed at the last meeting to make a social calendar. The committee's members are Ken North of San Anselmo; Jean Ross, San Anselmo; Slavka Cibilich, Corte Madera; Anabel Twish, San Rafael, and Bernice Jordan, San Rafael.

Eddie Squires Liz Taylor To Swank Nitery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A few hours after Debbie Reynolds sued him for divorce, singer Eddie Fisher escorted Elizabeth Taylor to a fancy Beverly Hills restaurant last night.

It was their first appearance together in public since the round of night-clubbing in New York last September that led to the breakup of the Fisher-Reynolds marriage.

Although she publicly cast Miss Taylor in the role of the "other woman" at the time she and Fisher separated, Miss Reynolds made no mention of her in the divorce action, which was based on a charge of extreme cruelty.

Fisher and Miss Taylor dined in a rear booth at Romanoff's restaurant in Beverly Hills. With them was Mike Todd Jr., son of Miss Taylor's late husband.

McCarthy Pleased With Nixon Stand

State Sen. John F. McCarthy returned to Marin today from Washington, D.C., enthusiastic about the part Vice President Richard M. Nixon is willing to play in revitalization of the Republican Party in California.

McCarthy said he and some 15 other leading California Republicans had reached agreement with the vice president on a tentative six-point program. The senator said he had an hour privately with Nixon and then was a guest at the Nixon home for dinner and a meeting of the full group of GOP leaders on Monday evening.

"The vice president has assured us of his complete assistance and cooperation for the rebuilding of the party," McCarthy said. "He was emphatic we would not, and we did not, discuss national politics or the possibility of his candidacy for president in 1960.

He stated his main concern is to concentrate on recovering the state legislative offices, the state Senate and the state Assembly. And our group agreed that we would draft a complete blueprint for party reorganization, working on it in the next few weeks."

Tentatively, these are the points to be covered:

1. A stronger relationship among the legislators, state central committee, county committees and other GOP voluntary organizations.

2. A program to prove to the public that the Republican Party is not the so-called "reactionary" party, but one that is interested in the practical economic development for the best interests of all the people in the state.

3. A determined effort to reach the "Grass roots voters," those contributing $1, in the financing programs—rather than being classified as the party of wealth and big business.

4. A campaign program for all candidates, using a positive approach and avoiding the negative approach of name-calling and false advertising.

5. A program among the party's volunteers to convince new residents of the state that the Republican Party here is the best party, and to encourage registration of all residents who are not now registered.

6. A program aimed at pointing out that there is no racial discrimination in the ranks of the Republican Party.

McCarthy, who was lavish in his praise of the vice president and his interest in state politics, said: "If these ideals can be developed intelligently into a forceful program with a 'get tough' policy, the Republican Party can emerge from its present situation to the victorious party within a period of two years in California."

The senator did not return directly home from Washington. He came home by way of Los Angeles where, as chairman of a legislative subcommittee, he held two hearings on regulation of billboards along the state's highways.

2 Admit Planting Coliseum Bomb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two University of Southern California students have admitted planting a bomb in Memorial Coliseum.

Dave Visel, 20, and Neil Baizer 21, told police yesterday the bomb was intended to release a smoke cloud under the UCLA cheer leaders' bench at the kickoff of their football game with USC last Nov. 22.

The bomb, which never went off, was discovered this week. Police explosives expert said it could have killed or injured many people.

Critics Lash New Statue Of Churchill

LONDON (UPI)—Critics assailed a new statue of Sir Winston Churchill today as a gorilla-like caricature. They said its like hasn't been seen since his 80th birthday portrait that some people said made him look like a turtle.

The new controversy over an artist's portrayal of Britain's great leader centered in a $14,000 statue which has not yet been unveiled.

It was commissioned by Churchill's constituents in the Woodford district which he represents in Parliament, but critics doubted it ever would be installed as a monument to the former prime minister.

"Gorilla-like," said some. "A caricature," said others. "It's a disgrace" . . . "We don't want it here" . . . "Fancy using our money for that" ran the comments in Woodford, which paid for the statue.

One local businessman who contributed to the fund called the work "appalling." He said the "head, ears and feet all seem to be too big."

The statue shows Churchill as a grim, severe, forbidding old man with an angry scowl. It shows him hatless and wearing a lounge suit, leaning slightly forward, head poised aggressively and left hand pulling back the flap of his suit coat as if he is reaching for his pocket watch.

Sculptor David McFall of London said he expected some criticism of the statue, but nothing like the current reaction.

"I have attempted to portray Sir Winston as a man of intellect," he said. "I wasn't making a Toby jug, you know."

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Department of Motor Vehicles today announced it has started mailing the first of more than seven-and-a-half million registration renewal notices for 1959.

Owners of commercial vehicles and trailers will get the first notices, mailed this week.

Passenger car notices will be mailed Dec. 26.

The department reported the total number of vehicles registered as of Oct. 31 was 7,625,378. The Dec. 31 total is expected to reach nearly 7,750,000.

That will exceed the 1957 figure by about 220,000. The 1959 total could pass eight million by the end of the year. Many registrations are new—either by new car purchases, or new arrivals in the state.

Owners who present their fees with their renewal cards in person at department offices will receive a 1959 registration card and a silver-white renewal sticker for the rear plate, to be placed over the 1958 green sticker.

Persons who apply this month for transfer of ownership of a vehicle registered in California must at the same time pay their 1959 registration fees.

Two Vending Machines Vanish In Marin City

Two vending machines, worth about $21, disappeared from the front of Waldo Market in Marin City, the owner reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday.

Hundreds Of Children Mob Santa In Novato

Novato youngsters by the hundreds mobbed Santa Claus last night when he put in a pre-Christmas appearance at the Town and Country Shopping Center at Fifth street and Grant avenue.

Santa, whose visit was sponsored by merchants of the center, arrived at 6:30 p.m. in a jeep painted bright green. He stayed until nearly 9 o'clock, and so heavy was the crowd of enthusiastic youngsters that many of them never got in a word with him. The regretful sponsors expressed apologies to the unfortunate children today.

A 20-foot Christmas tree in the shopping center parking lot was lighted at the start of the fete. Then, his bag bulging with surprises, Santa proceeded to distribute small gifts and candy canes to the assembled youngsters. The gifts were provided by town and country merchants.

Novato's Grant avenue business district was taking on a Christmas atmosphere today with the erection of colorful candy cane street decorations. Brodie Displays Co. of Santa Rosa was hired by participating chamber of commerce to put up the decorations at a cost of $800.

The chamber announced that starting Monday, most Novato stores will remain open nightly until 9 o'clock for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

Improvement Club Federation To Meet

Members of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs will be handed preliminary drafts of a county services guide when they meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse, Ralph B. Rogers, chairman, announced today.

Other matters to be considered, he said, include reports on planning and zoning, the California Roadside Council and a meeting last month of the county board of appeals.

Nominations and election of officers for 1958 will be held Jan. 12, he said.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband, Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the midnight "Beauty and the Beasts" tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

A corps of six mounted police and a dozen patrolmen vainly tried to hold back a crowd of about a thousand spectators who jammed outside the hotel entrance for a close-up peep at the Cinderella girl.

There was more of the same inside as the white tie and mink event got under way. Many women dropped in curtsies as they were introduced. Everywhere there were ogles and murmurs and flash bulbs popping.

The princess did manage to get in two brief dancing interludes—a waltz with Prince Serge Obolensky to the melody of the song written for her, "The Princess Waltz," and a foxtrot with Rainier to the tunes of "The Lady Is a Tramp" and "That's Show Business."

For the knowing feminine guests Princess Grace made her first public appearance on this month-long visit to New York dressed in fichu of pink maline net studded with sequins, secured with a nosegay of violets and sweetheart roses. Her gown, of Empire line with wide belt and bouffant pink satin, was enhanced with a dazzling display of diamond tiara, necklace, bracelet and earrings. A silver blue mink stole completed the ensemble.

As photographers busily worked, Princess Grace made her only press statement of the evening. Someone asked who had designed her costume, and she replied: "Maggie Rouff."

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund. There were more than 1,000 guests.

Bank Employees Get Month's Salary As Gift

W. P. Murray, president of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, announced today that the board of directors has approved payment of one month's salary as a Christmas gift to the majority of the 156 employees of the bank.

Employees who have been with the bank for short periods of time will receive proportionate amounts, he said. These gift payments were distributed today.

Mass Services Held For 27 Fire Victims

CHICAGO (AP) — A mass funeral for 27 children who died in the city's worst school fire brought out thousands of mourners today.

One by one, the caskets were wheeled into the Northwest Armory by military policemen of a special 5th Army detail. They were placed in a double row in front of the altar erected on the stage.

RARE CEREMONY

The group rites for 27 of the 87 youngsters who perished in the fire at Our Lady of the Angels school Monday was as rare as it was impressive. No similar funeral has taken place in this city in recent decades, at least.

FOLLOW CASKETS

Some mothers, tears shimmering in their eyes, were supported by relatives as they walked to a front section reserved for the close kin of the dead.

The armory has a capacity of 6,100, and admission was by tickets issued to families. Temporary chairs were placed on the armory floor. Some of the mourners sat in banked permanent seats of the mezzanine.

FRONT PAGE DEVOTED TO FIRE VICTIMS

A caption accompanying the layout said in part:

Dulles Back In Capital After S.F. Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returned to the capital today, facing a deskful of problems.

One of the big ones was to work out proposals to the Soviet Union which may result in new East-West conferences on unification of Germany.

Dulles flew here overnight from San Francisco, where he declared in a speech yesterday that the United States and its allies need to maintain "limited war" forces in such danger points as Berlin to oppose limited probings by the Soviet bloc.

"There must be an ability to oppose what may be limited probings in ways less drastic than general nuclear war," Dulles told the California Chamber of Commerce.

He also said that "the Soviet rulers threaten West Berlin because they have been put on the defensive by the inspiring demonstration there of what free men can do." He forecast the ultimate collapse of the system of Communist tyranny because of the attractions which freedom has for suppressed peoples.

Man Injured In Butane Tank Blast In 'Fair' Condition

Henry J. Cooney, 24, Novato truck driver, remained in fair condition today at Ross General Hospital, suffering from second and third degree burns on face, arms, neck and hands which were suffered in a butane gas explosion in Stinson Beach yesterday.

Cooney was burned when gas exploded outside the cottage residence of Tony Brouschere on Buena Vista avenue. Cooney, who lives at Bobo's Trailer Court in Novato, is a driver for McPhail Fuel Co. of San Rafael. He had just finished filling a 250-gallon butane tank outside the Brouschere cabin when the gas exploded.

Fire Chief Henry Lacaze of the Stinson Beach department today said his investigation definitely showed that a check valve on the 250-gallon tank failed to close as Cooney removed the hose of his tank after filling the tank. "We had to close it ourselves," said Lacaze.

The gas exploded outside the tank, however. David G. Stephens, general manager of McPhail Fuel Co., said the tank is still usable. It was removed, however, and a new tank installed, after the explosion.

The resulting fire did from $2,000 to $2,500 damage to the cottage. The tank truck was not damaged. A headline on the report in yesterday's Independent-Journal, saying "Tank on Truck Blows Up," was in error.

WHO'S SHERMAN ADAMS?

Nikita's Tailor Has Vicuna Coat For Ike

ROME (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Italian tailor wants to give President Eisenhower a vicuna coat. He says he knew nothing about Sherman Adams until after he announced his plans.

Angelo Litrico, who made three overcoats and four suits for Khrushchev, is flying to the United States tonight. He is to attend a meeting of the International Assn. of Clothing Designers in Chicago Sunday. He plans to go to Washington afterward.

He said he's taking along a gray cashmere golf jacket and a blue vicuna overcoat he's tailored to measurements he derived from photographs of the President.

The U.S. Embassy hurriedly announced that Litrico was acting on his own, and that the embassy hadn't been consulted. Normally gifts are offered to the President through the embassy and accepted only after approval from the White House.

Vicuna is the expensive Andean animal fiber. Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine gave Adams enough for a coat. Adams quit as presidential assistant after being accused of doing favors for Goldfine. He denied the accusation.

Litrico said the garments he made for Khrushchev had been ordered, and were paid for, by the Soviet Embassy in Italy.

Italy Premier Seems Headed For Confidence Vote Defeat

The Chamber of Deputies prepared to debate a motion of confidence in the Christian Democratic leader's pro-Western minority government. Most political observers doubted the premier could corral enough votes to avoid a defeat that would bring down the government.

The confidence vote is expected early next week.

On two votes, the government lost 314-263 and 323-239.

The votes seemed to be the culmination of rising dissatisfaction with the coalition government, which took office July 2.

Both the Christian Democrats and Communists gained in last May's parliamentary elections. But the Christian Democrats, who have dominated all Italian governments since World War II, and their Social Democratic allies were three votes short of the 299 seats needed for a majority.

The revolt last night came on the gasoline tax imposed during the 1956 Suez crisis to meet the greater cost of transporting oil from the Middle East.

Cyprus Peace Talks Plan Flops In U.N.

The 81-nation Political Committee voted on three rival proposals late last night after a confused procedural wrangle that climaxed two weeks of debate on Britain's crown colony in the eastern Mediterranean.

SHORT OF MAJORITY

The only resolution to escape defeat was a much-amended Iranian proposal approved 31-22 with 28 abstentions. This was still short of the two-thirds majority needed

The resolution called on Greece, Turkey and Britain—the nations disputing the future of Cyprus—to negotiate their differences. The Iranian plan was virtually doomed when Greece announced in advance that she would vote against it.

COLOMBIAN PLAN

The committee defeated 17-17, with 47 abstentions, a Colombian plan for a U.N. study group to visit Cyprus and study the situation. It also rejected 11-22, with 48 abstaining, a Belgian proposal calling on the three nations to keep trying for agreement.

Four other resolutions, including a Greek call for U. N. approval of independence for Cyprus, were withdrawn.

The vote came after a day of heated debate which included a slashing Greek attack against the United States.

RUSS OBSERVE CONSTITUTION ANNIVERSARY

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union celebrated the 22nd anniversary of its constitution today by asserting that Russia has genuine democracy but the capitalist countries don't.

All Moscow newspapers carried editorials praising the constitution, which says "freedom of speech, press, assembly, street processions and demonstrations" are guaranteed.

Red-Kidnaped Kids Good Propagandists

Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teen-agers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live, and were disillusioned by the primitive surroundings.

During 10 years in Communist custody, the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen.

Red Threat To Berlin Airlines

BERLIN (AP)—The threat of Communist interference mounted today against busy American, British and French airliners shuttling in and out of isolated West Berlin.

One of East Germany's top Communists, Politburo member Hermann Matern, told a West Berlin election rally last night that the airlines — Pan American, Air France and British European Airways — have no legal right to fly over East German territory.

MENTIONS NO ACTION

"This situation must be brought in order," he declared. He did not say what action the Communists have in mind.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who addressed an election rally in another part of West Berlin, said the Western powers would hold the Russians responsible for keeping open all routes to Berlin, including the air corridors. He said he had a personal letter from U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles reaffirming that position.

CITES AGREEMENT

The letter, he added, specifically mentioned the 1949 Paris agreement in which the Russians ended their 1948-49 blockade and guaranteed free access to this Allied foothold 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

"Our allies stand upon it and we stand upon it," Adenauer said of this agreement.

Matern told the rally of 3,500 Communists, meeting behind a police line in the heart of West Berlin, that "capitalistic airlines make giant profits" on their business with Berlin and "I know of no agreement which legally supports these firms."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is threatening to hand over Soviet occupation controls in Berlin to the East Germans in six months. The East Germans have declared loudly that the West would then have to negotiate with them for access to the city.

During the blockade of 1948-49 the Russians closed down the West's road, rail and water links but did not interfere with the airlift that broke the blockade.

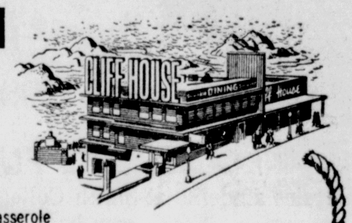

Chartered commercial planes played a big role in the airlift, and Western officials have been considering a new airlift if there is another surface blockade.

Marin Wine Expert Roasts Restaurateurs; They Applaud

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"I was really delighted to hear that," said Leon D. Adams, packing up his bullet-proof vest.

Adams, a wine consultant from Sausalito, was speaking of the unexpected applause he got after he'd accused American restaurants of "extortion and bungling" in their wine service to the public.

The restaurateurs apparently drank it up when he said 99 out of 100 eating places in America are "fleecing the public with badly served wines priced at many times what they are worth . . . and generally making it impossible for diners-out to get decent wine served with their meals."

There wasn't a hiss in the place, perhaps proving another statement Adams made. He said restaurant owners usually have "pleaded guilty . . . in behalf of all other restaurants than their own!"

One of the reasons Adams jokingly brought his bullet-proof vest along—but didn't don it—was because, he said, he was "invited" to withdraw from the program by a convention official. Adams figured the official belatedly discovered the chapter titled "The Great Restaurant Swindle" in Adams' new book, "The Commensense Book of Wine."

Adams said his time was cut from 10 to 15 minutes down to three minutes after he insisted on keeping the date.

John S. Cockrell, executive secretary of the Washington, D.C. Restaurant Assn., denied trying to get Adams off the program—and also denied that he has read Adams' book. But he did admit cautioning the consultant against talking about anything "controversial."

LEON D. ADAMS
Armor was unnecessary

After applauding Adams' charges, questioners asked what a reasonable "mark-up" would be (one-fourth the price of the meal); the best way to merchandise wine (with a wine box on the menu); whether to sell by glass or bottle (the latter unless the glass is big enough) and other questions.

On the price question, Adams contended that wine is "part of the meal" and should be treated like food, not liquor.

Adams said the average candle-lit New York restaurant buys ordinary French wine for 70 cents to $1 a bottle and charges credulous customers $4 to $5.

He said many restaurants refuse to offer American wines —which Adams claims are better than imported varieties — because customers are familiar with store prices on the domestics.

Adding insult to injury, he told the eastern and southern restaurateurs the situation was true all over the country but is "worst in the East, South and Midwest."

"You are cheating yourselves as well as your patrons," Adams continued. "I am here to urge that the restaurant industry start using its good business sense and put an end to this extortion and bungling on wine service."

Miller Creek Bridge Work Starts Soon

Work will begin in mid-December on a bridge spanning Miller Creek to connect Lucas Valley road with Miller Creek road in Marinwood, said Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works.

The $52,700 project will be paid with $37,487 in federal secondary road funds, and the balance by the county.

The two-lane bridge will replace a temporary wooden structure erected by the subdivider and now used by some Marinwood residents.

The new bridge will make it possible for Marinwood's homeward bound commuters to use the Lucas Valley interchange which as an underpass instead of making a left turn across Highway 101 to enter Miller Creek road.

The construction will take about three months, said Brigham. Louis Bormolini and Son of Novato is the contractor.

Arizona Convicts Riot, Subdued After Battle

FLORENCE, Ariz. (UPI)—A gang of 45 hardened convicts broke out of the maximum security ward of the Arizona State Prison last night and fought a desperate hour and a half battle for freedom before they were subdued.

One of the brawling rioters, who were armed with scraps of metal fashioned into deadly knives, was shot and seriously wounded in the wild melee that apparently was touched off in protest over certain guards.

Two guards were held hostages briefly before some 200 guards, state police and other law enforcement officers armed with tear gas and machine guns battled the escape-bent prisoners to submission.

No guards were injured.

The riot was confined to the 45 convicts—mostly long-term and recalcitrant prisoners—in the "pocket," the convict name for the maximum security section.

Warden Frank Eyman, who was in the thick of the battle, ordered a number of prison cell doors welded shut early today until cell door keys stolen in the riot were recovered.

The riot broke out when prisoners in the "pocket" sent out a call for medical help for one of the convicts who had been ailing through the week.

When guards Leon Hunt and Scott Wright went to the maximum security section to answer the summons they were grabbed by knife-wielding prisoners who snatched their keys and opened doors.

The rioters broke up into two groups, each group taking a guard as hostage.

One gang of the rioters stormed into the prison hospital while the other group surged out into the yard captain's office.

Eyman, reinforced by several hundred state police and other law officers, led the charge into the hospital where one group of the rioters had holed up.

The rioters in the yard captain's office were less prone to give up in their desperate bid for freedom.

Guards smashed down the door into the small office. Other guards immediately shot tear gas bombs into the enclosure, filling it in seconds with tear-causing, lung-choking gas.

Malibu Fire Nearly Under Full Control

MALIBU (UPI)—Many evacuees were expected to return to their homes today with the nearly complete control of the 20,000-acre fire that raged from the Santa Monica Mountains to the sea.

Complete control of the fire was in sight.

But 700 men, including 500 soldiers, sailors and Marines stayed on the fire lines to guard against the always present danger of a sudden flareup if wind conditions change.

More than 1,000 fire-fighters, some of whom had been combatting the blaze since it broke out Tuesday, were relieved yesterday.

Los Angeles County Fire Chief Keith Klinger reported the blaze was 85 per cent controlled early today, but there was no prediction when complete control would be possible.

The fire burned an estimated 40 homes and other dwellings, an incomplete survey revealed. One burned home was the $50,000 Malibu Bowl residence of actor Lew Ayres.

The Oswego River Valley drains a watershed of more than 5,000 square miles in upstate New York.

Hub Chamber To Count Votes

Ballots cast for seven directorships of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce will be counted at 4 p.m. Monday, said George G. Washburn, secretary.

The seven new directors will serve two-year terms on the 15-member board. They will be selected from among 10 candidates.

At the San Anselmo chamber's meeting yesterday, Marvin Christensen was appointed to arrange for an installation of officers and dinner on Jan. 15. New officers will be chosen by the directors.

Davis Denies He Had Part In Smuggling Manuscript

San Francisco attorney George T. Davis, in Taejon, Korea, to defend a soldier in a murder trial, took a brief time-out today to defend himself against the Marin charge that he helped smuggle Caryl Chessman's book manuscript out of San Quentin Prison's Death Row.

Davis told the Associated Press he is not guilty of the charge, leveled against him and two others this week by the Marin County Grand Jury.

"I will return to California as soon as possible to deny the charges and present my defense," he was quoted.

RETURNS DEC. 15

Yesterday, MacInnis notified Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich that Davis would return voluntarily about Dec. 15. On the strength of that assurance, Weissich is withholding the warrant of arrest issued for Davis.

Davis is in Taejon defending an American soldier accused of killing a Korean woman. He told the Associated Press he had told the Marin grand jury he knew nothing about the removal of the manuscript of "The Face of Justice."

He added that only two weeks ago the district attorney "told me that neither he nor the grand jury believe I took the book out but that I might know from conversations with my client, Chessman, who did take it out."

'VEILED THREAT'

Davis continued, "The district attorney even implied a veiled threat that he would have me indicted, unless I gave him a 'quid pro quo.' That is to say, unless I would exchange confidential conversations from a client in return for immunity.

"I refused and now find myself indicted in California while deep in the trial of a death sentence case as attorney for a GI in Korea."

will be placed by Ghilotti at the site of the old salt lake. The present parking area in the middle of the park adjacent to the present park buildings, will be enlarged later and those buildings will be removed.

A road along the land side of the park will connect these two parking areas with the one at the north end of the park. Footpaths also will join the parking lots and lead out onto the beach area. The present park entrance also will be limited to pedestrians only.

150 MORE UNITS

One hundred and fifty more such units are planned from funds now available and another 50 units in the request for next year. These units will be sprinkled between the parking areas and among the willows which edge the beach. Life guard towers will be built along the beach.

In next year's budget, funds are being sought for two more of the $35,000 dressing room and toilet facilities as well as a $27,000 administration building, a garage, lifeguard rooms, utility and shop building, a park residence, and funds for completion of paving of all roads and parking areas.

The office, residential and storage buildings are all planned in the area now occupied by the aged cabins on the land side of the Seadown resort. These will nearly all be torn down right away, park officials said.

TEMPORARILY SAVED

However, the Seadowns resort itself, will be temporarily saved. The state will continue to lease them to a concessionaire until they are removed.

Ultimately, a new concession building is planned on the edge of the beach, but this is not included in the first half-million dollars of the development.

Also being sought in next year's budget are two more park attendants for Stinson Beach.

The only other park project proposed for Marin in the 1959-60 budget are $77,776 for sewage, water and sanitary facilities at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Some part-time, seasonal park aides also are requested, seven for Taylor, four each for Tomales and Angel Island State Parks.

As years went by, Meyer and other volunteers and their wives raised funds by whist parties and food sales. They scrounged $350 to pay for the lot where the firehouse is now located. Meyer and his volunteers then poured their own slab and put up the firehouse without cost to the taxpayers.

5. "I oppose a plan of segregation in the elementary schools, whether it be on the basis of race, color, intelligence or reading ability. . . . I further question that 'the slow readers are naturally the slow learners in all subjects throughout their whole school experience, since they are unable to grasp the thought that the teacher may illustrate on the blackboard or to understand the assigned text work.'

6. "All programs of reading in Marin County include the use of sight vocabulary, phonetics and the kinesthetic approach. A cursory look at the teachers edition in the state series or any reading series in use in Marin County would reveal this multi-phase approach."

Foster agreed with the grand jury committee in seven of its findings:

1. "We find the teachers in Marin to be an earnest hard-working corps of men and women who dedicate their lives to their profession. They receive little public recognition for the service they perform and few appreciate the difficulties they encounter in their daily task of educating children.

2. "In some schools and districts there is a definite need for more adequate materials and supplies necessary for teaching.

3. "Certain of the smaller districts are inadequately insured in the light of the very high awards currently being made in personal injury suits.

4. "Our schools boards and principals are laboring under great difficulties, in many cases, to make both ends meet financially and deserve much credit for doing an excellent job.

5. "Smaller classes are recommended particularly in the primary grades. . . . It is felt that no class should exceed 25 and fewer would be preferable.

6. "A sizable percentage of the public is only superficially interested in education. Scholarly achievement has not always been found necessary to success as measured by monetary standards. Thus the schools, to a great degree, reflect the attitude of the community, each community tending to get the kind of an educational system the society of that community desires.

7. "We feel that unification of many of the districts would operate to excellent advantage for a large segment of the youth of Marin."

ally meets on the first and third Thursdays of the month, will meet at Zion's call during the course of the survey, Palmer said.

SIGNATURES NEEDED

Petitions calling for an election must be signed by residents representing ownership of at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the area proposed for incorporation. Then, a 60-day period must be reserved for hearings by the county board of supervisors. During that time, persons owning property on the fringe of the proposed city can demand exclusion from the incorporation area.

Nearly three years ago, the non-profit Coro Foundation sent Thomas J. Dooley, 27-year-old graduate student of political science, to North Marin to make an eight-week incorporation feasibility study.

Dooley's report said Novato, at that time, could be made a sixth-class city with a $237,000 annual budget and a 45-cent tax rate.

A subsequent effort to collect enough signatures on a petition to bring the question to a vote failed by a narrow margin.

Jordan cited the case of Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county physician, who rented his own building for use by the county physician. Jordan felt the county could recover the rent from Dr. Dufficy, but the district court of appeals ruled there was no conflict of interest.

In a 1941 case, however, County Surveyor Rodney E. Messner rented his own equipment to the county, and the court ruled this was illegal.

Florence Griffitts Of Mill Valley Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Florence H. Griffitts, long prominent in Mill Valley civic and club affairs and a 36-year resident of the city, died yesterday in a local hospital after brief illness. She was 64.

Mrs. Griffitts, a native of Grass Valley, moved to Mill Valley from Alameda on her wedding day. Her husband, George V. Griffitts, had decided to make Marin his home. He is a sales executive with Bemis Brothers Bag Co. of San Francisco.

Mrs. Griffitts was a longtime member of the Outdoor Art Club and held many offices in the organization. She had also been active in Parent-Teachers Assn. work and was in the Red Cross during World War II.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary Ryan of Mill Valley, Mrs. Betty MacGillivray of Mountain View and Mrs. Nancy Mason of Yonkers, N.Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Mill Valley and Mrs. Alma Jones of San Francisco, and seven grandchildren.

Family funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, with Rev. D. Murray Hammond officiating. Friends may call at the Russell and Gooch Funeral chapel in Mill Valley until 1 p.m., tomorrow.

Harrison Snyder Succumbs At 61

Harrison D. (Harry) Snyder, who arrived in Woodacre a few weeks ago to live with his son, died late yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 61.

A plasterer, he moved west from his home at Portsmouth, Ohio, to live with his son, Norman, and family on Central avenue in Woodacre. He was a native of Kentucky.

He is survived by his wife, Alice, in Portsmouth, Ohio; his son in Woodacre; two other sons and seven daughters, Edward and Ira Snyder, Mrs. Wilma Litteral, Mrs. Natalie Stiltner, Mrs. Janet Harper, Mrs. Juanita Pyles and Caroline Sye Snyder of Ohio, Mrs. Wanda Caldwell of Tamalpais Valley and Mrs. Donna King of Fairfax; two brothers, John and "Boots," and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Slosser, in Ohio, and 43 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley.

Final Rites Held For John Evans

Private funeral services for John Evans, long-time San Rafael resident and former constable, who died yesterday, were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial followed in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Evans, 88, resided at 1912 Center road, Novato, for the past several years. Survivors are his wife, Christina, and a sister and brother, Mrs. Esther Kingswood of San Diego and Alfred Evans of Santa Paula, Ventura County.

Clyde Bristol Dies At Home

Clyde M. Bristol, Mill Valley sewer contractor and a Mill Valley resident for 32 years, died yesterday at his home at 321 West Blithedale avenue after long illness. He was 61.

A native of Sedro Woolley, Wash., he was formerly in the woodworking and toy business in Southern Marin. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by his wife, Clara, and a 12-year-old son, Vern, at the Mill Valley address, and by a sister, Mrs. Ruby Gilmore of Seattle.

Rites Held For Martinelli Infant

Private funeral services for the stillborn infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. of San Anselmo were held yesterday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The baby was born at a local hospital on Wednesday. His father is a San Anselmo city councilman and secretary-assistant manager of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael.

Also surviving are a sister and two brothers, Louisa, Jordan III and James, at the family home at 205 Crescent road, San Anselmo; his paternal grandparents, Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli and Mrs. Martinelli, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marion Winston Jenkins of San Francisco.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY OF DONAL P. CHAMBERLIN.

One year has passed
Since that sad day
The one we loved
Was called away.
God took him home,
It was His will,
But in our hearts
He liveth still.

Sadly missed by wife and children.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

May I ask you to bear with me while I tell you about some fun we are going to have this month at 1542 Fourth St.

We have on display a giant Christmas stocking almost 8 feet high filled with quality toys and games which we are going to give away on the 24th at noon to some lucky child. No purchase is necessary. Each child must be accompanied by a parent when he or she comes in to register . . . and it is just that simple.

We believe this is the world's largest toy filled stocking, and we hope we fill out hundreds of registration cards, the more the merrier as the saying goes. It will be just as much fun for us filling out the card as it is going to be for some lucky child to receive the stocking. Your grandchildren? Why sure thing, you can sign up for that young granddaughter!

Another item we are having lots of fun with these days is showing people, for the first time, an ALL PUSH BUTTON CAR, the '59 DODGE. Push button instrument panel transmission, heater, air conditioning, radio . . . all controlled by push button.

Everywhere you look there are new things, GREAT things to see and discover in this really new '59 DODGE. J. E. FRENCH CO., 1542 Fourth St., San Rafael. Dodge - Plymouth Distributors.

Jean Simmons Standout In 'Home Before Dark'

By LESLIE DARD

These are the characters in "Home Before Dark," the new film coming to the Rafael Theater in San Rafael Sunday.

Charlotte (Jean Simmons), a young woman just released from a mental institution—and back in the very situation which produced her breakdown a year earlier.

Her husband (Dan O'Herlihy) an ambitious college professor, a stuffed shirt who has fallen out of love with his wife, but will not divorce her because it might harm his chances for advancement;

SEE THROUGH WEB

Efrem Zimbalist Jr., a professor, and Steve Dunne, a young banker, are the two men who see through the web being woven around Charlotte.

BRILLIANT JOB

Director Mervyn LeRoy has drawn a brilliant characterization from Miss Simmons as the insecure, frightened, kissless wife trying to hold onto her sanity.

But it is O'Herlihy (you may have seen him in "Robinson Crusoe") who wins casting honors. He is pitiful, petty, pompous and ambitious—yet, all in all, a man trying to do the right thing even if, in the process, he unconsciously punishes his wife in a thousand small ways.

This film won't win an Oscar, but the performances may.

Cove Players Set Final Tryouts

Final tryouts for the Cove Players' production of "Chalk Garden" will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Players building at 112 Main street, Tiburon, according to Mrs. Preston McKinney, publicity chairman.

There are parts for seven women, described as ranging in age from "a precocious 16-year-old to a grandmother in her 70s," and two men in the psychological drama. The male parts call for a judge in his 70s and a manservant in the 20-30 age bracket.

Rehearsals will begin after the holidays, said veteran director Dan Totheroh. Production dates will be Friday and Saturday evenings starting Feb. 27 and ending March 14.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

When Sal Galli Got In The Volkswagen, It Brought Motto To Mind: Eat Hearty

Sal Galli is a big man. I never asked him but I'll guess he weighs about 22 stone — so when he hailed me for a ride as I started up the drive of Galli's restaurant in the Volkswagen I was just as glad there were no other passengers aboard.

The situation amused him, and surprisingly enough he crawled in a lot easier than some other people I know. I needed to be reminded to pump up those rear tires anyway.

"Me in a Volkswagen—that's something to tell your readers," he said.

The Gallis are all big people. They eat heartily and expect others to do the same. Offhand I'd say that if you are planning to go there for dinner you can skip lunch and still come out ahead. The food stands on its own merits, however, and you don't need the extra hunger to enjoy it properly.

Galli's is in its 40th year of operation, which makes it something of a landmark on the Redwood Highway. It's a rambling sort of place, in keeping with the Italian restaurants of the post World War I era. The oldtimers in Marin and San Francisco visit there regularly and living other with them. If you're looking for color out of the past, here's the place to go.

LADY AT ONDINE asked proprietor Fred Martinez if there was any difference between California crabs and Oregon crabs. Not much, he told her, they are pretty much the same.

"But they seem to have more fur on them," she pointed out.

"That's because the weather is colder," said Freddie, never at a loss for the right answer.

Not on the regular Ondine menu, but there nevertheless if your taste is epicurean, is roast pheasant en plumage, prepared with three different sauces and served with a pate de la maison. Quite a dish for you showoffs. Also delicious, and not much more expensive than you were going to pay anyway.

In case you were thinking about going to Ondine over the holidays—don't. It will be closed between Dec. 22 and Jan. 2, same as last year.

Here's a tip. It's fashionable, I know, to dine late at a place like Ondine, but it's often practical to go early before the crowds. Try it sometime about six.

SUGGESTED AS AN off-the-cuff spot to drop in for an excellent meal without fanfare is Hector Parrish's 101 Cafe in Novato.

Hector is also the cheffing partner in the Brick Lodge, San Rafael, so he insists on food being right. It draws a good tourist trade, and anytime you see drivers of the big highway rigs frequent a place it's a sure sign you should stop, look and list in.

SHORTLY BEFORE Thanksgiving we went to Inverness for a visit with Milan and Manka Prokupek. Their daughter, Alena, was there, too. The unfailing courtesy of this Czechoslovakian family operating the Inverness Lodge always seems to make our trip some sort of of special event, and certainly worth the while it takes to span the miles.

Dr. Prokupek hasn't come right out and said so, but I imagine the future of Inverness Lodge lies in its expansion as a hostelry. Space and atmosphere are there, in a marginal area of Marin sure to attract tourists. It's the kind of thing that would add kudos to our natural scenic charm.

Lodge cabins are completely booked for the period between Christmas and New Year's. Folks come from distant points to rest over the holidays in the quaint old-fashioned surroundings. You might try, but I doubt that you could get a reservation.

Dinners over the holidays are another matter. I am sure you could arrange reservations for Christmas or New Year's or for one of the days in between. Don't wait until the last minute, however. These bookings mount up quickly.

Manka's Coffee Shop, by the way, has gone in for barbecued chickens, et al. Worth looking into.

LITTLE SWEDEN is now another spot where you can dance on Friday and Saturday nights. Girado Del Rio and his Golden Gate Orchestra furnish the music between 9 p. m. and 1 a. m.

No cover charge, but consider making it a full evening by having dinner there, either on straight smorgasbord fare, on one of a long list of Swedish and American entrees, or a combination of the two.

A week from tomorrow night, Dec. 13, is the date for Inga Lindholm's perennial Festival of Santa Lucia — the Swedish Christmas celebration —at the Novato restaurant. Same will be held in the San Francisco and Oakland restaurants on the 14th and 15th respectively.

Progressive Club Elects At Stinson

Alvin A. Eustis, Edward Leslie and Otto Rasmussen were re-elected president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the Progressive Club of Stinson Beach Wednesday evening.

Frank Moreland was named vice president, succeeding Elting Hubbard. All will serve one-year terms.

Daddy Takes A Ribbing In 'Houseboat'

"Houseboat," in VistaVision and Technicolor, is a sly comedy dedicated to the proposition that Daddy is helpless when it comes to rearing typical American children—"carefree, gay and at times in need of psychiatric care."

With Cary Grant playing Daddy and Sophia Loren as the young lady who rescues him from the snarling little darlings, "Houseboat" will open at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo Sunday.

NO BIG GAGS

This is a comedy which doesn't aim for big gags; rather it concentrates on wit and the foolish side of situations which could turn into disaster.

Cary portrays the victim of an unhappy marriage from which he has fled to a succession of overseas jobs. When the playgirl wife dies, Cary decides to grab the three kids—now on the verge of their teens—and rear them in a tiny Washington apartment.

He is about to admit defeat when a ludicrous auto wreck leaves them stranded. They take refuge in a leaky old houseboat—the setting for the rest of the wild doings.

WIGGLES, SINGS

Along the way, Cary has acquired Miss Loren as a maid (she is actually the daughter of a visiting Italian musician). Miss Loren being what she is, she wiggles beautifully, sings strange popular songs and can boil an egg. Eventually, she puts Cary out of his misery by leading him to the altar.

The children, for the record, are Mimi Gibson, Charles Herbert and Paul Peterson. They are about as sweet and gentle as a pack of hungry tigers. But being somewhat human, they know the law is on Daddy's side, and so they humor the old boy for 112 minutes until he is thoroughly tamed.

Panel Co-Chairman

Dr. Edward Rudloff, consultant in physical education and instruction with the Marin County superintendent's office, will serve tomorrow as co-chairmen of a panel on "Research and Professional Advancement" at the Bay district conference of the California Assn. of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Oakland.

500 Families To 'Flee' In CD Exercise

CHICO (AP)—Five hundred Solano County families will leave their homes tomorrow morning and head for Chico in the most extensive mass evacuation staged by U.S. civil defense authorities.

"Operation Chico" will be the first time families have stayed away from home overnight in such an operation. Chico residents will house and feed the more than 1,500 persons involved in the exercise.

A small army of regional and local civil defense workers will "control" the 130-mile automobile trip. The "evacuees"—supposed to be fleeing from an nuclear attack in the San Francisco Bay Area—are all volunteers, as are the Chico residents who will host the group.

After assembling at Esparto in Yolo County between 8 and 9 p.m., the "evacuees" will depart in automobile convoys of 50 cars each.

The exercise will test an established evacuation route to be used in case of a real disaster or attack.

Brown Promises A Change Coming

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown says he'll make proposals for solving both California's fiscal problem and its need for more water.

"The people who voted for a change are going to get a change," he said last night at a dinner in behalf of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute for Cancer Research. The institute will be located at the American Medical Center in Denver, Colo.

Her eldest son, Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), said the nation needs a fifth freedom—freedom from the fear of disease.

Roosevelt, development chairman of the Denver medical project, said a nationwide campaign in support of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute will be concluded Oct. 11, his mother's 75th birthday.

Apartments Favored For 5.3 Fairfax Acres

Recommendation was given last night by the Fairfax Planning Commission that apartment zoning be applied to 5.3 acres between Olema road and Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

The town council last month asked the planners to recommend either multiple dwelling or commercial zoning for the parcel, after San Anselmo developers Robert Roumiguiere and William J. Watt presented plans to build apartments there.

Roumiguiere and Watt last night agreed to abide by terms of a proposed ordinance setting forth zoning restrictions and to provide water mains to the area for fire protection equal to that of downtown Fairfax.

Two more public hearings by the town council will be necessary, however, before the zoning becomes final.

The new ordinance, now under study, proposes six zones be set up for the town: single family, two-family, multiple-family, limited commercial, commercial and industrial. At present there are only two zones, single family and commercial.

Planners, meeting in the council chambers last night, expressed regret over the resignation of Mrs. Delores (Lorrie) Price as secretary of the board after a year's service. She resigned because of moving out of Fairfax.

Chairman Edward Radtke said today he will probably appoint one of the board members to serve as secretary.

The commission also set its next meeting, Jan. 29, as the time for a public hearing on a request by Thomas Hotchkin for a rezoning from single-family to multiple-family for a parcel of land between Manor School and the Oak Glen subdivision.

Riviera Marin Developers Planning Sanitation Plant

Officials of Latipac, Inc., developers of Riviera Marin in east San Rafael, hope to have preliminary plans on a $350,000 sanitation plant before the San Rafael Sanitation Commission within the next few weeks.

Ed Lee, general manager of Latipac, and Daniel Coleman, engineer, announced yesterday to the sanitation commission they are working on sanitation facilities for the resort-community development planned on the sprawling McNear ranch.

Norris Rawles, public works director, said nothing definite has been presented thus far. The site of the proposed treatment plan has not even been selected yet.

The sanitation commissioners may call a special meeting with Latipac when concrete plans are ready.

The $38,000 Bret Harte pumping plant was formally accepted by the commission yesterday. The new plant to serve the Bret Harte area replaced an old one located on Woodland avenue opposite DuBois street, near the H. C. Little Burner Co.

(A Semi-Weekly Column)

Don't Just Talk—Do Something To Boost Business Climate, Says Official

Mark Twain is often quoted to the effect that nobody ever does anything about the climate, though everybody talks about it.

Recently another Mark — Mark R. Sullivan, president of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and also president of the State Chamber of Commerce—told a Los Angeles audience that somebody had better do something about California's climate.

"Good economic climate does not just happen," he declared. "It must be willed and nurtured into being."

He went on to advise that the people of the state, direct sufferers from economic crop failures, should keep an eye on business barometers and be alert to the question, "How do the laws, institutions and mores of California concerning opportunities for capital and labor compare with those of other states?"

The PT&T chief noted that California's business barometer must be kept in the "fair and warmer" sector in the light of forecasts of a staggering 20 million by 1970.

"Thousands of new employment opportunities must be opened up every month, and literally billions of dollars will have to be attracted to provide the tools and equipment for new factories, farms, communication and electric systems," he pointed out.

He didnt add, but he might have, that as it is with the state, so is it with its counties. This business of providing employmen opportunities and attracting business investment must also be eyed at the local level, by the people and by their representatives who set public policies and, to use the word so favored in government circles, "implement" them.

HAVING STARTED OUT today in weather-wise vein, we will attempt to avoid the mixed meteorological metaphor and present our bi-monthly Bankers' Business Barometer:

Total check clearings of the six Marin offices of the First National Bank in San Rafael for the period Nov. 16-30 were $22,421,610. The period contained nine bank days.

The total was down somewhat from the $23,744,332 total recorded in the first half of November, which, incidentally, contained 10 banking days.

John W. Parker, San Rafael district manager for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has returned from Monterey, where he attended a five-day company conference ending yesterday.

GEOFFREY MALPAS of Sausalito, a certified public accountant with wide work experience from London to Manila, has joined the staff of the Ampex Corp. in Redwood City, manufacturer of magnetic recorders.

Malpas, a native of England, has served at general manager of the Bon Marche store in Sacramento and most recently as manager of the Arthur Young Co. in San Francisco.

He is a member of the national and state societies of certified public accountants.

TRAILORBOAT ENGINEERING CO. of San Rafael reported this week on its expansion during the past year for production of fiberglass boats in addition to its original line of aluminum craft.

Trailorboat has added 24,000 square feet to its plant for the fiberglass operation, with an investment of $290,000 in the new buildings and equipment.

Fiberglass boat production is more seasonal in nature than manufacture of aluminum boats, according to Trailorboat owners Ralph Cain, Vic and Ray Lenci (this is not the type of business climate we referred to earlier), but the firm plans to put an additional 65 to 70 persons on its payroll when fiberglass production resumes next spring.

Trailorboat employs 55 persons at present. The firm has turned out more than 50,000 aluminum boats in its 11-year history.

THE DEXTER CAR CO. at 1731 Fourth street in San Rafael is opening its enlarged showroom today and tomorrow.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market reduced early losses in late afternoon trading today. Most issues remained under the previous close.

Some aircraft and rail stocks recovered to post small gains. Metals shaved their declines. Several of the drug shares held on to substantial gains.

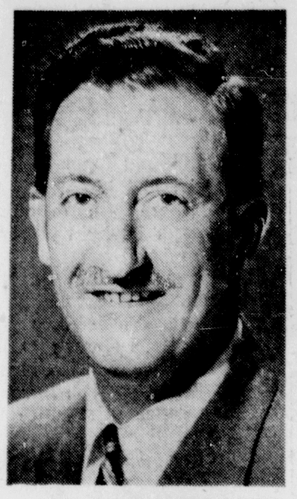

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,300,000 shares compared with 3,630,000 yesterday.

Merck and Pfizer jumped more than three points and Parke, Davis was up almost three.

New Billboard Law Asked By McCarthy

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The chairman of a state legislative committee has asked opponents and proponents of billboard advertising to devise a new regulatory law acceptable to both sides.

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), suggesting the conciliatory effort yesterday, said he favors stricter regulation. His Senate subcommittee had just concluded what he called its final hearing on the matter.

Appearing in favor of a stricter law were representatives of the California Roadside Council, composed of scenic promotion groups. Spokesmen for billboard advertisers appeared against it, as they did at previous subcommittee sessions in Monterey, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Texas' crude oil reserves increased 9.2 barrels for each foot of well drilled in 1957. This compared with an average increase of 17 barrels annually during thep ast 10 years.

Market Boosts Hub Building To $303,273

A building permit for a $200,000 United Market on Red Hill avenue at Forbes avenue boosted San Anselmo's total value of permits issued during November to an unusual high of $303,273.

The previous month, the total was $113,000, according to statistics of the U. S. Labor Department.

The Red Hill Liquor Store and a small residence were demolished this week to make way for the new market.

11 DWELLINGS

Eight of the 11 permits for single family dwellings issued last month were taken out by R. H. Stockton, who is constructing eight houses on hillside lots in Floribel Manor. Total value of the 11 permits was $65,864 in terms of 1945 building costs.

William R. Meager took out a $14,000 repair job at 217 San Anselmo avenue, the building to be used as a four-unit apartment house.

SERVICE STATION

On Nov. 6, General Petroleum Corp. was issued a permit to build a $10,000 Mobilgas service station to replace the one at the Hub. However, construction was held up after changed designs were submitted. Also, Fire Chief Nello Marcucci objected to a redwood building which is not permitted in a Class 1 fire zone, and has obtained agreement from representatives of General Petroleum to use a fire resistant material, said City Manager Arthur W. Brewer.

Six permits for minor alterations and additions to existing buildings totaled $9,550.

Wells Fargo, American Trust Officials Considering Merger

Wells Fargo Bank and American Trust Co. officials confirmed rumors of merger discussions yesterday.

I. W. Hellman, president of Wells Fargo, said he and Harris Kirk, American Trust president, have discussed the subject, but "no final conclusions have been reached."

Ransom M. Cook, senior vice president of American Trust, said:

"We're in the talk stage, but it's very preliminary."

Combined resources of the two banks would amount to about 2.4 billion dollars.

Wells Fargo, dating from 1852, has 12 branches in the San Francisco Bay Area.

American Trust, which traces its origins back to 1854, has 98 branches in nine Northern California counties.

Rocket Kills 3 Engineers

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Three young engineers for the Gallery Chemical Co. were killed and four others injured early today when a home-made rocket exploded in a waste disposal area at the firm's plant southwest of Lawrence.

The dead were Charles Sattes, 31; William Reynolds, 29, and Frank Wengrzyn, 24.

Richard A. Wright, 26, and Elmer Boyd, 38, were hospitalized with serious injuries. Ben Leavitt and James Longstregh, who were behind a blast wall at the time, escaped with minor injuries.

Plant manager R. G. Schmidt said the young engineers were experimenting with the rocket while off-duty.

Construction Boom On In San Rafael

This year's unusually dry weather and a business pickup are combining to give San Rafael its second biggest construction boom year in history.

Records compiled by Building Inspector Clifford Monk show that total valuation of construction through November has reached $5,993,971. Building in December is almost certain to push the year's total above the 1955 mark of $6,330,000. This would mean the 1958 building valuation would be second only to the record $8,266,000 posted in 1956.

Theb uilding department will probably issue permits this month for a quarter-million-dollar apartment project at Belvedere and Canal streets east of Francisco boulevard. Kaehler Construction Co. proposes a 29-unit apartment there immediately across the street from the midget auto racing track.

Other projects "in the mill" include a new store at 871 Fourth street, on a vacant lot with 25-foot frontage. William McDevitt Co. is doing the work for owners Albert Tognoli and Jack Zander.

Williams Construction Co. plans another seven-unit apartment building at 45 Woodland avenue, valued at between $28,000 and $30,000.

Big projects for which building permits were issued last month included two more buildings at the rapidly developing Montecito Properties commercial center on Third street. A permit was also issued for a $41,000 warehouse at 4 Front street for Bellach Furniture Co. which was destroyed by fire several months ago.

NAM Elects Executive Who Started 2nd Career At 65

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley C. Hope, a business leader who launched a second career at the age of 65, is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Hope was elected at the annual NAM convention last night to succeed Milton C. Lightner, board chairman of the Singer Manufacturing Co. of Elizabeth, N.J.

In a statement of acceptance, Hope suggested NAM "could afford to change its name to the National Assn. for Manufacturers."

He declared, "We must be for and not against. We must be for government expenditures but on a reasonable basis; we must be for taxation but on an equitable basis; and we must be for labor relations but on an honest and constructive basis."

Hope said the present era should become an "age of reasonableness." Many problems could be solved, he said, if a "reasonable" attitude were shown by the Soviet Union, leaders of organized labor and the U.S. government.

The new NAM president retired as president of Esso Standard Oil Co. last July after spending 46 years with several affiliates of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He immediately assumed the presidency of SoundScriber Corp., North Haven, Conn., manufacturers of dictating equipment.

He served notice at the time he would organize his business so that his work week would be three days for the balance of the year.

"By doing that, I will have more time to indulge in my many sports and hobbies," said Hope.

Building Union Unit Threatens AFL-CIO Bolt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Building and Trades Council, angered at "encroachment" by CIO construction workers, has threatened to lead a nationwide bolt from the AFL-CIO.

The council took action yesterday in a resolution unanimously adopted by 500 delegates representing California's 350,000 AFL building trades unionists. The AFL and CIO have not yet merged in California.

The resolution said several industrial (old CIO) unions had deliberately encroached upon the craft jurisdiction of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department and its 19 affiliated unions.

It said the industrial unions perform construction, alteration and repair work at rates of pay far below the established rates of unions affiliated with the Building and Construction Trades Department.

As a result, the delegates said the council would ask the Building and Construction Trades Department "to withdraw from the AFL-CIO, to protect the craft jurisdiction of the building trades unions."

The resolution was the last order of the council's convention. In other business, the delegates accepted credentials from Teamsters' construction and material drivers locals, and ignored orders from AFL-CIO president George Meany to remove Teamsters from council office.

As a result, Gerald A. Shea-

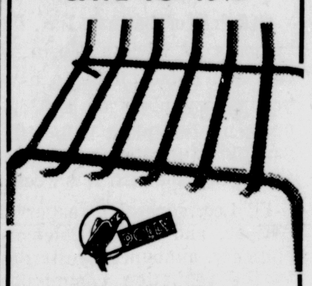

Hub Chamber To Sponsor Yule Display

San Anselmo will have a 28-foot-tall Christmas tree at the Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Red Hill intersection, its traditional Santa Claus with reindeer display atop the roof of the nearby corporation yard building and a strolling Santa Claus who will stop to talk to children and give out candies.

It was decided at yesterday's meeting of the chamber that Santa Claus would make his appearance in downtown San Anselmo during the week preceding Christmas. The decorations will be up within the next week, said George G. Washburn, chamber secretary.

THESE RUSSIANS ARE SO VIOLENT

Curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m. today on Tamalpais Valley Players' production of "Squaring the Circle," comedy concerning life and love in contemporary Russia. Raising the ruckus here are Walt Lowden (center), unsuccessful mediator between Ester Allen and Morrie Batz (left) and Jane Healey and Joe Allen. These five rejoice in the stage names of Emilian, Tonya, Abram, Ludmilla and Vasya. The play will have a two-weekend run in the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club on Maple street.

Burdell Trustees Postpone Decision On New Building

Burdell School District trustees held a brief meeting in San Rafael yesterday, but did not discuss the possibility of putting up a new building to replace the historic one-room school recently destroyed by fire.

The district's 12 pupils, children of Novato area ranchers, are now using a classroom in Our Lady of Loretto Catholic parochial school in Novato.

At yesterday's meeting, held in the office of Leland W. Harris, assistant county superintendent of schools, the board voted to purchase a desk for teacher Florence Adams and adjustable desks for her pupils.

James Grossi, clerk of the board, said the desks will cost approximately $600.

"The children are back in school now, so we felt it wasn't urgent that we have any discussion about a new school building until after the first of the year," Grossi said today. "Because of the approaching holidays, we postponed all further meetings until next month."

2,000 Petition For End To A-Testing

About 2,000 Marin residents have signed a petition urging the ending of nuclear weapons testing, Phillip Drath of San Rafael, chairman of the Marin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, reported today.

The petition has been sent to the Geneva Conference on Nuclear Disarmament of the United States, Great Britain and Russia, he said.

The petition calls for an international inspection to control cessation of the testing.

Grand Jury Schools Report Should Be Listened To

Marin's 1957-58 Grand Jury has completed its work and filed its final report. In it, the jurors took some calculated swings at the county's educational system.

In 12 pages of the final report, the jury deals with basic school matters varying from district expenditures to teachers salaries to curriculum to school insurances. Although the report is obviously a summation, it clearly indicates that much thought and study went into its declarations.

This is not something that the schools can shrug off as "just another criticism." This is a report made by a group of public spirited Marin citizens who have devoted a year of their life to service for the community. They have studied the situation and think that by constructive criticism, they can do something about it.

They can too, if they get the sympathetic cooperation of the school people.

The report itself is not specific enough to be of much direct help to individual school districts, except in a very few instances. But the remarks are specific enough for a school board to take the criticisms one by one and see if each applies in their particular district. If trustees would dispassionately do this, the Grand Jury's report could accomplish great good.

As the report points out, there are 29 autonomous school districts in Marin, varying in size from four elementary districts with 12 or less students to the nearly 5,000 in the San Rafael Elementary and High School District. Each has its own problems. Each must seek its own solutions. This report can well serve as a standard by which they can measure their accomplishments in the fields discussed.

But the jurors also made crystal clear that it is not just a school matter. They put the responsibility for good education squarely on the shoulders of the public as well. There is this pertinent paragraph in the report's conclusions and recommendations:

"In order to improve the end product of the schools, the education of the pupils, we are of the opinion that nothing permanently constructive can be accomplished until there is instilled into the parents and the community at large a greater respect for learning. Academic achievement in the minds of a large segment of the public is running a poor competition with athletics, extra curricular activities and social events, with natural reaction from youngsters."

So there you have it. Not only is it the schools' duty to read and use the Grand Jury's report, but it also should be an awakener for the public. (It will be printed in full in an early issue of the I-J.) You, and we too, are responsible for seeing that our children get the best possible schooling. And we're also responsible if they don't.

Marin To New York In 5 Hours

The new jet flights between San Francisco and New York which are to be inaugurated early in the new year will place Marin within five hours flying time from New York City, assuming a good connection at the San Francisco International Airport.

Flying ahead of most of their noise and having little or no tiring vibration, these new planes will usher in a new era of passenger comfort and speed. Better equipped kitchens will make possible such items as steaks broiled aloft.

Now it is plausible, theoretically, at least, to think of having an early lunch in Marin and arriving in New York in time to grab a taxi and speed to an eight o'clock opening of a Broadway show. The next morning we could board a plane at nine and be back in Marin at eleven. Sounds like a dream, but it is possible.

Not only will the jets be faster and more comfortable, but they are expected to be more economical and may make decreases in fares feasible.

Frightened Of Boss, Wife? Just Squirt 'Em With Fear Gas Bomb

NEW YORK (AP) — Every now and then an idea developed by the military services turns out to be more useful in peace than in war.

An example was the aerosol bomb developed during the World War II. It is now used to spray everything from whitewash to tooth paste.

A still more promising product is a new "fear gas" being developed by the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. It already is strong enough to cause an alley cat to become terrified at the sight of a mouse.

In time, says Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, it may become refined to a point where sprayed on a battlefield, it might temporarily paralyze the will of enemy troops to fight.

While this certainly would be a great boon in wartime, can't a gas of this kind find equally important civilian employment?

As it is now, millions of ordinary people are so nervous, upset, and afraid, that they meet every daily emergency by swallowing a couple of tranquilizer pills. The pills don't rid them of their fears. They simply dull the impact of their fears.

HOW MUCH FINER your existence would be if, instead of a bottle of tranquilizer pills you had a pocketful of small new aerosol bombs loaded with superstrong fear gas! Instead of having to calm your own fears you could make everybody else afraid of you.

Are you afraid to ask your boss for a raise? Not with your trusty fear gas bomb. You merely walk into Old Scrooge's office, spray him in the face—and wait for him to hand over to you the keys to the company.

Are you afraid of your wife when you sneak into the house at 3 a.m. after a losing session at poker? Simply squirt a few whiffs of fear gas at her, and she'll run in panic and lock herself in the bedroom.

WHATEVER FRIGHTENED you before — supercilious clothing store salesmen, haughty waiters, threatening landlords, arrogant traffic cops—now quakes before you. The barrage of fear gas you spread around you (don't breathe it yourself:) turns you into a conquering hero.

It is a mighty dream. And it has only one flaw. If everybody brought a supply of these fear gas grenades and started tossing them around, then everybody would be afraid of everybody and everything else.

But what's to lose there? Isn't that about the present situation of the world today anyway?

Sanitary Board To Study Plans

Directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District have set a special meeting at 5:30 p.m. on Dec. 17 at the district office to consider plans and specifications for a sewer line replacement near the site of Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

A line 12 inches in diameter will replace 1,275 feet of the present eight-inch diameter sewage pipe. J. Warren Nute, engineer for the district, will present the plans.

Teens Have Fun Without Trouble

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

These days, when the word "teen-ager" is often synonomous with "delinquent" and "trouble" in the minds of adults, it is a great pleasure to tell of an event that renewed an ever present faith in teen-agers and, incidentally, in our new sheriff!

Last Saturday 12 Tam and Redwood High Seniors gave a public dance in Sausalito. It is nearly impossible for an unsponsored (organizationally) group to do so, but they were fortunate. Of the many chaperones who promised to come, not one arrived.

Present, as promised, was our new Sheriff Lou Mountanos; Officers Lunt & Shiner of the Sausalito Police Dept. volunteered and were there, too, as was Fireman Swede Peterson. These men did not come in uniforms, grimly, with guns on hips, but wore suits and were obviously interested in the affair.

Present also were over 300 young people, ranging from age 16 up. They represented almost every club and group organization from Kentfield south.

Realizing the responsibility of the 12 girls giving the dance, it was wonderful to note that they were on their finest behavior. There were no incidents to mar the evening, no problems to be "handled."

Public and private parties in the past have been trouble spots, complete with uncontrolled drinking, riots and general mayhem. Many of Saturday's group had been present at the well-publicized Donneybrooks, but the difference is that this time the responsibility was their own . . . an example was to be set.

Let me emphasize that these kids weren't the "angel" type—the potential was there for real trouble if they were so inclined.

A tremendous amount of credit is due to the pleasant unassuming manner of the officials present; and even higher praise is due these young people who realized the difficulty of having a public dance and their subsequent behaviour.

If Marin's adults would stop trembling in their boots long enough to look at the teenage situation, they would realize the great need for places to congregate and things to do with minimum supervision and maximum trust. The teenagers will return that trust a thousandfold if given a chance.

Minimum supervision meaning just that — young and interested chaperones, not sitting with a dour and disapproving expression so frequently found . . . present for the sheer fun of it and enjoyment of youth, not as a grim civic "duty."

Brown Asks All Department Heads To Resign; He May Not Accept Some

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The announcement made by Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown that he wants the resignations of all the cabinet officers now in state government is not one that is highly unusual. In fact, department heads usually hand in such resignations as a matter of courtesy without the governor having to ask for them.

This is done in a change of governors, whether it be a member of the same party or not, to permit the new governor of the state free rein in selecting his cabinet.

In some instances, there are hold-overs, and this will not be an exception in the Brown administration, as he already has appointed one hold-over, Richard A. McGee, as director of the department of corrections.

WHETHER BROWN'S announcement came as a request so that some recalcitrant directors who might want to stay, would be easier to hand walking papers, or whether Brown is unacquainted with the normal procedures of state government, is not known.

But in any event, the new Democratic governor of the state wants a free hand in selecting his cabinet members, as he properly should have.

Already, Brown has scuttled party lines by appointing Bert Levit of San Francisco as state director of finance. Some people who know the new money man of California say he is the most conservative of Republicans.

THE APPOINTMENT brought no cheers from loyal Democratic party members, who worked hard in Brown's campaign, despite the fact that Levit was the head of the "Republicans for Brown" segment of the population during the campaign.

But even with this distinction, some of the hard-working Democrats feel that Brown's dishing out the juiciest job of the entire administration to a rank Republican borders somewhat on the fringes of party disloyalty.

BROWN STATED during his comment on resignations that the people had voted for a change in state government, and indicated they were going to get a change. However, his actions belie his words, if he intends to retain some of the present staff of directors.

Almost certain to be on the list of directors whose resignations will be accepted with pleasure is Seth Gordon, head of the state department of fish and game. Speculation has it that Gordon, whose activities in the department have infuriated sportsmen throughout the state, will be supplanted by Lee F. Payne, former member of the Fish and Game Commission, presently editor of the Temple City Times, and a widely known authority on the subject.

THE BOOM by some Democratic friends of Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers for the job is not expected to get to first base, as the Democrats owe Powers nothing. Unless Brown deviates further from party lines than he already has, Powers probably would get no consideration at all.

The change-over, of course, will be gradual, as starting with an entire new team could off-set some of the plays.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

To give you a rough idea of what newspaper editors in frontier towns were up against in the days of the "Wild and Wooly West," Harry Oliver tells about a subscriber who was stopped at the entrance of the Wahoo City Bugle. "Where's the editor?" he roared.

"First," insisted the clerk on duty, "you gotta tell us what you want to shoot him in reference to."

Alfred Hitchcock conjured up the most ingenious "lead-in" for a TV commercial I've heard in years. "When I was a lad," recalled Mr. H., "I had an uncle who often stood me to dinner. He always accompanied these dinners with interminable stories about himself. But I listened carefully because he was paying the check. I don't know what reminded me of my dear uncle, but we are about to have one of our commercials."

If You Drink Cokes, Please Watch For This Boy's Bottle

Most youngsters these days think of Coca Cola bottles merely as a container for a soft drink or a vehicle for reclaiming a deposit.

But Fred Schwab of San Rafael had a coke bottle he really treasured.

Although the bottle had the familiar hour-glass shape of a John Held beauty, the printing had a different look. On one side of the bottle the words were written in French; on the other, they were written in Arabic.

It was the Arabic side which brought trouble to Fred.

His mother, Ethel Schwab, borrowed the prized empty, which had been brought to San Rafael from North Africa, to show to a girl who was studying Arabic. The girl took it to her class, where it was received with interest, and then brought it down to the I-J. She set it down on a desk.

Along came one of our keep-everything-clean advocates and the bottle disappeared, unmissed for the moment, into a carton of empties awaiting the coke distributor's truck.

So if you get a bottle of coke inscribed with strange shirttail K letters on one side and French on the other, let us know, will you?

WE'RE TOLD that Terra Linda Community Services District directors are a little upset with the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District. Seems Terra Linda had been hoping to get a fire engine from the State Educational Agency for Surplus Property; had an application in.

But Alto-Richardson Bay had the same idea — and were on the spot when one became available.

Why should Terra Linda be mad?

OUR RACIAL discrimination story of the week:

Radio DJ Ollie Freeman told us about the cannibal who reformed and came to the United States on a visit. He went into a swank restaurant and sat down at a table.

A young waitress came up to him and declared: "Sir, are you aware of the fact we don't serve Negroes here?"

CITY COUNCILS sometimes wonder why they don't have more people in attendance at their meetings. We're doing their business, the councilmen reason, shouldn't the people be interested in it?

Of course they should. But sometimes city governments themselves make this exasperating.

Take one city councilt hat met this week. The mayor was pleased to notice two men and a woman sitting in the audience, so, after the minutes were approved about 8:15 p.m., he asked:

"Does anyone wish to address the council?"

The mayor consulted his agenda. "That report is on the agenda, we'll get to it shortly," he indicated.

At a quarter to 11, the item was reached.

"Now, how about your report?" the mayor asked the city manager.

"I haven't gotten around to making the study yet," answered the city manager.

Berlin Move By Soviet Is Just Opening Gambit Of A Long Game

Each day makes it seem more likely that the Soviet move in Berlin is the opening gambit in an extensive diplomatic operation dealing with the whole German question.

Although the long note from Moscow, which was sent last Thursday, makes specific proposals about the status of West Berlin, its general tenor and the text around the proposals suggests very strongly that the Soviet government looks upon West Berlin as an instrument for raising the whole question of Germany.

There can hardly be any illusion in Moscow that the Western powers will refuse to evacuate West Berlin and to leave it surrounded by the Red Army and with its communications in control of the East German government.

THE PROPOSALS about Berlin are a talking point, not a serious offer. I say this because Khrushchev has already said in his press conference that the six months time limit would not be rigidly adhered to if promising negotiations were under way. And if promising negotiations are not under way, precautions have already been taken to see to it that nothing portentous happens if authority is transferred to the East German government.

ALL IN ALL, then, there is no instant crisis and we are at the beginning of a long game in which the distance runners will do better than the sprinters.

It is not probable, I think, that on the whole German question there will be any really serious negotiations for the next two years. A serious negotiation would be one in which at the end of the line the Soviet Army would agree to withdraw from Central and Eastern Europe and back within its own frontiers.

It is reasonably certaint hat the Soviet government has not convinced itself that it can withdraw its army without running a great risk of an anti-Soviet and an anti-Russian explosion among the satellites. Yet, at the same time, there is good reason to believe that the Soviet government lives in dread of another Hungary, and realizes that there is a great risk in the continuing military occupation of Eastern Europe.

ON OUR WESTERN side, a serious negotiation is not likely to begin soon because policy is made by Dr. Adenauer and Dulles. Their terms call for the liquidation of the East German state and the extension of the frontier of NATO to the Polish border. This is literally and exactly a demand for the unconditional surrender of the Soviet Union, and it is not a negotiating position.

It is reasonable to assume that the Soviet operation in Berlin is addressed to the German successors of Dr. Adenauer and to the American successors of Dulles. That is why the gambit in Berlin is only the beginning of a long game.

KILLER SMOG THREATENS LONDON AFTER 25 DAYS OF PEASOUP FOG

LONDON (UPI)—A British scientist warned today that the peasoup fog that has blanketed Britain for 25 days is turning into a killer smog.

The scientist was Dr. B. T. Cummings of London's Bartholomew's hospital which treated hundreds of victims in 1952 when a killer smog took 4,000 lives.

The disastrous smog followed the same pattern. London and the surrounding counties were blanketed for weeks by a crippling fog until coal and other fumes turned it into a death blanket.

Today the heavy blanket covered 30 counties extending over an area of 28,000 square miles. Cummings said smoke pollution in the air over London had passed the safe limit.

DOCTOR ADVISES:

When Tragedy Hits, Express Your Grief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—If tragedy strikes, forget all about keeping a stiff upper lip and let your grief gush out, a Mayo Clinic psychiatrist advised today.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett said the person who is brave and holds up well when a loved one dies wins praise from society but is headed for possible mental trouble in later years.

He told family doctors attending the annual clinic conference of the American Medical Assn. that the physician is in a position to administer psychiatric first aid in such situations that could guard against later mental trouble.

The important period, Dr. Faucett said, comes a few hours after the first stunning impact of the catastrophe has passed and there is a gradual return of semiconsciousness.

"This is the crucial phase in the grief reaction and its proper working through is necessary for future emotional health," he said. "There is a great need to talk and ventilate feelings about the dead one in this phase. This need to ventilate—to cry, to be angry, to talk about the past—must be encouraged."

Dr. Faucett said the bereaved person should not be removed from his situation geographically, socially or emotionally.

Even at this point, he said, the doctor should encourage the person to reconstruct the past in relation to the present and begin to contemplate the future realistically.

New License Plates Will Last Decade

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Californians will get "lifetime" auto license plates in 1963, made of lightweight aluminum instead of the present steel.

The plates are supposed to last at least 10 years—about the life of the average car—compared with the present five. The changed of materials means the present plates issued in 1956 will have to last until 1963.

The new plates will be black with yellow figures, reversing the present arrangement. They'll use the present numbering system of three letters and three numerals.

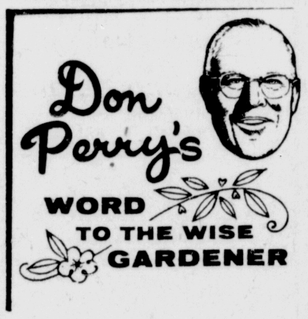

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight announced the new plates yesterday, saying the switch in materials is primarily an economy move. By cutting out one renewal period, the state hopes to save one and one-half million dollars—about $90,000 in postage and $75,000 to rebuild the Motor Vehicles Department's files.

Inmates at Folsom Prison will start turning out two million of the new plates for trucks and five million for trailers and motorcycles in the near future. Some eight million car plates will be made later.

Corte Madera P. O. Sets Holiday Hours

The Corte Madera Post Office will begin late hours for the Christmas rush on Monday, according to Postmaster Edward J. Victor.

Victor said the office will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Saturday until Christmas. Windows also will be open 1 to 4 p. m. on Sundays, Dec. 14 and 21.

THERE IS an old saying that there are two ways to getting a job done — the easy way and the hard way. From our observation, there are too many gardeners doing most of their tasks the hard way.

CHANCES ARE you know as many "hard way" gardeners as we do. Why not put a stop to this deplorable situation this Christmas? We have dozens of devices in our garden store that will make living a lot easier for gardeners.

THEN, TOO, gardening tools have a habit of wearing out. This gives you an opportunity to choose a new late model and win some happy gardener's esteem and gratitude for many months to come.

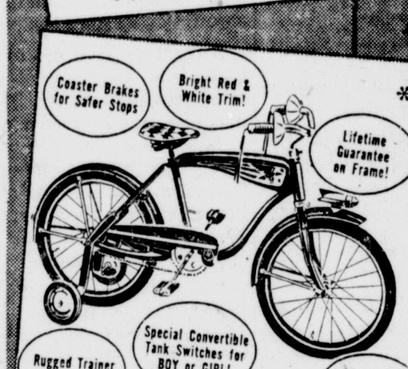

AND WHILE you are shopping for garden gifts, be sure to see our fine display of unusual Christmas decorations. Many are exclusive with us in this area. Plan to come in soon!

Champ Choice Over Jordan In Title Go

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hot-and-cold Virgil Akins is favored at 12-5 to make a successful first defense of his world welterweight championship tonight against speedy young Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

Despite Akins' punching prowess and Jordan's skill, their scheduled 15-rounder leaves local fans lukewarm. Less than 6,000 are expected at the Olympic Auditorium, where the gate may approach $40,000.

Because the bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC, it must be started at 7 p.m. That early start may have hurt the ticket sale, although there's a TV blackout in a 300-mile radius.

Regardless of the crowd and gate, Los Angeles' first welterweight title fight in 19 years will be a financial success because of the $50,000 in TV-radio money, and because each fighter works strictly on percentage.

The 30-year-old champion from St. Louis gets 40 per cent of all net receipts, and the 24-year-old Negro-Indian challenger gets 20 per cent.

IN-AND-OUTER

Akins has been in in-and-outer before he won the 147-pound crown, and afterwards. But he is a solid favorite because of his punch. He reached a peak of explosiveness while winning the vacant crown on June 6. The well-built Negro floored Vince Martinez of Patterson, N.J., nine times for a four-round knockout in the elimination tourney final at St. Louis.

Since then Akins displayed his inconstancy in two non-title bouts. He had to score a desperation 10th round kayo to win over Tombstone Smith, who had given him a thorough licking for nine rounds and gashed both brows. And on Sept. 18, Virgil lost a decision to Del Flanagan at St. Paul, Minn.

29 KNOCKOUTS

That was his 18th defeat in 68 bouts. He had one draw. However, his 49 victories included 29 knockouts.

Jordan, although only a half-inch taller than Akins' five-feet-nine, appears lanky. He's the challenger tonight because an eight-bout winning streak made him recognized as top contender everywhere.

Don . . . an expert with the bow and arrow, and called "Geronimo" by his mother—is an upright boxer who can bob and weave if necessary. He's considered faster and smarter than the aggressive, stalking champion. Don's best weapons are his left jab and left hook although he can throw fast combinations with both fists. Only a fair puncher, Don registered 15 knockouts while winning 43 of his 54 bouts. Unusually rugged, he never was stopped.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

All-Time Marin Cage Squad Named; Can 49ers Use Bare-Foot Kicker?

The great Don Barksdale and three members of the 1948 national championship team have been named among the 10 greatest basketball players in the history of College of Marin.

The Kentfield college's vice president, Paul "Dutch" Clymer, who has seen most of Marin's teams in action through the years, went out on the limb in the school's basketball brochure and selected an All-Time All-Star team.

Barksdale, who later starred in college and pro ranks, played at Marin in 1942. The three national champs on Clymer's dream squad of 10 are Herbie Jotter, Walt Moreno and Ray Snyder. Their feats a decade ago led the Cinderella Marin team to the national J.C. crown in Missouri.

Others selected by Clymer include Bob Burnett, 1936; Dave Mariani, 1939; Johnny Allen and Bob Alameida, 1940; Glenn Robinson, 1952 and Stan Wells from last season's squad.

WE DON'T know of any rule that says players must wear shoes in professional football, but it wouldn't be wise to go into battle bare-footed.

The discussion came up at the College of Marin football field the other day when Gordon Tovani, Marin's bare-foot place-kicker with cheeks of tan, was exhibiting his unique talents for a select audience that included Joe "The Toe" Vetrano, the former 49er ace booter, and Prescott Sullivan, the sports columnist.

After watching Tovani boot the pigskin from all angles, up to lengths of 45 yards, Vetrano admitted the 32-year-old Kentfielder has talent.

"He has all the movements and the pros might be able to use him," Vetrano, now a Cadillac salesman, admitted, "but, I'd suggest he try it with shoes on.

"He'd get more distance in the first place, Also, I'm afraid he wouldn't last long barefooted. If the players didn't 'get' him, I'm afraid George Halas (coach of the Chicago Bears) would manage to stop him someway. He'd probably throw tacks or glass out onto the field."

Tovani says he doesn't like to kick with shoes on. Says his big toe provides the power while his second and third toes serve as guides. "Unless I can find some extremely lightweight shoes, "I'm afraid I'd be no good," Gordon explained. "I've found most football shoes too heavy."

Tovani's exhibition amazed the small gathering at his "audition." Although he muffed quite a few kicks, he managed to impress everyone with good shots from 45 yards out and uncanny accuracy from angles.

Sullivan asked him to break the National Football League record of field goal of 53 yards, so Tovani tried from 55 yards, but failed on about 20 attempts, although many times he barely missed.

Incidentally, Tovani kicks with his toes straight out, not curled up, as Vetrano first suspected. "Joe The Toe" got down on his hands and knees to examine Tovani's method and cringed when he saw the end of the toe smash the pigskin. "Ouch," he cried, "that even hurts to watch."

The party then broke up and encouraged by Vetrano's statement that "the pros might be able to use you," Tovani started thinking about finding a pair of shoes. He hustled right over to Free-Minetti Sports Shop in San Francisco to see if they could help him. If so, Gordy said he might try out for the 49ers next season.

The 49ers didn't draft him at Monday's pro meeting. Good thing. Everyone knows it's not healthy to get caught in a draft without your shoes on.

Olson To Battle Bob Jones Dec. 16

FRESNO (UPI) — Carl (Bobo) Olson, one-time world middleweight champion has signed a contract for a 10-round bout in Fresno's Memorial Auditorium Dec. 16.

Olson's opponent will be veteran Bobby Jones of Oakland, a former state middleweight champion. Olson is on the comeback trail and has won his first two matches by knockouts as a light-heavyweight.

BOWLING

Team results: Swain Realty d. Marin Coffee Shop, 3-0; Bianco Motors d. Currie Heating, 3-0; Meyers Plumbing d. Marin Foreign Cars, 3-0; Roll and Son d. Moore's Candies, 2-1; Pelican Publishing d. The Patio, 2-1; The Cellars d. Strikers, 2-1.

REBOUND BATTLE — Jim Moya (13) and Mike Presseau (30) of USF make desperate effort to control a rebound against Seattle at USF's new gymnasium last night. But Charley Brown (45), Seattle forward, snagged the ball and whipped it down court as Chieftains went on to win 60-58 thriller.

Cox Sparkles But Dons Bow

Ronnie Cox, versatile graduate of Drake High School who has been billed as a substitute guard for the University of San Francisco, may have graduated into a starting position last night with a dazzling exhibition that almost gave the Dons an upset victory over the highly favored Seattle Chieftains.

With a packed crowd roaring approval in the new USF gymnasium, Cox, a sophomore guard, came off the bench to spark Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons to a rally that narrowly missed a big upset. Only a last second field goal by Seattle's Francis Saunders saved the Chieftains and gave them a thrilling 60-58 victory.

Cox, a 5-foot-11 San Anselman who starred in basketball, football and baseball at Drake, was USF's second highest scorer with 12 points, 8 of them coming in succession in less than two minutes to pull the Dons within one point (56-57). Then with 43 seconds remaining teammate John Cunningham connected for a 58-57 USF lead. However, in the hectic final seconds Seattle's Jerry Frizzell was fouled, scored the first of his foul throws to tie it up, missed the second, but Saunders was there to bat it back in through the mesh for the winning bucket at the sound of the buzzer.

DEFENSIVE STAR

Cox's pesky defensive work and sharp-shooting with either hand drew the plaudits of the capacity crowd of 6,000 fans who were there to help dedicate USF's $1 million gym.

After USF shot off to a 9-0 early lead, the veteran Chieftains fought back, led 34-30 at halftime and breezed along to a 57-48 bulge with less than three minutes remaining. But then Cox went into his scoring binge, closing the gap to 56-57, only to watch this great comeback fall short.

Top Quints In Twin Bill At Cow Palace

An especially attractive double bill takes place in San Francisco's cavernous Cow Palace where Stanford meets Santa Clara and then UCLA and St. Mary's clash. All four teams have big dreams this year and none has yet tasted defeat.

The second tussle will provide fans with a glimpse or two of the most highly touted sophomores in west coast cage history, UCLA's Kent Miller and St. Mary's Tom Meschery.

The opener starts at 7:30 o'clock and the nightcap at 9:30.

Murtaugh Injured In Taxi Accident

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Daniel E. Murtaugh, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was injured slightly today when a car and the taxi in which he was riding collided at an intersection.

He was treated at a hospital for bruises of the right knee and head and sent home. No one else was injured.

OREGON, MIAMI VIE TOMORROW IN TV GAME

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Brief workouts in the Orange Bowl stadium were scheduled today by Oregon and Miami as a tuneup for their final football game of the season Saturday afternoon.

Coach Len Casanova brought his 35-strong Oregon squad into Miami after midnight, but planned to have them limbering up by 3 p.m.

Miami Coach Andy Gustafson may preview against the Ducks an attack he plans to use next year in place of his powerful old friend, the drive series.

Kickoff time is 10:30 a.m., PST. The game will be televised nationally by NBC.

Rosburg Defeated In Playoff For Almaden Title

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., captured the $4,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament when he won a sudden-death playoff against favored Bob Rosburg yesterday.

The two men ended regulation play deadlocked at 212 each. On the extra hole, Duden carded a par five while Rosburg trapped two shots and finished up with a bogie six. Victory was worth $750 to Duden, a 29-year-old pro little known outside of his home area.

Longden Back In Saddle At Tanfo

Notre Dame Scout Dies

Sullivan Up To Old Tricks In Comeback

The big, handsome chestnut spotted eight other horses 12 lengths yesterday and then galloped home the winner by half a length in a six-furlong $4,000 allowance race at Tanforan.

His time was 1:10 3-5, second fastest at this meeting.

Silky, the darling of the come-from-behind clique, came from 29 lengths back in winning the Santa Anita Derby earlier this year but then pooped out in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Trainer Reggie Cornell returned him to California, had a throat operation performed and then worked him out on a misty beach at Half Moon Bay, near this San Francisco suburb.

A theory that a throat obstruction cause those slow starts apparently did not hold up, at least in this first comeback try. Silky seems to like doing it the hard way.

The 3-year-old son of Irisher Sullivan, owned by Phil Klipp-stein and Tom Ross, was booed when he pranced to the post. But the crowd of 8,951 cheered him at the finish.

Jockey Don Pierce, who brushed him once with the whip at the final turn, commented: "He's the most powerful horse I've had under me."

It was Silky's ninth victory in 19 starts and boosted his earnings to $131,975. Cornell hopes to enter him in the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity in January.

SFYC Election, Stag Dinner Set Tomorrow Night

Report of the nominating committee will be submitted by Chairman William R. Fisher. Committee members are William Selbach, Harry Birch, Charles Weinshank and Jim Daley.

LAKE MERRITT Sailing Club invites small boat racing assn. racers to its annual Mid-Winter Regatta Sunday. Registration will begin at the clubhouse in Oakland at 9 a.m. with the first race set for 11 a.m., and the second race at 2 p.m. Emmett Murphy is general chairman of the regatta.

Plans Announced For Crosby Golf

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Play in singer Bing Crosby's annual $50,000 pro-amateur golfing clambake was revised a bit today to give the amateurs a better shake.

Tournament director Larry Crosby announced that an even 300 golfers will participate in the event Jan. 15-18 at Pebble Beach, 20 more than heretofore.

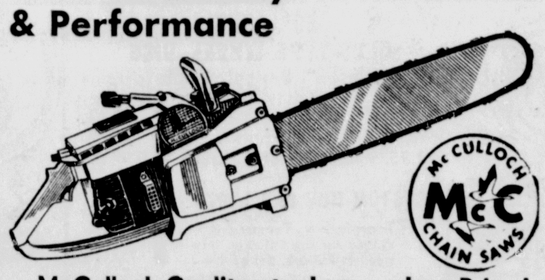

The amateurs will play three rounds in as many days, instead of two. The professionals take over for the fourth and final day, as in the past.

For the first time, there will be simultaneous play on all three of the courses in the Monterey-Del Monte area each of the first three days.

Mails Greatest Baseball Preacher, Especially Helpful To Youngsters

CONNOLLY

There is bound to be a great difference of opinion on the issue, but I'll have to duck the yakking and get right down to my story that "The Great Mails" of the S.F. Giants, now in an Elko, Nev. hospital, would be my nominee. I don't know of a finer booster nor one who exerts a greater influence on baseball than the "Ole Duster" from our neighboring village, San Quentin.

Men like Mails come along once in a lifetime of baseball history. He doesn't please everybody, nor does he expect to accomplish miracles, but for a day-in-day-out preacher of the baseball gospel, Mails has done a swell job all over the state. Wherever he goes, Mails talks baseball. I'll bet that right now in the Elko hospital he has all the nurses and medicos line up for the Giant opening game in 1959. He's that kind of a fellow.

When I last saw Mails, the Great One outlined a terrific program for getting the ladies interested in baseball.

I DON'T KNOW a single player, active or retired, who would put himself out, like Mails, to help a boy through every phase of baseball.

The significant part of Mails as a baseball preacher is that he is hitting at the roots. He wants the youngsters to become baseball conscious. "Get the kids interested, teach them the rudiments of the sport," has always been his theme song.

Certainly no other preacher of baseball has any better claim to qualifying for a job like Mails has been holding down for the Giants. He speaks as the voice of experience. He played it, taught it, and is now preaching it.

Very few left-handed pitchers fared any better down through the years as Mails did as a performer.

He rose to the heights as a southpaw pitcher with Brooklyn and later with the Cleveland Indians when he was credited with pitching them to a World Series.

IN THE PACIFIC COAST League Mails has ranked with the great southpaws of the circuit. He was fast, adventurous and just wild enough to earn the respect of any batter who faced him. All of his wild pitches were not graciously accepted and for that reason he became known as the "Duster," which, in the parlance of the sport, is one who occasionally shoots at a batter.

"I never in my life ever tried to hit a batter," Mails often told me. "I only piched close to them to keep them from taking a toe hold and perhaps driving the pill over the fence."

Just before he left San Francisco for the eastern baseball meetings, Garry Schumacher, chief of the Giants' public relations staff, told me the club was worried over Mails.

I CONFIRMED the condition of Mails last Sunday when I called Elko and tried to get to talk with Walter.

"He wants to talk to you," said the nurse, on the phone, "but my instructions from the doctors is not to allow him the use of the phone."

So Mails must be pretty exhausted. I have never known him to duck a conversation. So he must be feeling offshore.

I have known many former baseball players who say they got more out of helping kids than they did in listening to their managers. But I only know ONE GUY who did it, and that is Walter Mails.

Full Prep Cage Schedule On Marin Courts Tonight

S.R.-Novato, Marin-Tam Top Slate

High school basketball begins in earnest this evening as all seven Marin County school teams see action on local courts.

In the feature game of the evening, San Rafael High hosts the Novato Hornets in the new Bulldog gym. Each squad is rated as a contender for its section's title, in the North Bay League, and the clash should be a close one.

Novato's guard Ron Marder is the only non-gridder on the squad, and has been called by Coach Fielding Reese one of his most improved players. Joining Marder on the Hornet starting five will be Jack Sparrow at center, George Gnoss and Jud Bird at forwards, and Pete Ferrarese at the other guard slot.

Marin County footballer of the year, Ron Snidow, opens at center for the Bulldogs. Randy Petrini and Terry Tevis are the forwards and Mike Curry and John Blomquist the guards.

As might be expected in the first big game of the season, the coaches are overly pessimistic. San Rafael's Bob Lincoln feels Novato will be very tough, as the entire Hornet team returned from last year, no doubt improved. He feels his Bulldogs are coming along slowly but have a long way to go.

BULLDOGS TOUGH

Novato's Reese would call a Hornet victory a "major upset" since the Bulldogs have an awfully tough team this year.

The Class B game will start at 7 with the varsity to follow around 8:15. Fred Hines' San Rafael tumbling team will give an exhibition at half time of the varsity clash.

The Class B preliminary game will start at 7:30 and the varsity at 8:45.

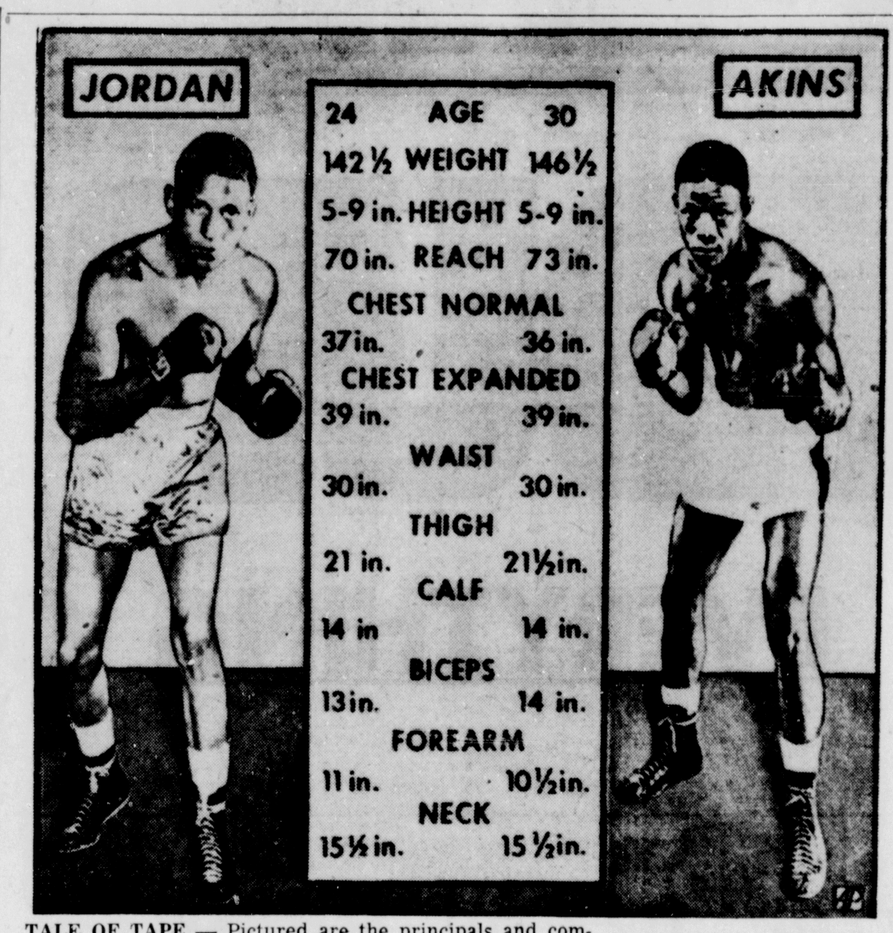

OTHER GAMES

In the other Marin games, Lowell High of San Francisco meets Drake and San Mateo High travels to Redwood. Both the B games start at 7:30 with the varsity to follow around 8:45.

Drake will be playing with an all-senior no-letterman squad. Coach Bob Fitzhenry feels that starting from scratch, the squad has improved tremendously since the start of practice. Darryl Sattui, 6-7 gridder, opens at center for the Pirates. Mike Klapak and Dick Spackman will be at forwards, with Dan Giles and Dick Llewellyn at guard.

Up north, Tomales High will play its annual game with the school's alumni. Game time is set for 7:30 in the Tomales gym.

On the junior college front Coach Cal Riemcke's College of Marin Tars trek to Serra High School in San Mateo to tackle San Mateo J. C.'s Bulldogs starting at 8 o'clock.

Bums Trade Gino Cimoli To Cardinals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals acquired a new center fielder and hired an "old pro" as their pitching coach on the final day of the annual baseball meetings.

Wally Moon was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Gino Cimoli, and Howie Pollet agreed to return to baseball as the Cardinals' pitching coach.

Moon, the National League's "Rookie of the Year" in 1954, batted only .238 in 108 games for the Cardinals last season. Cimoli wasn't much better at the plate, hitting .246 in 109 games.

As part of the deal, the Cardinals turned over Phil Paine, a pitcher on their Omaha farm club, to the Dodgers. Because the Dodgers have no room on their 40-man roster for Paine, they assigned the former Milwaukee Braves' pitcher to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League.

7 GAMES ON TAP

Marin CYO Opens 20th Cage Season Tomorrow

Catholic Youth Organization's annual Marin County basketball tournament gets under way for its 20th season tomorrow with seven games slated at St. Raphael's and St. Vincent's school gyms.

The usually strong St. Raphael's teams of Coach Lou Freitas will be unveiled in 70, 90, 100 and 120-pound divisions with the 90-pounders beginning festivities against St. Vincent's at 9:30 a.m. on their home court. Following this opening tilt, St. Patrick's of Larkspur will turn its teams loose in the other divisions with the strong hope that 70's and 100's can register upset wins. The Larkspur lads have had considerable drilling at Redwood High gym the past few weeks under coaches Bill Purtell, Herman Feutsch, Walter Moreno and Don Andrich. St. Raphael's 120's are obviously one of the best squads in the county and figure to win their game. A number of their players were members of last year's 100-pound archdiocesan CYO champions.

At St. Vincent's gym, the 70, 80 and 100-pounders will host Larry Walsh's St. Rita's teams from Fairfax starting at 9:15 a.m. The visitors are still in the development stage, but anticipate providing more serious opposition as the season progresses. Father Joseph O'Connell, Bill Coleman, Ed Gallagher and John Kuntz have been directing the St. Vincent's pre-tournament practice sessions.

'Country Christmas On Tuesday For Focus Luncheon At Rickey's

Festive, old-fashioned, and fun will be Tuesday's special holiday fashion show luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael honoring the Friends of Arequipa as Grace Graham of Kentfield says "Make Mine a Country Christmas."

Echoing her sentiments will be eight attractive models, representing the Hawthorne, Madrone, Sequoia and Cascade units of the Friends of Arequipa busy with palns to help the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. bring a sparkling Christmas to the county's handicapped citizens.

Snowy boughs, cranberry garlands, bright packages and jingling bells will put guests in the mood for a country holiday with familiar Christmas carols to lift the spirits of the tired Christmas shopper!

Colorful fashions to go "over the river and through the wood," to the ski slope or by the fireside will be in the Grace Graham collection to whirl a yuletide spirit from early morning to a late holiday evening. Dashing tapers with gay cumberbunds, soft cashmeres to team with imported skirts, luscious silks, and warm coats for chilly nights offer gift suggestions to thoughtful Santas.

The Salon of San Rafael will add their holiday touch to the model's hair and Beauty Counselors will perform Christmas make-up magic.

All set for a country holiday on Tuesday are models Mrs. Len Ravoni and Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw of the Sequoia unit; Mrs. Dan Sweeney and Mrs. Frank Stolte from the Sycamore unit. Mrs. Herman Feutsch and Mrs. Douglas Duncan from the Madrone unit and Mrs. James Conley and Mrs. Walter Moreno of the Hawthorne unit complete the list of models.

Reservations for "Make Mine a Country Christmas" may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

32 Pupils Give Recital At College

The Marin County Branch of the Music Teachers Assn. of California presented the first of its 1958-59 series of recitals recently at the College of Marin.

Thirty-two students of music played a program ranging from first grade pieces to the music of Chopin and Mozart. Eight studios were represented including those of Marion Colburn, Viola Gottschalk, Barbara McKenzie, Daisy Saville, Sibyl Schneller, Henrietta Trusty, Lucille Zentner and Charles Orgibet who is chairman of the series.

KAY MILLEN HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

A bridal shower was given recently by Mrs. Peter Cambouris (Jane Diefenbach) and Mrs. Ross Rogers (Adair Wilson) at the San Anselmo home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, honoring Katharine Millen.. Kay will become the bride of Charles von Damm on Dec. 20 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Millen of San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Albert von Damm of Los Gatos are parents of the future benedict.

Mrs. Rogers, whose home is in Reno, will be matron of honor at the wedding. Mrs. Cambouris was to have been a bridesmaid but she left on Saturday to join her husband who is in the Navy and stationed at Norfolk, Va. She was also to have been a bridesmaid at the wedding of Barbara Shaul and George E. Voorhees which will be an event of Dec. 14 at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

A number of those invited to the party for Kay were unable to attend.

Yule Cookie Carnival Set For Dec. 13

Homemade cookies made from unusual and old-fashioned recipies will be featured at the Holiday Cookie Carnival scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 13 at the Latter Day Saints Chapel at Greenbrae between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The women of the church Relief Society are baking an assortment of cookies, all made with butter, for purchase in bulk or in gaily decorated gift packages for Christmas giving, along with Pioneer steam pudding, holiday cakes, breads and other tasty reminders of fragrant old-fashioned kitchens.

Children will be entertained at the carnival by performances of the Berkeley puppeteers who have planned puppet shows for 10:30 and 12:30 o'clock. Also scheduled for the children is a cookie tree, decorated with gingerbread men, popcorn balls, lollipops and Christmas cookies.

There will be booths of homemade candies and candied nuts, a gourmet bar of jams and jellies, and a special botique of Christmas candles, stockings, gay cookie jars and assorted gift items. And to make sure that there is something for all, the committee is planning to serve a plate lunch featuring turkey sandwiches on homemade rolls, cranberry sauce, and a choice of deserts including chocolate cake, mince-meat tarts, cookies and other delicacies.

The committee is headed by Mrs. James Jackson, general chairman, and includes Mesdames Max Kimball, decorations, Earl Trottier, publicity and William Deaver, ways and means.

Elaborate Scenery Designed For Show

Interest is growing daily in the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.'s original musical comedy, "Sweet Executive" which will be presented next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 o'clock at the Alcazar Theater.

The play's sets have been designed by a talented member of the Junior League, Mrs. Wade Dickinson, who has also done the art work on the sets. Mrs. William Stephens has been in charge of volunteers, raw materials and all other details that go with building the scenery for an elaborate musical show whose scenes include a Chinese cookie factory, a spacious sun deck of a Tahoe house, the dining room of one of San Francisco's major hotels and a North Beach barroom.

Among those working on this committee have been Mesdames Dexter C. Tight, Willis A. Bussard, Lawrence D. Blair, (chandelier chairman), Atherton Phleger, J. Peter Cahill, William Orrick, Donald de Carle, Henry Rolph, Preston K. Covey, Robert Hogan and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Cogswell.

Mrs. William Mosden is properties chairman and with the acquisition of an enormous gold framed portrait of a league member's grandfather has collected all the fascinating necessities for the show.

Tickets are on sale through the Sherman Clay box office but the choice is getting slim with Friday night offering the best remaining seats.

Mrs. Bari Frohlich Will Entertain Following Concert

Mrs. Bart Frohlich will entertain at her Fairhills home after the Bay Area Ballet Concert on Sunday.

Honored guests will be the ballet company's directors and choreographers, Leona Norman, Carolyn Parks and Vern Nerden and James Graham-Lujan, artistic director; Richard Parks, president of the Bay Area Ballet Assn; Charles Orgibet, secretary - treasurer; Guilleromo Del Oro, regisseur; Robert Shaw, company photographer and Herbett Hilchey, scenic designer.

Among other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Babo of Novato; Sen. and Mrs. John McCarthy of San Rafael; Mrs. Lukul Wilder and the well-known San Francisco artist, Wing.

Religious Cards

Fathers Hear Address By Dr. Guthrie

Gynecologist Dr. Joseph Guthrie spoke Tuesday to 25 fathers of children enrolled in the Twin Cities Cooperative Nursery School, in a program especially arranged for the fathers. This marked a switch, since mothers generally attend the Tuesday night sessions.

Dr. Guthrie explained, in terms of gonadotropic differences, the essential differences between men and their mates, and how these differences, properly observed, can aid in making a marriage more successful.

He cautioned men to remember, too, that women between the ages of 35 and 50 are prone to cancer, and warned of the need for periodic physical checkups, adding that this is a good idea for men too. Dr. Guthrie reiterated that early cancer detection makes possible real cancer cures.

2 Will Perform For Garden Group

The Garden Group of Novato Community Club will feature two Novatans, Mrs. Charles (Marian) Wells and Mrs. Robert Merritt at its annual Christmas dinner at Novato Joe's Monday at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Wells will read Edna St. Vincent's Millay's "The Harp Weaver" and "Albert and the Lion" by Stanley Holloway. Mrs. Merritt will tell the story of "The Man Who Missed Christmas" which she wrote for radio presentation several years ago.

In addition there will be the singing of Christmas carols and Mrs. D. N. Ruhlman will lead the club in an unusual exchange of Christmas gifts.

Plastic Bag Care

NEW YORK (UPI)—Polyethylene bags, used to store garments, should not be sealed. Differences in temperatures inside and outside the bag can cause moisture condensation.

Business Club Slates Yule Dinner Meet

The Rev. John David Alexander of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will deliver the Christmas message at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County on Tuesday night, Dec. 9, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

The Christmas meeting of the club is always one of the highlights of the year and it is traditional that the A Cappella Choir of College of Marin, under the direction of Clinton Lewis, sings. Members will exchange gifts and a Christmas theme will be carried out in decorations.

Anita Meyer is chairman and Hortense Buck co-chairman. On their committee are Helen Hickman and Edith Gray.

Final Plans Made For Holiday Party

Final plans have been made for the annual Christmas Tree Party for children of Dominican College alumnae members on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Meadowlands on the Dominican campus in San Rafael.

Among those attending with their children are Mesdames Henry B. Grandin Jr., of Ross; Frank I. Ford Jr., Eugene Sweeney and Arthur Latno Jr., Arthur Goett Jr., all of San Rafael and James G. Dreier of Kentfield.

Group Of Women Complete Brownie Basic Training Class

In the course of training they learned songs, games, functioning of the Troop Committee, long term planning, dramatics and the aims and beliefs of the Girl Scout program. Mrs. John Coulter, Novato, was the song instructor and Mrs. Donald Adams, San Anselmo, demonstrated the things which could be done with impromptu dramatics.

Receiving certificates following the course were Mesdames R. Sandberg and David Walker of Belvedere; P. DiMaggio, R. L. Earl, H. M. Elliott, C. G. Ferguson, M. P. Fromme, Myrtle Monk of Hamilton Air Force Base; T. C. Backman, E. M. Carrara, L. A. Heibel, C. McDonough, J. B. McHugh, R. L. Sherman, Lewis Skowronek, R. F. Vetter, B. Wakeman, Frank Vratny, Robert Porteous, Charles Paradise, William Bomino, David Milano, John Cassil and Frank Henry Jr. of Novato. Also taking the course were Mesdames C. G. Braun, H. T. Malloy, M. E. Wahl and Sherry Thomas of Hamilton Air Force Base and Mesdames W. G. Locke and Charles Paradise of Novato.

An Intermediate Basic Leadership Training Course was held during October and the first week of November at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo and at Sky Oaks Girl Scout Camp in Fairfax. The course combined basic leadership and troop camping.

FOR CHILDREN

Alpha Chi Omegas To Present Socks

Mrs. W. A. Lewis' San Rafael home was turned into an approximation of Santa's workshop when Marin County Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae gathered there recently to construct 150 red nylon socks.

Candy canes, toys and brightly wrapped candies were put into the socks which are to be presented to guests at United Cerebral Palsy's Christmas Party for crippled children. The Sunday affair will take place at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. Fred Tegeler, president, announced that the December meeting will be a party on Dec. 17 to be held at the home of Mrs. Lowell Jett, 60 Alta Vista avenue, Mill Valley, at 8 p.m. Members will bring white elephants for a silent auction, and there will be games and singing.

Attending the workshop luncheon were Mesdames Dale Norton of Greenbrae; E. P. Grilli of Corte Madera; L. L. Lovett, Leon Hunsaker, Charles Oldenburg, Kenneth Dorking and Mrs. Tegeler of San Rafael; W. B. Manuel, Alexander Myers, William New of San Anselmo; Jack Countryman and Thomas Rappsilber of Novato; and M. F. Goodrich, Rovelle Ridel and Mrs. Jett of Mill Valley.

Novato Church Women Plan Monday Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Novato Community Methodist Church will hold its general monthly meeting Monday, Dec. 8, at the church starting at 8 p.m. A Christmas program on the theme "Everywhere, Everywhere, Christmas Tonight," will be directed by Mrs. Mark Wills.

The devotion will be led by Mrs. Lowell Swift and the music will be provided by Mrs. Ray Laird and Mrs. Frank Phillips.

Also participating in the service will be Mesdames James Helmick, William Halpenny and J. E. Esping.

AT LUNCHEON

Catholic Aid Installation On Dec. 9

Branch 24, Catholic Ladies Aid Society of San Rafael, will have installation of officers at a potluck luncheon at St. Raphael's Hall on Tuesday, Dec. 9. The installation will be conducted by Mrs. Milton Smialkowski, grand president, and Mrs. Arthur Hughes, grand marshal. The branch is affiliated with Marin County Council, National Council of Catholic Women and San Rafael Branch of the Needlework Guild of America.

Installed will be Mesdames Charles M. Johnson, president; Cornelius Burns, senior vice president; Florence Kite, junior vice president; Sydney Harris, marshal; Clara Duffy, past president; Joseph Codoni, recording secretary; Maude Rains, financial secretary; Ann Malone, treasurer; Katherine Zanoni, guard; Ann Shields, musician; and the members of the executive committee Mesdames Eugene O'Connor, Tekichle Cliff, Mary McCurdy, Helen Ring and Miss Mary Peter.

As has been the custom for many years, the San Rafael branch is giving a program and party for residents of Lucas Valley Farm on Sunday, Dec. 14. Mrs. Irving Hobbs, chairman, says that the St. Raphael's School carol group will sing as will the Sweet Adeliners, under the direction of Mrs. Rad Ingram. Accordion pupils from the Maggiolo Studio will also entertain.

THE FAIR OPENS today and will be held from 4 to 10 p.m., and will continue tomorrow from 10 to 4 p.m. Dinner will be served this evening at 6 o'clock. The event will be held in the Christian Education Building. Left to right, are Mesdames Harry Cordone, LaVerne Hulbert and Lloyd Sisson.

Mrs. Cruikshank Will Address Sausalito Club

Mrs. Richard Cruikshank will present a talk before the Garden Section of the Sausalito Woman's Club on Thursday, Dec. 11, at 10:30 a.m. emphazing "Christmas Garlands, Wreaths and Swags" in the traditional manner and she will also demonstrate new ideas in Christmas decorations along the modern lines as well as showing what can be done with those obsolete hula hoops.

Her lecture will be illustrated with the actual making of wreaths and garlands and also show what can be done with other garden materials than the traditional greens and berries in decorating the house for Christmas.

Mrs. Merrell Sisson, chairman of the garden section, announces there will be a change of date for the January meeting. It will be held on Jan. 22 instead of Jan. 15 in order not to conflict with the program meeting of the Club.

TWA Clipped Wings Club Plans Buffet

The TWA Clipped Wings Club will hold a cocktail and buffet dinner party on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pinkham in Hillsboro, San Mateo.

Accordion Pupils To Give Program

The advanced students of the Novato Accordion Studio will be part of the annual Christmas party and program sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliaries of the 16th District at the Yountville Veterans Home on Sunday.

The students, representing the Donald V. Westlund VFW Auxiliary of Novato, will have lunch at the home prior to the party.

Participating from the accordion studio, which has sent students for the last seven years, will be Edward Salmina, Andrina Ruzick, Sharon Dowdakin, Hiram Steele, Richard Jacobson, Eddie Sears and Arthur Woods. Lynne Balz is the new soloist with the group. Mrs. Grover Owen is the director.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Nancy Parsons, David Williams

Pink chrysanthemums were at the altar of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Savior for the recent wedding of Nancy Lee Parsons of San Francisco and David Reece Williams III of Lancaster, S.C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laird Parsons of San Francisco, formerly of Del Mesa. The benedict's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. Reese Williams of Lancaster who were here for the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over blush pink Italian silk fashioned with scoop neckline and short sleeves. Scalloped lace was detailed on the neck and hemline of the gown. Her blush pink illusion veil was fastened to a half cap of Chantilly lace and she carried a white prayer book with lilies of the valley and roses.

Mary Peyton Darling of Mill Valley as maid of honor, wore a lavender peau de soie gown styled with scoop neckline and short sleeves. A bow was used for back interest and she had a matching lavender hat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Williams served his son as best man and ushers were G. Thomas Parsons Jr., San Francisco, and Norval MacDonald of Fairfax.

The Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito was the setting for the reception for 100 guests following the ceremony. Pink flowers were used in the decorations.

Nancy is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the Colorado Woman's College in Denver.

The bridegroom attended Georgia Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs and is now studying law at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C.

He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Wedding Rite Being Planned For Fall '59

The engagement of Catherine Abbott Moretti and Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham III has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ramon Moretti of San Rafael. The young couple will be married next fall. The future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. of San Rafael.

The bride-elect, who has two sisters, Mrs. William Fagan of Novato and Anne Moretti, who attends Mills College, was a student at Dominican Convent and Castilleja, from which she was graduated. She also studied at Willamette University in Oregon. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henry Dixon of Tracy.

Her fiance is the grandson of Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont and the late Mr. Dollar and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hinkingbotham. His great grandfather, the late Capt. Robert Dollar, was known as the dean of West Coast shipping. Heidi Hickingbotham is his only sister. He was graduated from Menlo School for Boys.

SEEK SHUT-INS

Peninsula Singers Society Plans Evening Of Caroling

If you reside on the Tiburon Peninsula and would like to be serenaded at home with Christmas Carols or if you would like to join the caroling group, the Peninsula Singers Society will be glad to oblige.

As in the past the group, which is directed by Les Blackmore, is planning an evening of caroling and would like to know especially of shut-in who are unable to attend programs where Christmas music is featured. Rehearsal will be held Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 8 p.m. at the Blackmores' home in Belvedere.

The group which is now in its fourth year meets every other week, and, in order to suit the tastes of all participants, sings both light ballads and classics. They have performed at various occasions such as Reed District Parent-Teachers' Club meetings and a small group sang at the opening of the Tiburon Playhouse.

Anyone interested in joining the group or being serenaded should contact Mrs. Robert Williams in Tiburon.

20-30ettes Slate Holiday Gatherings

The San Rafael 20-30ettes will hold their annual Christmas party at the home of the Alan Pedrolis on Dec. 10 when a buffet supper will be served and gifts exchanged.

A Christmas party for children of members will take place at the Richard Peterson home on Dec. 20 and Santa Claus will be there to present a gift to each child. Refreshments will be served.

The group will also sell wreaths at the Christmas tree lot operated by the San Rafael 20-30 Club on Fourth street in San Rafael between D and E streets. The wreaths will be both plain and decorated. Proceeds will go to charity. Chairman of the wreath sale is Mrs. Donald McCabe.

Patricia Schneider Weds S. A. Kacharos

The bride is the former Patricia Schneider, daughter of the H. E. Schneiders of Mill Valley, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kacharos of Mill Valley.

Matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Dennis De Sousa of Strawberry, and bridesmaids were two other sisters, Martha and Susan Schneider, and Jill Cerwin and Carol Murphy, all of Mill Valley.

Barbara Woodward and Linda Tillman of Mill Valley were flower girls, and the bride's twin brothers, Bobbie and Roger Hargreaves were ring bearers.

Best man was Alvin Leandro of Mill Valley, and serving as ushers were Michael Doyle of Santa Rosa, and Clarence Englebright, John Ryan and Robert Johnson of Mill Valley.

Both of the young people were graduated from Tamalpais High School.

The benedict is a member of the Marine Reserves and is employed by the Dumont Manufacturing Corp. in San Rafael. He is the brother of Mrs. Clarence Englebright of Mill Valley and Peter A. Kacharos of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Eschelman Is Speaker At Meeting

Mrs. J. K. Whearty presided for the meeting. Reports were made by the treasurer and the mmebership and hospitality chairmen.

Grief-Stricken Dad Warns Against Bad Neighborhood For Children

"Let me warn other parents," writes a grief-stricken father, "not to raise their children in bad neighborhoods. Our son was arrested for attempted murder. He is 15. He stabbed another boy in a gang fight. When we moved here three years ago he was a good boy. Now he is as vicious as they come. He has had only evil companions here. Our daughter is 13. Today we learned that she is a sex delinquent. So are all the girls in her gang. We came here to be nearer my work. It was the mistake of our lives. Do you agree that neighborhoods are terribly important?"

Yes, I agree. Move good boys or girls into places where they have bad companions, and they deteriorate. They must be bad too, if they're to survive. I've seen it happen over and over again.

While they're little our children depend chiefly upon us. They spend most of their time at home. Our approval or disapproval matters a lot. Our opinions are more important than their playmates' opinions. Until they're 7 or 8 good children often can stay good, even in a bad neighborhood. That's not true after they get to be 9 or 10. Our influence wanes. The gang becomes all-important. If their pals steal, they steal. If their friends drink, they drink. If their bunch has sex parties, they participate.

Please move promptly. Try to set up a good home in a nice neighborhood. If your boy is returned to you, arrange expert counseling for him. The juvenile court officials will help you do it. Get similar counseling for your girl. They both have had a shock. Perhaps now they're ready to change. Give them a chance. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

B.S. "I don't see why high schools don't kick out a larger number of the delinquent, troublemaking students who plague the teachers. Will you enlighten me?"

REPLY. Many school officials would like to expel them. They don't for two reasons. One is the long tradition among educators to keep trying with bad pupils. They hate to give up. The other is the public pressure which comes on school officials after they expel a pupil. No matter how bad the student may have been, he becomes a martyr in the eyes of many people.

Flash Fire Fatal To 10 In Delaware

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Nine children and an adult perished last night when a kerosene stove exploded and a flash fire destroyed their rural home.

Six of the children were brothers and sisters.

Three others—two adults and a child—were injured. Firemen found them coming down a road from the isolated home, searching for help. The child is in critical condition.

When two volunteer fire departments from four miles away reached the two-story frame house, in central Delaware about 15 miles from here, it was almost destroyed.

Fifteen Negroes, all related, lived in the house, which had neither electricity nor running water.

Insurance Plan Drive Renewed

The California Employers and Employees Assn. is renewing its drive for enrollments in the organization and its group medical and disability insurance plans.

The insurance plans grew out of two editorials in the Independent - Journal several years ago pointing out the need for insurance to cover major medical expenses, and a subsequent study by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

First enrollments under the plans were taken last spring. More than 700 persons have enrolled to date, according to B. (Dutch) Arnold of San Rafael, Marin representative.

Three Win Prizes At Burns Open House

First prize in a drawing in connection with the 50th anniversary open house of F. C. Burns Florist at 1230 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, Sunday went to Sharon Filipelli of 70 Eliseo drive, San Rafael. Burns announced today. She won a flocked Christmas tree.

Second prize, an imported Oriental plant container, went to Mrs. Ruth Krough of 247 Sequoia drive, San Anselmo. Winner of third prize, Christmas table decoration, was Mrs. R. F. Cuthbert, 48 Rafael drive, San Rafael.

'58 Crusade Likely To Fall Short Of Goal

Bay Area United Crusade leaders forecast yesterday afternoon that their 1958 fund drive will total $10,120,000—86 per cent of its goal and about $200,000 less than last year's collections.

At a meeting of the "one big give" organization's executive committee, general campaign chairman W. W. Davison said contributions in five counties now total $9,573,372, but solicitations not yet completed are expected to account for another 5 per cent of the $11,750,000 goal.

Davison termed the expected achievement a "respectable effort," when compared with performance of other united funds around the nation, but still not adequate for the Bay Area, whose increasing numbers of residents need more help from the Crusade's health, welfare and youth agencies.

Two hundred community fund drives completed so far report campaigns 1½ per cent better than last year, on the average, Davison said. But the Bay Area Crusade's final production is expected to be about 2 per cent less than was raised here last year.

"Anyone who has not contributed—or any donor who wishes to give more—can provide a very important help right now," Davison went on. He urged such people in Marin to mail their donations to the Crusade at 801 B street, San Rafael.

Center Boulevard Job Nearly Done

Resurfacing of Center boulevard in San Anselmo will be completed next week, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer said today. Traffic has been rerouted since work began on Nov. 20.

The $14,000 project has included raising the edges of the road so that there is a less pronounced crown and applying a two-inch capping. The resurfaced portion extends from the Fairfax city line to Madrone avenue. The contractor is Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera. Money for the job came from state gasoline tax funds.

Labor Council Has Sympathy For Organizing Move

The Marin County Labor Council has expressed sympathy with the organizing efforts of Laundry Workers Local 26 of San Francisco, although the local is not affiliated with the Marin council, reported Hugh Cassidy, the council's secretary-treasurer.

Congressman-elect Clement W. Miller will attend the labor council's meeting on Dec. 17, announced Leonard Wessell, council president.

Birds Brighten Up Novato Realty Office

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

People who enter the Robert Campbell realty office in Novato these days are doing a fast double take and wondering if they've accidentally turned the wrong doorknob.

The reason? Birds.

In Campbell's display window at 1112 Grant avenue are perched a pair of, blue and gold Central American macaws. And inside the office, which has taken on the appearance of an aviary, are a couple of caged Australian cockatoos.

The macaws arrived from Manila two weeks ago with their owner, Campbell's brother, Jerome, who decided the birds would dress up the office a bit. Jerome Campbell, now associated with the realty firm, is displaying the cockatoos with the consent of a friend who owns them.

The 5-year-old pair have a vocabulary of 50 or 60 words and can put together short sentences such as "Hello there, friends" or "Turn on the water."

"It's amazing how attached you become to them," Campbell says. "More so than a dog or cat. After all, they call you by name! These two birds call me 'Father.' They're wonderfully entertaining pets."

Campbell, who has spent the past 12 years in South and Central America and the Far East, obtained the birds when they were very young orphans. They were sold to him by a Central American Indian.

Life expectancy of a macaw is 60 years or more, with many living to the ripe old age of 90 or 100, he said.

That's another thing Campbell likes about his pets. "These birds, purchased at the proper age, are going to live right along with you—or outlive you."

The male macaw is named S.T., after a Chinese friend of Campbell's named Su Tu. The female answers (loudly) to Renee.

Campbell operated an insurance business in the Far East, maintaining offices (and home) in Guam and Manila and traveling regularly to Hong Kong, Taipei, Seoul and Tokyo. At his home in Guam he has an aviary with about 60 birds.

He had to obtain a federal permit to bring the 31-inch-long macaws into the United States. It's permissible to bring in two birds if the same owner has had them four months prior to entry.

The cockatoos are much smaller birds, with rose colored breasts, light pink crests and dove-gray wings. They're too young (aged 2) to talk yet, but in a few more years they'll be having weighty discussion with the macaws.

Campbell says cockatoos are very common in Australia, where they're considered a pest because, like crows, they infest grain fields. Austrialian farmers destroy them by poisoning them.

Campbell and his wife, Lois, are living at 1411 Cambridge street, Novato. He likes North Marin but still refers to Manila and Guam as "home."

"Right now," he says, "I'm homesick and cold, and I don't know which bothers me the most."

Nixon Cinch For Nod, Says Knowland

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland said today he can't see how Vice President Richard M. Nixon can miss being California's choice for the GOP presidential nomination ni 1960.

1. He should not be counted in any "stop Nixon" movement.

GOOD PROGRAM

2. He thinks the rebuild-the-GOP plan spelled out by Nixon and 15 California Republican leaders is a good program.

3. California Republicans have a "great opportunity to rebuild from the grassroots" in the coming months because they have no statewide election contests in 1960 and can concentrate on legislative and congressional races. This year the GOP was shattered by its split over the gubernatorial and senatorial nominations.

HARMONY LIKELY

4. The absence of such a contest increases the likelihood of harmony in the state's presidential convention delegation.

5. President Eisenhower, with whom he conferred yesterday, has long understood that Knowland has no interest in an appointive job and therefore has offered none.

The 50-year-old legislator—defeated for California's governorship by Democrat Edmund Brown—was tanned and relaxed after a 16-day ocean voyage from California. He grinningly made it plain he has no plans other than retackle his job as assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, the family-owned newspaper.

Of the five largest cities in the country, Los Angeles alone showed an increase in marriages in 1957.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

$38,000 Mail Robbery

SONORA (UPI)—Police in this Mother Lode community needed less than 24 hours to solve a $38,500 mail robbery. They found the culprits at the local grade school.

Two girls, aged 9 and 11, yesterday admitted fishing half a dozen brown envelopes out of a mail box in front of the post office. The envelopes contained several hundred checks.

Police Chief Mervin Ballwanz turned the girls over to county probation officers after recovering all but about $2,200 worth of the checks. The girls said they did not try to cash any of them.

The two young bandits told officers they hoped to "get something good" out of the mail box and were a little disappointed with the checks.

Actor In Hospital

The veteran performer was taken to the hospital Monday for major surgery and was said to be making a good recovery.

Scarlett's A Grandma

"It's divine," gasped actress Vivien Leigh, now 45 but still about as beautiful as when she starred in the movie of "Gone With the Wind."

Dying Rocket Seen?

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Two U.S. Air Force men reported today that they sighted what may have been the dying rocket of Russian Sputnik III.

First Lt. Julian Miller, 24, Mt. Sterling, Ky., and Airman 3/c Frank T. Waters, 22, Denver, Colo., said they saw a brilliant flash and an orange-pink fireball at very high altitude about 2:58 a.m.

"It was moving faster than any plane and I watched until it disappeared," said Waters, attached to the 6431st Operations Squadron. "It didn't fall or go straight down. It was moving across the sky in an angle. As it moved, small parts seemed to fall behind, like it was breaking up."

The Russian rocket was launched May 15 to boost the 2,925-pound Sputnik III into orbit. Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory scientists had earlier predicted the 92-foot rocket was plunging into the earth's atmosphere.

Airliner With 21 Gone

MADRID (AP) — Bad weather throughout central Spain today postponed an air search for a Spanish airliner missing with 21 persons aboard.

The four-engine commercial plane left Vigo, northwest Spain, at 4:43 a.m. yesterday and was due in Madrid at 6:30. Its last report, at 5:30, said it was over Salamanca, 100 miles northwest of Madrid, and was having trouble with its communication equipment.

Those aboard all apparently were Spanish.

West In New Proposal

GENEVA (AP)—The West today proposed an international control system to keep permanent check on the ground forces of all nations.

The proposal to the 10-nation conference on ways to prevent surprise attacks was made by Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh of Britain. It followed a U.S. plan to block unexpected attacks by long-range aircraft and missiles.

Leaves 200 Million

Most of this huge fortune in the form of shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., was divided between the Kettering Foundation and a separate philanthropic trust. Details of the division were not disclosed in the will filed yesterday in Montgomery County Probate Court.

Kettering died Nov. 25.

Jailbreaker Courteous

"Sheriff, I'm sorry to take the step I'm taking, but my wife has filed suit for divorce and it's important to me that I see her immediately. I hope you understand."

The escapee, John Sickles, 31, Columbus, Ohio, was being held on a contempt of court charge for nonsupport.

Civil Rights Split Pops Up At Demo Party Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North-South Democratic split over civil rights was underscored at a party credential hearing called today. One Southerner called National Chairman Paul M. Butler a troublemaker and said he should be removed.

Butler's friends on the National Committee expressed confidence that Butler, who favors a strong civil rights plank in the party's 1960 platform, would ride out any ouster or censure move in a full committee session tomorrow. Butler himself told a reporter he not heard of any formal move against him.

Today's hearing, before a National Committee credentials group, was to receive rival claims of Camille F. Gravel Jr. and Jett M. Talbot to Louisiana's National Committee post. Gravel is the incumbent. Civil rights and party rules are involved in the dispute.

Committeeman Gravel was removed by the Louisiana State Committee because segregationist leaders in the party said he was out of step with Louisiana's stand on civil rights. Gravel has said segregation is morally wrong but that as a practical proposition integration is not for Louisiana.

Gravel, who supported the national party's civil rights plank in 1956, has refused to step down. He is challenging the State Committee to oust him and name Talbot in his place. Northern leaders support him on this, holding only the National Committee can remove a member between national conventions.

Both Gravel and Talbot were here for the meeting. It was the latter's counsel, W. M. Shaw of Homer, La., who attacked Butler and issued a brief saying National Committee members in his state are selected by the state central committee and serve at the pleasure of the state committee.

PLEASE!
DON'T BUY OUR HOME

Say Linda and Susan. We love it here and our home has so many lovely features. Mommie makes the best meals in her ALL ELECTRIC KITCHEN and in the evening we love to sit around our extra large fire place with the real copper hood. We have beautiful landscaping outside too and a nice patio to play on. With three bedrooms, weatherstripping, insulation and central heating, we think our daddy is giving it away for only $23,950.

HAVE HOUSE — WILL TRAVEL

South when it is sold, say the owners of this two bedroom home. Why not see this lovely home on a nice quiet street with a country atmosphere. See the home with the pleasing colors in every room to match your personality. The central heating system will keep you warm all through the winter and its patio is just right for outdoor living in the summer. The living room, dining room, kitchen and bedrooms are all on one floor for your added convenience and the price is so right too. Only $17,-000.00.

KENT WOODLANDS

This home combines the luxury of five bedrooms plus rumpus room all on one floor artistically designed for ease of entertainment. There is easy excess from all areas of the home to the lovely 40 ft. heated swimming pool. The landscaping is designed for ease of maintenance with an accent on out-door living. Nothing has been omitted including the indoor and outdoor barbecues three flagstone fireplaces, rumpus room with built-in bar. Separate maid's quarters. $98,500.00.

Greenbrae Yule Party Tomorrow

The Greenbrae Improvement Club will give its eighth annual Christmas party for more than 200 persons tomorrow night at the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club Hall.

George W. Hall will be master of ceremonies for the party, which will start at 6:30 p.m. with a turkey dinner. Program will include candlelight caroling, dancing by Arlene's Dancing School and a visit from Santa.

Hall said membership in the improvement club is largely composed of residents in the Corte Madera Creek area of Greenbrae. He said friends as well as members are invited to the party.

Entertainment committee is composed of Mrs. Elva Martin, chairman, Mrs. Howard Gold, Mrs. Dorothy Flynn, Mrs. Cliff Reynolds, Edmund Greenwood Sr., and Pete Martin.

Carols will be led by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Doig. Mrs. Louise Sherf is in charge of decorations.

CONCERT PREVIEW

By MARTHA BRUCKNER

When Kitty Oppenheimer interviewed Charles Meacham, concertmaster of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, on radio station KTIM about the newly founded Marin Arts Quartet last year, she welcomed it as the youngest sprig of Marin's music life and suggested some kind of lecture on chamber music to further the understanding of this highly cultivated specie.

This was exactly what Charles Meacham, first violinist of the quartet, gave yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Schultz in Mill Valley as a preview of the next concert of the Marin Arts Quartet on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Outdoor Art Club, Mill Valley.

Supported by the three members of the quartet—William Pynchon, violin; Albert White, viola, and Jean Maguire, cello—Meacham analyzed the first movement of Mozart' Quartet in C Major, op. 465, as a typical sample of the classic "allegro" in the form A-B-A. (A stands for exposition, displaying the energetic first theme and the softer second theme; B means development of this thematical material, and the second A the condensed recapitulation of the first section.)

As a reminder of the older "French Overture," the first allegro of this Mozart quartet is proceded by a short "Adagio," a common practice in the early classics.

Meacham traced the roots of the string quartet (which first appeared around 1750) to earlier instrumental forms, especially the worldly "sonata da camera" (consisting of dances of which the menuet carries on) and the "sonata da chiesa" (for the church).

The next preview will be concerned with the romantic quartet.

The concert Sunday afternoon will feature, besides Mozart, quartets by Hindemith and Brahms.

NORTH MARIN ENTRY — Queen of Industry candidate Louise Rogers, 22, a native of Marin and a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, is a Nicasio resident and employed by Rancho Nicasio.

28 In Running For Industry Queen Title

The drive to raise money for underprivileged children and provide nurses' training scholarships, charitable program of the Marin 40 et 8 Society, passed a successful halfway mark yesterday.

Marin's "queen" of business and industry will be crowned at a ball at Corinthian Yacht Club Dec. 20.

Returns from last year's program are putting a Sausalito, Larkspur, and two San Anselmo girls through nurses' training, providing summer camp activity for local youngsters and donations to the Marin Crippled Children's Society and Marindale Handicapped Children's School in Terra Linda, said Ray Greenberg Sr., of San Anselmo, child welfare chairman of Marin's 40 et 8.

Fairfax Construction

Permits were issued by the City of Fairfax last month for construction of five new one-family dwellings worth $50,750 and for five alteration jobs to existing buildings, estimated at $7,500.

25 Years Ago, Thirsty U.S. Awaited Crucial Utah Vote

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — U.S. topers waited, highballs ready, for the signal that would open a race to quaff the first legal drink. But the 21 dawdling Utahns who kept them waiting cherished a higher hope:

Utah must be the 36th and deciding state to repeal prohibition.

It took planning to be 36th, the magic number meaning the required three fourths of the states had ratified repeal. Utah's planning even included a play on numbers: Elect 21 delegates to approve the 21st Amendment.

Utah picked Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1933, as the date. Two other states Ohio and Pennsylvania, planned ratifying conventions that day. They would be 34th and 35th, because of the difference in time zones.

A rumor said Ohio might wait to act until Utah did. Utah planners countered with a scheduled 7:30 p.m. voting session and hinted the slender roll call might last until midnight.

Would-be repeal revelers protested the delay in vain. Delegate Franklin Riter, president of the Utah League for Prohibition Repeal, summed up Utah's case:

"We are determined no other state shall take this glory away from Utah. I am sorry that our plans may upset the starting time of celebrations in Eastern centers. . . ."

Utah needn't have worried. Pennsylvania acted promptly Ohio followed suit as Utah delegates sat through early session oratory.

Still the session droned on.

Suddenly, an unscheduled recess was called and delegates held a caucus. There was a rumor that Maine, due to vote next day, proposed to turn the clock ahead 24 hours so it could be 36th.

The rumor proved false but effective. At 3:32 p.m., far ahead of schedule, delegate S. R. Thurman of Salt Lake City shouted the final "aye." Prohibition was ended.

Convention president R. L. Olson of Ogden later denied the Maine rumor spurred the speed-up. He said it resulted from delegates' desires "to be agreeable and to accommodate and please all concerned" — especially those chafing at the delay.

Benjamin Dacasseres, a "literary rebel and bon vivant" according to one dispatch, waited near a press Teletype in New York's Waldorf-Astoria, drink in hand. The story said he "drank deeply" when the flash came, a milestone duly recorded by photographers.

But in Chicago an indignant Beverly West, kid sister of the celebrated Mae, claimed she was first. She said Decasseres "couldn't have tossed off his drink any faster than I did. The repeal flash came and , bingo! Down went my drink."

One certainty: No Utahn claimed the honor. The state's repeal allowed only the sale of beer containing 3.2 per cent alcohol or less.

It was another 18 months before Utah got hard liquor. State-run liquor stores — still in business — opened by permission of the Legislature on June 1, 1935.

Channukah Party Set

A Channukah luncheon party for pre-schoolers will be held Dec. 12 at 12:15 p. m. in the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael. The party will include Channukah games, songs and stories, followed by a candle lighting ceremony.
